Freddie Mac Termination

On March 26, 2007, New Century Financial Corporation (the "Company") notified the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp. ("Freddie Mac"), that it was voluntarily terminating its eligibility with Freddie Mac. As a result of this termination, the Company and its subsidiaries are no longer able to sell mortgage loans directly to Freddie Mac or act as the primary servicer of any mortgage loans for Freddie Mac.

Additional Lender Actions

As previously disclosed, the Company has received default and acceleration notices from all of its lenders under its repurchase credit facilities. Several of these lenders have further notified the Company of their intent to sell the outstanding mortgage loans that have been financed by the respective lender and offset the proceeds from such sale against the Company's purported obligations to the lender, while reserving their purported rights to seek recovery of any remaining deficiency from the Company. The Company has notified these lenders of its concerns that any such sale be conducted in an appropriate manner, in accordance with applicable law and in accordance with the terms of the applicable financing agreement between the parties.

Additional State Regulatory Actions

As previously disclosed, the Company has received cease and desist orders from several states and entered into consent agreements with several states (the "Previous Orders and Consent Agreements"). On March 27, 2007, the Company announced that it had signed consent agreements with the State of Idaho's Department of Finance, the State of Iowa's Superintendent of Banking, the State of Michigan's Office of Financial and Insurance Services and the State of Wyoming's Banking Commissioner (the "Additional Consent Agreements"). Although the Company has signed the Additional Consent Agreements and expects to comply with their terms, the Company has not yet received counterpart signatures from the respective states and accordingly such Additional Consent Agreements may not be binding on the respective states.

Consistent with the Previous Orders and Consent Agreements, the Additional Consent Agreements contain allegations that certain of the Company's subsidiaries have engaged in violations of state law, including, among others, failure to fund mortgage loans after closing. Consistent with the Previous Orders and Consent Agreements, the Additional Consent Agreements restrain the Company's subsidiaries from taking certain actions, including, among others, engaging in alleged violations of state law and taking new applications for mortgage loans in the relevant jurisdiction. The Additional Consent Agreements also compel the subsidiaries to affirmatively take certain actions, including the creation of escrow accounts to hold any up front fees collected in connection with pending mortgage applications, the transfer to other lenders of the outstanding mortgage applications and unfunded mortgage loans held by the subsidiaries, and the provision of regular information to the state regulators regarding the subsidiaries' activities in the applicable state, including the status of all outstanding mortgage applications and unfunded mortgage loans in that state.

The Company anticipates that cease and desist orders will continue to be received by the Company and its subsidiaries from additional states in the future and that the Company and its subsidiaries may enter into additional consent agreements similar to the consent agreements already entered into by the Company. The Company does not undertake, and expressly disclaims, any obligation to update this disclosure for any such additional cease and desist orders or consent agreements or for any developments with respect to the Additional Consent Agreements.

The Company intends to continue to cooperate with its regulators in order to mitigate the impact on consumers resulting from the Company's funding constraints.
