Hello I m Chuck Shivery and I have some exciting news to share with you regarding the next great chapter for Northeast Utilities.

This weekend, our Board of Trustees, on my recommendation and that of our senior management team, unanimously approved the merger of NU and Boston-based NSTAR.

This transaction will create a merger of equals that will provide substantial benefits for our customers, our communities, our shareholders and you our valued employees.

By combining NU with NSTAR, we will take two strong companies and become one great New England-based, locally controlled company creating the premier energy utility in New England and one of the largest in the U.S.

This transaction will create a company which will have the financial flexibility, scale and scope to unlock a sustainable energy future for our customers. In addition, this merger will create a company which will provide employees with an exciting and diverse future rich with opportunity.

While I would prefer being with you in person today to deliver this exciting news, I know you can appreciate that I need to be in New York to brief the investment community on today s announcement.

Tomorrow, we will have an all-employee meeting originating from the Berlin auditorium which will also be simulcast on the NUnet. In the meantime, attached to this Extra is the news release that we are issuing today along with additional information on the profile of the combined company, bios of senior officers, and FAQs that I hope will address some of the questions you may have. Additionally, your local leadership is available to answer further questions.

Thank you for everything you do for our company. I look forward to joining you on our path forward in creating the future of the new NU.
