Item 1 - Report to Shareholders

August 12, 2013

Dear Shareholder,

The Fund's net asset value (the "NAV") was $10.33 as of June 30th. The market price for the Fund's shares ended the period at $10.06, representing a market price discount of 2.6%. During the period the Fund's regular monthly dividend remained at $.065 per share. The annualized dividend yield for a common stock purchase at the year-end 2012 price of $10.45 was 7.46%. As always, we remind shareholders that there is no certainty that the dividend will remain at the current level. The dividend can be affected by portfolio results, the cost and amount of leverage, market conditions and operating expenses among other factors.

As of June 30th, the Fund had borrowed $100 million through its credit facility (the "Facility") with the Bank of Nova Scotia. Amounts borrowed under the Facility bear interest at an adjustable rate based on a margin above LIBOR. The interest rate on the Facility at the end of the period was 1.09%. While the spread between the cost of leverage and the portfolio's current yield at the end of the period was attractive, there is no guarantee that it will remain at this level. As discussed below in the market and strategy review provided by our investment adviser, the current yield of the high yield market as measured by the J.P. Morgan High Yield Index reached a record low during the first half of the year, before rebounding. An increase in the cost of the leverage or reduction in the portfolio's yield will reduce the spread and may reduce the income available for the common dividend.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Total return assumes the reinvestment of dividends.

The Credit Suisse High Yield Index and Citigroup 10 Year Treasury Index are unmanaged indices. Unlike the Fund, the indices have no trading activity, expenses or leverage.

* Because the Fund's shares may trade at either a discount or premium to the Fund's net asset value per share, returns based upon the stock price and dividends will tend to differ from those derived from the underlying change in net asset value and dividends.

Market Review

The high yield market began the year on a high note, carrying over the positive momentum from the fourth quarter of 2012. However, sentiment shifted in the latter part of the second quarter, leading to negative absolute returns for the quarter. The combined result was a modest gain of 1.52% for the first half as measured by the Credit Suisse High Yield Index. The decline of the high yield market in May and June continues a trend of second-quarter weakness that this asset class has experienced every year since 2008. Although there is no guarantee this trend will continue, in four of those five years, high yield bonds bounced back with positive third-quarter performance as value-conscious and credit-focused investors bought on weakness.

The change in investor sentiment that took hold as we approached mid-year was partly driven by Fed tapering concerns. Although the central bank did not adjust its policy stance, a misinterpretation of Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke's comments spawned a so-called taper tantrum in which market participants quickly adjusted their expectations regarding the future of Fed asset purchases. U.S. Treasury yields soared to their highest level in nearly two years pressuring the entire fixed income market in response to the Federal Reserve more clearly defining the framework for normalizing monetary policy.

In addition, a heavy new issue environment in May likely contributed to the pullback as the market was saturated with new deal terms that mostly favored bond issuers including historically low coupons. A record-setting $52.3 billion of new high yield bonds priced in May, surpassing the previous mark of $48.4 billion set in January 2013. We believe the heavy supply drained portfolio managers' cash positions, leading to selling pressure as high yield funds experienced redemptions. Industry outflows were modest in May but hit an all-time high in June.

As market volatility increases, buy-side investors should be able to negotiate more favorable deal terms such as better covenants or higher yields on new issues. For example, investors had little tolerance for the original pricing and structure of the Valeant Pharmaceuticals deal that was issued to finance its acquisition of Bausch & Lomb. After receiving pushback related to rising-rate concerns, the underwriter shortened the maturities on this sizable deal and increased the coupon. While it is uncertain if investor pushback will continue to gain traction, the example above is a welcomed development as issuers seemed to have the upper hand in most transactions year-to-date.

Importantly, we believe the sell-off was unrelated to the quality of the companies in the below investment-grade universe as fundamentals remained strong and defaults were largely benign. The par-weighted default rate for the J.P. Morgan Global High Yield Index ended the month at 1.09%.

Strategy Review

High yield valuations became somewhat stretched following several quarters of strong performance, leading us to maintain a heavy degree of discipline with respect to playing new issues as we saw little value among new offerings. Our strategy worked well from April into the third week of May as gains in the portfolio's existing holdings were substantial enough to counteract the negative effects of the late-period sell-off. For example, Rite Aid represented a top holding and our high conviction was reflected across three of the company's bond issues. The U.S. drugstore chain has executed a significant operational turnaround over the last few years, leading to solid earnings. Moreover, this issuer's liquidity and maturity profile are favorable, and credit metrics continue to improve, which has resulted in nice gains in the company's bonds. Additionally, we were able to take profits in names like MBIA, Radio Shack and Clear Channel, holdings that have recovered smartly off their lows and delivered compelling gains.

As has been a fairly consistent pattern over recent years, May brought with it a high degree of volatility that carried over into June. The J.P. Morgan Global High Yield Index recorded an all-time low yield of 5.24% in the first part of the month but by late June yields had surged to 7.20%. The Fund was not immune to this adverse move, with BB holdings suffering the greatest degree of volatility. Many securities in this ratings category declined 6 to 10 points in price. The Fund's holdings in the information technology sector saw particularly steep declines. Bonds for NCR, the maker of ATMs, were issued in May with a 4.625% coupon and traded as high as $102 shortly after, but by June had declined to $94.75 as rate fears took hold. BB-rated names like Vimplecom and Eldorado Goldcorp also saw significant markdowns, but we remain constructive on the Fund's positions in these names.

The energy sector also proved to be challenging with many bonds in that industry suffering meaningful declines in the June sell-off. As many of the credits are rated BB, they suffered not only from poor industry fundamentals during the first half, but also a high degree of rate sensitivity. El Paso Holdings bonds, for example, dropped from a range around $118 to as low as $103 in the June softness. We like the credit and attribute the negative price action to the move in rates. We remain underweight the sector and hope that a conservative posture for this industry will help mitigate some of the rate volatility.

On a positive note, the sell-off in the secondary market provided us with opportunities to invest in names we believe are fundamentally sound at a discount or to purchase recently issued bonds that were difficult to source due to overwhelming demand. Our recent credit meeting discussions have centered on these potential secondary market opportunities, with a focus on higher-quality securities that, in our view, have experienced outsized underperformance and spread widening. We also initiated positions in select high-quality emerging markets companies such as Marfrig and Israel Electric that look to have become oversold as many investors focused on risk reduction.

Outlook

Similar to the past several years, the high yield market experienced a second-quarter correction. A combination of excessive new supply, capital outflows, and rising U.S. Treasury yields have pressured the asset class. Corrections are normal and healthy, particularly when valuations arguably reach stretched levels. Moreover, we view the sell-off as having been largely driven by technicals and unrelated to the quality of the companies in the high yield universe.

With below investment-grade yields and credit spreads moving higher, we believe the market will eventually stabilize as value-conscious investors reallocate and buy on weakness. We think high yield issuers are fundamentally sound and we expect defaults to remain low over the next two years. A meaningful portion of new issuance in the current cycle has been refinancing related, leading to lower debt costs and a meaningful reduction in near-term maturities.

While our investment team primarily focuses on credit fundamentals and less on the macro environment, we have a constructive view on the U.S. economy. We expect the U.S. to continue on a modest growth trajectory for the foreseeable future, creating a favorable operating environment for most high yield companies. We also think uncertainty around the timing of Fed tapering and monetary policy normalization given the stated linkage to employment market conditions could cause additional volatility in the Treasury market. We believe the portfolio will hold up well in relative terms in a rising-rate environment given its low duration and high level of diversity across industries.

From a diversification standpoint, we continue to methodically expand our investment opportunity set, evaluating both emerging markets and European opportunities. Our investment team is afforded the unique opportunity to leverage various independent insights that arise from the firm's global research platform as we broaden our scope outside of traditional U.S. high yield bonds. Our efforts here do not reflect a change in approach and will be prudent, incremental and opportunistic, and are subject to the Fund's non-fundamental limitation restricting non-dollar denominated securities principally traded in foreign markets to 10% of total assets.

As always, we aim to deliver high current income while seeking to contain volatility inherent in this market. Our team maintains a commitment to credit research and risk-conscious investing that has led to favorable returns for our high yield clients over various market cycles.

Sincerely,

Robert F. Birch

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2013 (Unaudited)

(1) Significant Accounting and Other Policies

The New America High Income Fund, Inc. (the Fund) was organized as a corporation in the state of Maryland on November 19, 1987 and is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as a diversified, closed-end investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940. The Fund commenced operations on February 26, 1988. The investment objective of the Fund is to provide high current income while seeking to preserve stockholders' capital through investment in a professionally managed, diversified portfolio of "high yield" fixed-income securities.

The Fund invests primarily in fixed maturity corporate debt securities that are rated less than investment grade. Risk of loss upon default by the issuer is significantly greater with respect to such securities compared to investment grade securities because these securities are generally unsecured and are often subordinated to other creditors of the issuer and because these issuers usually have high levels of indebtedness and are more sensitive to adverse economic conditions, such as a recession, than are investment grade issuers. In some cases, the collection of principal and timely receipt of interest is dependent upon the issuer attaining improved operating results, selling assets or obtaining additional financing.

The Fund may focus its investments in certain industries, subjecting it to greater risk than a Fund that is more diversified. See the schedule of investments for information on individual securities as well as industry diversification and credit quality ratings.

The Fund's financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States for investment companies that require the management of the Fund to, among other things, make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund, which are in conformity with those generally accepted in the investment company industry.

(a) Valuation of Investments Investments for which market quotations are readily available are stated at market value, which is determined by using the most recently quoted bid price provided by an independent pricing service or principal market maker. Independent pricing services provide market quotations based primarily on quotations from dealers and brokers, market transactions, accessing data from quotations services, offering sheets obtained from dealers and various relationships between securities. Investments whose primary market is on an exchange are valued at the last sale price on the day of valuation. Short-term investments with original maturities of 60 days or less are stated at amortized cost, which approximates market value. Following procedures approved by the Board of Directors, investments for which market quotations are not yet available (primarily fixed-income corporate bonds and notes) are stated at fair value on the basis of subjective valuations furnished by one or more securities dealers and brokers. Other investments, for which market quotations are not readily available are valued in good faith at fair value using methods approved by the Board of Directors. Fair value measurement is further discussed in section (f) of this footnote.

(b) Foreign Currency Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U. S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

The New America High Income Fund, Inc.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transaction, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in the fair values of assets and liabilities, other than investments in securities at fiscal period end, resulting from changes in exchange rates.

(c) Foreign Currency Forward Exchange Contracts The Fund may enter into foreign currency forward exchange contracts to hedge against foreign currency exchange rate risks on its non-U.S. dollar denominated investment securities. When entering into a forward currency contract, the Fund agrees to receive or deliver a fixed quantity of foreign currency for an agreed upon price on an agreed future date. The Fund's net equity therein, representing unrealized gain or loss on the contracts as measured by the difference between the forward foreign exchange rates at the dates of entry into the contracts and the forward rates at the reporting date, is included in the statement of assets and liabilities. Realized and unrealized gains and losses are included in the statement of operations. These instruments involve market risk, credit risk or both kinds of risks, in excess of the amount recognized in the statement of assets and liabilities. Risks arise from the possible inability of counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts and from movement in currency and securities values and interest rates.

(d) Securities Transactions and Net Investment Income Securities transactions are recorded on trade date. Realized gains or losses on sales of securities are calculated on the identified cost basis. Interest income is accrued on a daily basis. Discount on short-term investments is amortized to investment income. Premiums or discounts on corporate debt securities are amortized based on the interest method for financial reporting purposes. All income on original issue discount and step interest bonds is accrued based on the effective interest method. The Fund does not amortize market premiums or discounts for tax purposes. Dividend payments received in the form of additional securities are recorded on the ex-dividend date in an amount equal to the value of the security on such date.

(e) Federal Income Taxes It is the Fund's policy to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its shareholders each year. Accordingly, no federal income tax provision is required.

(f) Fair Value Measurement The Fund applies ASC 820 "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures". This standard establishes the definition of fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements.

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 are described below:

Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Fund has the ability to access.

Level 2 Observable inputs other than quoted prices included in level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These inputs may include quoted prices for the identical instrument on an inactive market, prices for similar instruments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, yield curves, default rates and similar data.

The New America High Income Fund, Inc.

June 30, 2013 (Unaudited)

Level 3 Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability, to the extent relevant observable inputs are not available, representing the Fund's own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in valuing the asset or liability, and would be based on the best information available.

The availability of observable inputs can vary from security to security and is affected by a wide variety of factors, including, for example, the type of security, whether the security is new and not yet established in the marketplace, the liquidity of markets, and other characteristics particular to the security. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Accordingly, the degree of judgment exercised in determining fair value is greatest for instruments categorized in level 3.

The inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement falls in its entirety, is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

A description of the valuation techniques applied to the Fund's major asset and liability categories is as follows.

Debt securities (corporate, convertible & bank debt). The fair value of debt securities is provided by independent pricing services using quotations from dealers and brokers, market transactions, data from quotations services, offering sheets and various relationships between securities. While most corporate bonds are categorized in level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, there may be instances where less observable inputs necessitate a level 3 categorization.

Equity securities (preferred and common stock). Equity securities for which the primary market is on an exchange will be valued at the last sale price on the day of valuation and are categorized in level 1 of the fair value hierarchy. Other equity securities traded in inactive markets or valued by independent pricing services using methods similar to debt securities are categorized in level 2. The fair value of equity securities in which observable inputs are unavailable are categorized in level 3.

Short-term investments. Short-term investments are valued using amortized cost, which approximates fair value. To the extent the inputs are observable and timely the values would be categorized in level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Forwards are valued at the unrealized gain or loss on the contract as measured by the difference between the forward exchange rates at the date of entry into the contract and the forward rates at the reporting date. Forwards are categorized in level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of June 30, 2013 in valuing the Fund's investments:

* Debt Securities All are level 2. Type of debt and industries are shown on the Schedule of Investments.

The Fund owns one Level 3 security with a value of zero at June 30, 2013. The value was determined by the Valuation Committee of the Fund's investment Advisor, T. Rowe Price, under procedures approved by the Board of Directors. The techniques used to arrive at this valuation have taken into account litigation involving the security with no settlement expected for the foreseeable future. The security is not trading and there is no guarantee that holders will receive any distribution. The security will continue to be valued at zero until trading commences, the occurrence of company-specific or industry events, or other market factors suggest the value should be changed.

The following is a reconciliation of Fund investments using Level 3 inputs for the period:

	Equity Securities
Balance, December 31, 2012	$
Sales
Change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation)
Realized gain (loss)
Transfers to Level 3 from Level 2
Balance, June 30, 2013	$

Level 1 and Level 2 assets are evaluated on a quarterly basis for changes in listings or delistings on national exchanges.

Transfers between levels are recognized at the value at the end of the reporting period. During the six months ended June 30, 2013, the Fund recognized no transfers to Level 1 from Level 2.

(2) Tax Matters and Distributions

At June 30, 2013, the total cost of securities (including temporary cash investments) for federal income tax purposes was approximately $335,184,000. Aggregate gross unrealized gain on securities in which there was an excess of value over tax cost was approximately $8,408,000. Aggregate gross unrealized loss on securities in which there was an excess of tax cost over value was approximately $5,986,000. Net unrealized gain on investments for tax purposes at June 30, 2013 was approximately $2,422,000.

At December 31, 2012, the Fund had approximate capital loss carryovers available to offset future capital gains, if any, to the extent provided by regulations:

Carryover Available	Expiration Date
$ 13,487,000	December 31, 2016
26,830,000	December 31, 2017
$ 40,317,000

It is the policy of the Fund to reduce future distributions of realized gains to shareholders to the extent of the unexpired capital loss carry forward.

The tax character of distributions paid to common and preferred shareholders of approximately $22,638,000 and $24,188,000 in 2012 and 2011, respectively, was from ordinary income.

The New America High Income Fund, Inc.

June 30, 2013 (Unaudited)

As of December 31, 2012, the components of distributable earnings on a tax basis were approximately:

Undistributed Ordinary income	$ 174,000
Unrealized Gain	16,577,000
Capital Losses Carry Forward	(40,317,000)
	$(23,566,000)

The difference between components of distributable earnings on a tax basis and the amounts reflected in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities are primarily due to market discount adjustments, wash sales and post-October losses. The Fund has recorded several reclassifications in the capital accounts to present undistributed net investment income and accumulated net realized losses on a tax basis. These reclassifications have no impact on the net asset value of the Fund. For the year ended December 31, 2012, permanent differences between book and tax accounting have been reclassified as follows:

Increase (decrease) in:

Undistributed net investment income	$ 41,000
Accumulated net realized loss from securities transactions	$ (36,000)
Capital in excess of par value	$ (5,000)

Distributions on common stock are declared based upon annual projections of the Fund's investment company taxable income. The Fund records all dividends and distributions payable to shareholders on the ex-dividend date and declares and distributes income dividends monthly.

The Fund is required to amortize market discounts and premiums for financial reporting purposes. This results in additional interest income in some years and decreased interest income in others for financial reporting purposes only. The Fund does not amortize market discounts or premiums for tax purposes. Therefore, the additional or decreased interest income for financial reporting purposes does not result in additional or decreased common stock dividend income.

The Fund recognizes the tax benefits of uncertain tax positions only where the position is "more likely than not" to be sustained assuming examination by tax authorities. Management has analyzed the Fund's tax positions, and has concluded that no liability for unrecognized tax benefits should be recorded related to uncertain tax positions taken on returns filed for open tax years 2009-2011, or expected to be taken in the Fund's 2012 tax returns. The Fund is not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax benefits will change materially in the next twelve months.

(3) Investment Advisory Agreement

T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc. (T. Rowe Price), the Fund's Investment Advisor, earned approximately $579,000 in management fees during the six months ended June 30, 2013. Management fees paid by the Fund to T. Rowe Price were calculated at 0.50% on the first $50,000,000 of the Fund's average weekly net assets, 0.40% on the next $50 million and 0.30% on average weekly net assets in excess of $100 million. T. Rowe Price's fee is calculated based on assets attributable to the Fund's common stock and senior securities. At June 30, 2013, the fee payable to T. Rowe Price was approximately $96,000, which was included in accrued expenses on the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities.

(4) Bank Credit Agreement

On October 10, 2012 the Fund entered into a credit agreement with The Bank of Nova Scotia pursuant to which the Fund may borrow up to an aggregate amount of $100,000,000. On November 8, 2012 the Fund borrowed $85,425,000 through this credit facility to finance the scheduled redemption of all outstanding shares of its auction term preferred stock. On May 14, 2013 the

The New America High Income Fund, Inc.

June 30, 2013 (Unaudited)

Fund borrowed an additional $14,575,000. The credit facility provides for an initial term of one year and may be extended with respect to amounts outstanding at the end of the initial term for an additional year at the option of the Fund. Amounts borrowed under the credit facility will bear interest at an adjustable rate based on a margin above LIBOR. The rate paid on these borrowings is approximately 1.093% and will be in effect until July 8, 2013 at which time the rate will be reset. For the six months ended June 30, 2013 the weighted average rate on the loan was approximately 1.168% and the maximum amount borrowed during the period was $100,000,000. On June 30, 2013 the total amount outstanding on the loan was $100,000,000.

The Fund pays a commitment fee to The Bank of Nova Scotia at a rate of .15% per annum for any unused portion of borrowings not to exceed $100,000,000. For the six months ended June 30, 2013 the Fund paid approximately $8,000 for this commitment.

The Fund has granted to The Bank of Nova Scotia a security interest in the investments and other assets of the Fund in accordance with the Credit Agreement.

(5) Auction Term Preferred Stock (ATP)

The Fund announced that on November 9, 2012 it consummated, as provided under the terms of its charter, the scheduled redemption of all outstanding shares of its ATP at the liquidation preference per share of $25,000, plus all accrued and unpaid dividends to the date of redemption. As discussed in footnote 4, the aggregate amount of the redemption was financed through a credit facility with The Bank of Nova Scotia.

(6) Purchases and Sales of Securities

Purchases and proceeds of sales or maturities of long-term securities during the six months ended June 30, 2013 were approximately:

Cost of purchases	$ 138,391,000
Proceeds of sales or maturities	$ 118,202,000

(7) Related Party Transactions

The Fund paid approximately $147,000 during the six months ended June 30, 2013 to two officers of the Fund for the provision of certain administrative services.

(8) Derivative Contracts (Currency Amounts in Thousands)

Forward Currency Exchange Contracts As of June 30, 2013 the Fund had forward currency exchange contracts outstanding as follows:

Supplemental Information (Unaudited)

Availability of Portfolio Holdings

The Fund provides a complete schedule of its portfolio holdings quarterly. The lists of holdings as of the end of the second and fourth quarters appear in the Fund's semi-annual and annual reports to shareholders, respectively. The schedules of portfolio holdings as of the end of the first and third quarters are filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") on Form N-Q (the "Forms") within 60 days of the end of the first and third quarters. Shareholders can look up the Forms on the SEC's web site at www.sec.gov. The Forms may also be reviewed and copied at the SEC's public reference room in Washington, D.C. You may call the SEC at 1-800-SEC-0330 for information about the SEC's web site and their public reference room. In addition, the Forms may be reviewed on the Fund's web site at www.newamerica-hyb.com.

Compliance with CFTC Regulation of Transactions in Commodity Interests

The Fund does not currently intend to engage in transactions in commodity interests such as futures contracts, options on futures contracts, and swaps. However, the Fund may in the future enter into interest rate transactions, such as swaps, caps, collars and floors for the purpose or with the effect of hedging its portfolio and/or its payment obligations with respect to senior securities. In addition, the Fund has reserved the right, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors, to purchase and sell financial futures contracts and options on such futures contracts for the purpose of hedging its portfolio securities (or portfolio securities which it expects to acquire) against anticipated changes in prevailing interest rates. To the extent it engages in transactions in commodity interests, the Fund expects their use to be limited such that its investment adviser is able to claim the exclusion from the definition of the term "commodity pool operator" available under Regulation 4.5 of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission under the Commodity Exchange Act, and is therefore not subject to regulation as a pool operator under the Commodity Exchange Act with respect to its management of the Fund.

Common Stock Transactions

The Fund may purchase shares of its Common Stock in the open market when the Common Stock trades at a discount to net asset value or at other times if the Fund determines such purchases are advisable. There can be no assurance that the Fund will take such action in the event of a market discount to net asset value or that Fund purchases will reduce a discount.
