Certain Relationships and Related Transactions

The Board of Directors has determined that none of the Board nominees have a material relationship with the Company, except Mr. Charles W. Mueller who is the current Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Ameren. Messrs. William E. Cornelius and Clifford L. Greenwalt, former officers of the Company or its affiliates, have been retired for over five years and are considered to no longer have a material relationship with Ameren.

Mr. Douglas R. Oberhelman is an executive officer of Caterpillar Inc. which has commercial relationships with certain of the Company's subsidiaries (primarily the CILCORP companies) that provide regulated public utility energy services and unregulated energy services. During 2002, revenues from transactions with Caterpillar aggregated approximately $25 million excluding revenues from the supply of regulated public utility services and revenues based on competitive bid transactions. These transactions, many of which are for multiple year terms, were entered into at arms length and did not exceed 5% of Ameren's consolidated gross revenues for fiscal year 2002. Applying this percentage of revenues test, the Board of Directors has determined that Mr. Oberhelman does not have a material relationship with the Company. In 2003, an existing contract between an Ameren public utility subsidiary and Caterpillar for the supply of energy services will expire and is expected to be replaced with a multi-year contract with an unregulated Ameren subsidiary that will provide annual revenues of approximately $11 million. This transaction will not cause unregulated revenues from Caterpillar to exceed 5% of Ameren's consolidated gross revenues for fiscal year 2003.

Board Meetings, Age Policy, Board Committees, Executive Sessions of Non-employee Directors and Directors' Compensation

Board Meetings - During 2002, the Board of Directors met seven times. All directors attended or participated in 75% or more of the aggregate number of meetings of the Board and the Board Committees of which they were members. Director Jacobsen passed away in July 2002. Mr. Jacobsen attended or participated in one of the four meetings of the Board of Directors (or 25%) and one of the two Auditing Committee meetings (or 50%) held before his death. Mr. Jacobsen was not a member of any other committee of the Board.

Age Policy - Directors who attain age 72 prior to the date of an annual meeting cannot be designated as a nominee for election at such annual meeting. Director Wogsland is completing his Board service at the Annual Meeting pursuant to this age policy. In addition, the eligibility of former employees, except for an employee who has been elected Chief Executive Officer of Ameren, Union Electric or CIPS, is limited to the date upon which they retire, resign or otherwise sever active employment with the respective company.

Board Committees - The Board of Directors has a standing Auditing Committee, Contributions Committee, Executive Committee, Human Resources Committee and Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, the members of which are identified in the biographies above. The Auditing Committee, Human Resources Committee and Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee are comprised entirely of non-employee directors, each of whom are "independent" as defined by the New York Stock Exchange listing standards.

The general functions of the Auditing Committee include: (1) reviewing with management and the independent accountants the adequacy of the Company's system of internal accounting controls; (2) reviewing the scope and results of the annual examination and other services performed by the independent accountants; (3) reviewing with management and the independent accountants the Company's annual audited financial statements and recommending to the Board the inclusion of such financial statements in the Company's Annual Report on Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") Form 10-K; (4) reviewing with management and the independent accountants the Company's quarterly financial statements; (5) reviewing with management and the independent accountants the Company's earnings press releases; (6) appointing, compensating and overseeing of independent accountants and pre-approving audit and other services they perform; and (7) reviewing the scope of audits and annual budget of the Company's internal auditors. The Auditing Committee regularly reviews its written charter and recommends to the Board of Directors changes to the charter. The Board adopted changes to the charter in 2003, in part to take into account the adoption of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. A copy of the revised written charter of the Auditing Committee is attached hereto as Appendix A. The Auditing Committee held seven meetings in 2002.

The Contributions Committee makes policies and recommendations with respect to charitable and other contributions. The Contributions Committee held two meetings in 2002.

The Executive Committee has such duties as may be delegated to it from time to time by the Board and has authority to act on most matters concerning management of the business during intervals between Board meetings. The Executive Committee held six meetings in 2002.

The Human Resources Committee considers the qualifications of executive personnel and recommends changes therein, reviews the compensation of the Chief Executive Officers and other officers of the Company and its subsidiaries and considers and acts on important policy matters affecting Company personnel. The Human Resources Committee held three meetings in 2002.

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee (renamed in December 2002) reviews and makes recommendations to the Board about the Company's governance processes, and considers and recommends for Board approval candidates for the Board of Directors, as recommended by management, other members of the Board, stockholders and other interested parties. For a description of the procedure to be followed by stockholders in submitting recommendations for director nominees, please refer to "Stockholder Proposals" on page 27 of this proxy statement. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee held two meetings in 2002.

For information about the Company's corporate strategic planning process, including the Board's involvement in such process, and for the written charter of the Auditing Committee, please visit the Company's home page on the Internet - <http://www.ameren.com>

Executive Sessions of Non-employee Directors - The non-employee directors meet privately in executive sessions to consider such matters as they deem appropriate, without management being present, as a routinely scheduled agenda item for every Board meeting. The first of these executive sessions of non-employee directors was held in October 2002. Director John Peters MacCarthy has been chosen as lead director to preside at such executive sessions.

Directors' Compensation - Directors who are employees of the Company do not receive compensation for their services as a Director.

Each Director who is not an employee of the Company receives an annual retainer of $20,000, an annual award of 400 shares of the Company's Common Stock and a fee of $1,000 for each Board meeting and each Board Committee meeting attended.

An optional deferred compensation plan available to Directors permits non-employee Directors to defer all or part of their annual retainer and meeting fees. Deferred amounts, plus an interest factor, are used to provide payout distributions following completion of Board service and certain death benefits. Costs of the deferred compensation plan are expected to be recovered through the purchase of life insurance on the participants, with the Company being the owner and beneficiary of the insurance policies.

Item (2): Stockholder Proposal Relating to the Storage of Irradiated Fuel Rods at the Callaway Nuclear Plant

Proponents of the stockholder proposal described below notified the Company of their intention to attend the 2003 Annual Meeting to present the proposal for consideration and action. The names and addresses of the proponents and the number of shares they hold will be furnished by the Secretary of the Company upon receipt of any oral or written request for such information.

WHEREAS:

As long as the Callaway nuclear power plant operates, it will continue generating radioactively and thermally hot, irradiated fuel rods that must be cooled, after removal from the Reactor Vessel, and placed in wet storage in the on-site Spent Fuel Pool for at least five years before they can be moved.

In 2002 the President and the Congress approved the siting of a federal underground repository for irradiated fuel rods at Yucca Mountain, Nevada. The repository is not yet finally designed or licensed; its construction will not be completed until at least 2010. The nuclear industry describes Yucca Mountain as one single site where all the nation's irradiated fuel rods could be consolidated. However, since the irradiated rods of each plant must be kept at that plant's site temporarily, submerged in water, highly radioactive rods will continue to be scattered at operating plants nationwide as long as nuclear plants continue operating. The irradiated fuel rods must be kept isolated from the biosphere for hundreds of thousands of years.

Capacity at Yucca Mountain is limited by law. Older irradiated fuel rods now being stored at reactors older than Callaway will have priority for disposal space. There may not be room for a sizable amount of Callaway's fuel rods in this first national repository.

The US Nuclear Regulatory Commission has granted the Company permission to store far more irradiated rods in the Callaway Spent Fuel Pool than was intended in the pool's initial design. Robert Alvarez, a former Energy Department senior policy advisor, told a Senate hearing, "An attack against a spent fuel pool could drain enough water to cause a catastrophic radiological fire that cannot be extinguished." He cited a 1997 analysis that said such a fire could contaminate up to 188 square miles.

On February 7, 2002, Homeland Security Director Tom Ridge said that structural changes may be necessary to fortify nuclear plants against September 11 kinds of attacks, and other threats not previously considered. He said, "there may ultimately be some actual bricks and mortar adjustments that are made to some of these facilities."

Construction on-site at the Callaway Plant of a fortified bunker or other structure (below- or partially below-grade), that can be concealed from off-site locations and be safeguarded, may be essential for the interim storage on-site of Callaway's irradiated fuel rods.

RESOLVED:

In light of heightened public safety concerns, we request that the Company prepare a report, at reasonable cost, that outlines the current vulnerability and substantial risks of the interim storage of irradiated fuel rods at the Callaway Plant and that proposes measures to reduce those risks. A copy of the report, omitting proprietary and security information, should be available to shareholders on request by August 2003.

SUPPORTING STATEMENT

Ameren remains morally responsible and financially liable for Callaway, for securing its radioactive wastes, and for protecting its workers and the public into the indefinite future. We believe this study is essential for realistic and responsible economic and ethical planning.

YOUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS A VOTE AGAINST ITEM (2).

In light of the extensive regulation by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the "NRC") on security issues at nuclear power plants and the proprietary nature of the security information requested by this proposal, the Board is of the opinion that developing information in the form requested is unnecessary and would increase expenses without a commensurate increase in relevant information.

- o In March 2002 the Honorable Edward McGaffigan, Jr., Commissioner - NRC stated: "Long before September 11, the NRC had put in place at commercial nuclear power plants the most robust security regime for any commercial facilities in this country." U.S. nuclear power plants, including the Callaway Plant, were the most secure of the nation's industrial facilities before September 11, 2001, and security programs have been significantly enhanced during the past year. In fact, nuclear power plants are one of the benchmarks for industrial security.
- o The nuclear power industry, including Callaway, has been closely working with the NRC and the Office of Homeland Security to develop a coordinated, seamless security system (including resources within and beyond the industry's direct control) that assures that plants are protected against any conceivable attack.
- o The industry has analyzed the potential impacts of aircraft attacks to nuclear plants and found that structures such as the containment building and spent fuel pool would not be breached by the aircraft impact.

The Board believes that, considering the proprietary nature of the information requested, the extensive regulation of the Callaway Plant by the NRC and current on-going evaluations by the NRC and the Office of Homeland Security, there are no compelling reasons to make public additional studies of Callaway Plant security. Additional expenditures for such information would be imprudent, and therefore the Board recommends voting AGAINST ITEM (2).

Passage of the proposal requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast.

Item (3): Other Matters

The Board of Directors does not know of any matter, other than the election of Directors and the proposal set forth above, which may be presented to the meeting.

SECURITY OWNERSHIP

Security Ownership of More Than 5% Stockholders - Based on an amendment to a Schedule 13G filed with the SEC on February 12, 2003, AXA Financial, Inc., 1290 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10104, had sole power to dispose or direct the disposition of 7,743,534 shares of the Company's Common Stock and sole or shared voting power over 5,613,740 of such shares. Also filed on February 10, 2003, was an amendment to a Schedule 13G, for Capital Research and Management Company, 333 South Hope Street, Los Angeles, California 90071, which reported sole dispositive power over 11,083,100 shares of the Company's Common Stock and no voting power with respect to any such shares. The total reported shares represented approximately 7.2% of the outstanding Common Stock of the Company on December 31, 2002 and 6.9% of the outstanding shares on February 1, 2003.
