^{*} Income before income taxes refers to income before extraordinary gain, cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle and income taxes.

Revenues: 520,927 million yen (up 5% year on year)

In addition to a lower balance of assets owing to the careful selection of new assets and our continued focus on the profitability of each transaction, fewer gains from securitization resulted in lower revenues from direct financing leases and interest on loans and investment securities in the first nine months of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2004 compared to the same nine months of the previous fiscal year. The continued policy of emphasizing insurance-only-type over savings-type products resulted in a decline in life insurance premiums and related investment income. However, revenues from operating leases were up as a result of a recovery in the precision measuring equipment rental operations and the sale of some office buildings. Residential condominium sales also grew due to the increase in the number of condominiums sold to buyers during the period. In addition to an increase in the net gains on the sale of securities, the recovery of the stock market in Japan supported an increase in brokerage commissions, which resulted in growth in brokerage commissions and net gains on investment securities. As a result, revenues grew 5% year on year to 520,927 million yen.

Expenses: 449,906 million yen (up 2% year on year)

Interest expense was down due mainly to a reduction in debt in Japan and overseas, as well as a decline in interest rates overseas compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year. Life insurance costs fell in line with the drop in revenues, while write-downs of long-lived assets and write-downs of securities were lower compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year. However, depreciation operating leases and costs of residential condominium sales rose in line with the growth in revenues, while the increase in the number of consolidated companies as a result of acquisitions resulted in an increase in selling, general and administrative expenses. As a result, expenses increased 2% year on year to 449,906 million yen.

Table of Contents

Net Income: 45,892 million yen (up 30% year on year)

Operating income grew 28% year on year to 71,021 million yen, while equity in net income of affiliates increased due mainly to the recognition of deferred tax assets at Korea Life Insurance Co., Ltd. (Refer to 4. Additional Information on page 4). As a result, net income rose 30% year on year to 45,892 million yen.

Operating Assets: 4,910,845 million yen (down 5% from March 31, 2003)

Operating assets were down 5% to 4,910,845 million yen compared with March 31, 2003 as a result of the careful selection of new assets and our continued focus on the profitability of each transaction, a lower level of assets overseas due to the appreciation of the yen against the U.S. dollar and the sale of certain assets.

Segment Information (Segment Profits refer to income before income taxes)

Operations in Japan

Corporate Finance: While the automobile leasing operations continued to perform relatively strongly, fewer gains from securitization were recorded. In addition, in operations other than the automobile leasing operations, a lower level of segment assets as a result of the cautious selection of new transactions resulted in a decline in segment revenues. As a result, segment profits in the first nine months of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2004 fell 7%, to 33,511 million yen, compared to 36,062 million yen recorded in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Equipment Operating Leases: The improvement of the precision measuring equipment rental business contributed to an increase in segment profits of 21% year on year, to 5,528 million yen, compared to 4,572 million yen recorded in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Real Estate-Related Finance: The housing loan operations continued to perform well, while increases in segment revenues from loans to corporate customers and loan servicing operations contributed to segment profits. Segment assets decreased compared with March 31, 2003 as a result of the sale of certain assets. Segment profits were up 7% year on year to 13,531 million yen, compared to 12,664 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Real Estate: In addition to gains from the condominium development business and building maintenance operations, large gains from the sale of office buildings contributed to segment profits of 8,051 million yen in the first nine months of this fiscal year, compared to a loss of 4,466 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year when write-downs of long-lived assets of 14,665 million yen were recorded.

Life Insurance: Life insurance premiums and related investment income were lower as a result of the continued shift in marketing strategy away from savings-type to insurance-only-type products. In line with this drop in life insurance premiums, life insurance costs for policy reserves and related expenses also declined. As a result, segment profits were up 47%, to 4,341 million yen, compared to 2,949 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Other: Although the consumer card loan operations continued to perform well, fewer gains from securitization and lower contributions from equity in net income of affiliates resulted in a drop in segment profits of 50%, to 5,081 million yen, compared to 10,155 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Overseas Operations

The Americas: Segment profits improved to 6,035 million yen in the first nine months of this fiscal year, compared to a loss of 590 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year due largely to lower provision for doubtful receivables and probable loan losses and fewer write-downs of securities.

Asia and Oceania: Contributions from automobile leasing operations and the corporate lending business of a number of companies in the region, in addition to an increase in equity in net income of affiliates from Korea Life Insurance Co., Ltd. (refer to page 4, 4. Additional Information), resulted in a rise in segment profits to 16,385 million yen compared to 5,859 million yen in the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Europe: Segment profits experienced a loss of 1,445 million yen due largely to the recording of losses on certain equity method investments.

2. Summary of Third Quarter (Three Months Ended December 31, 2003)

In the three months ended December 31, 2003 (third quarter), revenues increased 7% year on year, or 11,887 million yen to 175,056 million yen. Revenues from direct financing leases and interest on loans and investment securities were down compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year owing to a lower balance of assets as a result of the careful selection of new transactions. On the other hand, the sale of some office buildings contributed to higher revenues from operating leases, the gains on the sale of securities resulted in an increase in brokerage commissions and net gains on investment securities, residential condominium sales continued to perform well, and revenues from companies in which we have invested as part of our corporate rehabilitation business contributed to a rise in other operating revenues compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Overall expenses were up 6%, or 8,582 million yen, to 150,764 million yen compared to the previous third quarter. While interest expense and life insurance costs declined year on year, depreciation operating leases and costs of residential condominium sales rose in line with the increase in the associated revenues. In addition, selling, general and administrative expenses rose year on year as a result of the increase in the number of consolidated companies.

Operating income rose 16%, or 3,305 million yen, compared to the previous third quarter, to 24,292 million yen. Income before income taxes rose 15%, or 3,561 million yen, to 26,863 million yen, and net income increased 16%, or 2,024 million yen, to 14,473 million yen.

3. Outlook and Forecasts for the Fiscal Year Ending March 31, 2004

We have revised our forecasts for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2004 and now forecast revenues of 730,000 million yen (up 7% compared with the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003), income before income taxes of 98,000 million yen (up 112%) and net income of 53,000 million yen (up 75%).

4. Additional Information

Equity in net income of affiliates for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 included 10,299 million yen from Korea Life Insurance Co., Ltd. (KLI). This amount included ORIX s proportionate interest in the ordinary operating results of KLI and our proportionate interest in the recognition of deferred tax assets of 5,380 million yen attributable to a change in tax rules in Korea.

The change in Korean tax rules in May 2003 will enable KLI to apply certain historical losses to reduce future taxable income. As a result of this change, KLI recorded a tax benefit in earnings and a corresponding deferred tax asset in the first quarter of its current fiscal year ending March 31, 2004. ORIX recorded a proportionate interest in income reported by KLI in the second quarter of our fiscal year ending March 31, 2004 in accordance with the Company spolicy of recording its equity in the income of KLI on a one-quarter lag basis.

ORIX has plans to sell a portion of its interest in KLI in the future. However, no definitive agreements of sale have been arranged at the time of this announcement. The corresponding increase in the carrying value of ORIX s ownership interest as a result of the recording of the above recognition of deferred tax assets in KLI is not necessarily reflective of an increase in the fair value of our equity interest in the event of a sale to a third party. Therefore, we believe that there is a possibility that we will be unable to sell our portion of KLI at or above the carrying value of our investment at the time of sale. In such an event, we will record a loss on the sale in the period in which a definitive agreement of sale is arranged.
