Michael Chaney appointed to National Australia Bank Board

The Board of National Australia Bank today announced that Michael Chaney will become a non-executive director effective December 2004 and will assume the role of Chairman in September 2005.

Michael Chaney recently announced his intended retirement as Managing Director of Wesfarmers in July 2005 after 13 years in that position.

Graham Kraehe will continue as Chairman of the National until Mr Chaney assumes the position in September 2005. This will enable Mr Chaney to familiarise himself with the group before he becomes Chairman and enable a smooth transition.

We are delighted to have a person of the calibre and experience of Michael joining the Board. He has an excellent track record, a strong focus on shareholder value and has delivered outstanding shareholder returns as Managing Director of Wesfarmers, Graham Kraehe said.

Mr Chaney said: I believe the National is one of Australia's outstanding companies and I have great confidence in the future of the group. I look forward to working with the Board to help the National achieve its full potential and further improve shareholder returns.

Mr Kraehe said the Board was also making significant progress in its Board renewal program: We are interviewing a number of appropriate candidates including some with Australian banking experience and expect to announce additional Board appointments in the next couple of months.
