CHICAGO, IL - October 28, 2016 - CBOE Holdings, Inc. (NASDAQ: CBOE) today reported net income allocated to common stockholders of $40.3 million, or $0.50 per diluted share, for the third quarter of 2016, compared with $67.2 million, or $0.81 per diluted share, in the third quarter of 2015. Last year's third quarter financial results represent an all-time high for the company, while this year's results include $8.6 million of acquisition-related expenses. Adjusted net income allocated to common stockholders was $47.2 million, or $0.58 per share, compared with $63.0 million, or $0.76 per share, for the third quarter of 2015. Operating revenue for the quarter was $156.2 million, down 16 percent compared with $187.0 million in the third quarter of 2015.

Financial results presented on an adjusted basis for the third quarter of 2016 exclude certain items that management believes are not indicative of the company's core operating performance, which are detailed in the reconciliation of non-GAAP results.

"CBOE made significant progress throughout the third quarter to advance our growth initiatives, including the announcement of our planned acquisition of Bats Global Markets. We are excited about CBOE's and Bats' future as a combined company and look forward to working together to efficiently maximize synergies and revenue opportunities. We believe this combination will enhance our financial strength, accelerate our strategic growth initiatives and provide new areas of growth to deliver greater value for CBOE shareholders," said Edward T. Tilly, CBOE Holdings' Chief Executive Officer.

"Although trading volume was down this quarter compared to last year's record third-quarter volume, CBOE posted solid financial results, while continuing our efforts to efficiently manage our resources and expenses," said Alan J. Dean, CBOE Holdings' Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer. "Our focus on creating long-term value for our shareholders remains unchanged. The recently announced planned acquisition of Bats is an example of how we are allocating resources in a way that we believe will generate the best returns for our shareholders."

Key Statistics and Financial Highlights

The table below highlights CBOE Holdings' operating results on a GAAP basis and an adjusted basis for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2016 and 2015. Financial results presented on an adjusted basis provide supplemental information to facilitate period-over-period comparisons by adjusting for certain items that management believes are not indicative of the company's core operating performance.

(1) A full reconciliation of our non-GAAP results to our GAAP results for the 2016 and 2015 reporting periods is included in the attached tables. See "Non-GAAP Information" in the accompanying financial tables.

Operating Revenue

The company reported operating revenue of $156.2 million in the third quarter of 2016, a decrease of $30.8 million, or 16 percent, from $187.0 million in the third quarter of 2015, resulting from a decrease of $32.9 million in transaction fees, offset somewhat by an increase of $1.1 million in market data fees.

Transaction fees were down 23 percent in the quarter as a result of a 12 percent decrease in total trading volume and a 12 percent decrease in average revenue per contract (RPC) versus the third quarter of 2015. Total trading volume in the third quarter was 296.3 million contracts, or 4.63 million contracts per day, compared with volume of 335.7 million contracts, or 5.25 million contracts per day, in last year's third quarter. Trading volume in the company's higher-margin index options and futures contracts fell 19 percent in the quarter, while multiply-listed options declined 6 percent versus the third quarter of 2015. The RPC in the third quarter of 2016 was $0.378 compared with $0.431 in the third quarter of 2015.

The RPC variance primarily reflects a shift in the mix of products traded, with a lower proportion of volume coming from index options and futures contracts, which generate the highest RPC. These product categories accounted for 40.7 percent of trading volume in the third quarter of 2016, compared with 44.6 percent in the third quarter of 2015. In addition, the RPC for equity options and exchange-traded products declined, reflecting higher volume-related incentives versus last year's third quarter.

The average RPC represents total transaction fee revenue divided by total reported trading volume for Chicago Board Options Exchange® (CBOE®), C2 Options ExchangeSM (C2SM) and CBOE Futures ExchangeSM (CFE®).

Operating Expenses

Total operating expenses were $90.6 million for the third quarter of 2016, up $4.6 million or 5 percent, compared with $85.9 million for the same period in 2015, driven by higher professional fees and outside services, partially offset by lower depreciation and amortization and royalty fees. The increase in professional fees and outside services largely reflects fees incurred relating to the company's planned acquisition of Bats Global Markets, Inc. (Bats). Total adjusted operating expenses, which exclude accelerated stock-based compensation, acquisition-related expenses and other unusual items were $81.4 million, down $4.5 million or 5 percent, compared with $85.9 million for the third quarter of 2015.

The company's core operating expenses, which include total operating expenses less volume-based expenses, depreciation and amortization, accelerated stock-based compensation expense and unusual or one-time expenses, were $51.6 million for the third quarter of 2016, up $0.5 million or 1 percent, compared with last year's third quarter. The slight increase in core operating expenses primarily reflects increases of $1.2 million in travel and promotional expenses and $0.4 million in facilities cost, partially offset by a decrease of $1.5 million in compensation and benefits. Volume-based expenses, which include royalty fees and order routing fees, were $19.9 million in the third quarter of 2016, a decrease of $2.5 million or 11 percent, compared with the same period last year. This decrease primarily reflects lower royalty fees of $2.4 million, resulting from lower trading volume in licensed index and futures products, which were down 19 percent versus last year's record-setting, third-quarter volume.

Operating Margin

The company's operating margin was 42.0 percent for the third quarter of 2016, compared with 54.1 percent in last year's third quarter. The adjusted operating margin was 47.9 percent for the quarter compared with 54.1 percent for the third quarter of 2015.

Effective Tax Rate

The company reported an effective tax rate of 39.9 percent for the third quarter of 2016 compared with 33.4 percent in last year's third quarter. The third quarter of 2016 included expense arising from the recognition of uncertain tax positions and 2015's third quarter included the benefit of the release of uncertain tax positions relating to prior years.

Operational Highlights and Recent Developments

On September 26, the company announced that it entered into a definitive agreement to acquire Bats in a cash and stock transaction valued at approximately $32.50 per Bats share, or a total of approximately $3.2 billion, consisting of 31% cash and 69% CBOE Holdings stock, based on CBOE Holdings' closing stock price of $70.30 per share on September 23, 2016.

On September 26, CBOE launched options on the FTSE Emerging Index (Ticker: FTEM), a market-capitalization weighted index representing the performance of large and mid-cap companies from advanced and secondary emerging markets.

On August 25, CBOE Vest Financial, an investment manager focused on target outcome investment strategies, launched the CBOE Vest S&P 500 Buffer Protect Strategy Fund (Ticker: BUIGX), the first mutual fund designed to provide investors with index-based buffer protection.

On August 15, CBOE listed for trading S&P 500® Index Monday-expiring WeeklysSM options. CBOE now offers SPX options with Monday, Wednesday and Friday weekly expirations.

On August 15, CBOE launched the CBOE-SMA Large Cap Index, the first of a series of sentiment-based strategy benchmark indexes that measure short-term market momentum based on Social Market Analytics' social media metrics.

On July 29, CBOE announced plans to broaden its data distribution to investors who want to track and trade options on the widely followed MSCI Emerging Markets (Ticker: MXEF) and MSCI EAFE (Ticker: MXEA)

Indexes. Real-time values for the underlying MSCI Emerging Markets and MSCI EAFE Indexes are expected to be available to broker-dealers through CBOE's Market Data Express service later this year.

On July 6, CBOE announced that it has created a series of 13 "Enhanced Growth Indexes," the second in a family of options-based strategy performance benchmarks designed to target the outcomes of specific investment strategies. The CBOE S&P 500 Enhanced Growth Indexes measure the performance of a hypothetical portfolio of SPX FLEXible EXchange® (FLEX®) options designed to provide targeted annual returns. CBOE began disseminating daily values for the new benchmarks on June 24, 2016.

On July 1, the company opened its first international business development office in London, enabling CBOE to increase its presence in the region and allow its business development team to more directly engage with European-based clients and potential new customers, as well as the exchange's strategic partners.

2016 Fiscal Year Financial Guidance

The company updated its financial guidance for the 2016 fiscal year as follows:

Core operating expenses for the 2016 fiscal year are expected to be slightly below the company's guidance range of $211.0 million to $215.0 million.⁽²⁾

Depreciation and amortization expense is expected to be slightly below the range of $46.0 million to $48.0 million.

Capital expenditures are expected to be slightly below the range of $47.0 million to $49.0 million.

The company reaffirmed its financial guidance for the 2016 fiscal year as follows:

Continuing stock-based compensation expense included in core expenses is expected to be approximately $13.5 million for the full year.

The company expects to recognize accelerated stock-based compensation expense, on a quarterly basis, totaling approximately $1.0 million for the full year. This expense is reported in compensation and benefits and included in the company's non-GAAP reconciliation as an adjusted financial measure.

The effective tax rate for full-year 2016 is expected to be in the range of 38.5 percent to 39.5 percent. Significant changes in trading volume, expenses, state and local tax rates and other items, including ongoing state and federal tax audits and unusual items, could materially impact this expectation.

⁽²⁾Specific quantifications of the amounts that would be required to reconcile the company's core operating expenses guidance are not available. The company believes that there is a degree of volatility with respect to certain of its GAAP measures, primarily related to volume-based expenses, which include royalty fees and order routing fees, the items that would be required to reconcile to GAAP operating expenses, which preclude the company from providing accurate guidance on certain forward-looking GAAP to non-GAAP reconciliations. The company believes that providing estimates of the amounts that would be required to reconcile the range of the company's core operating expenses would imply a degree of precision that would be confusing or misleading to investors for the reasons identified above.

Return of Capital to Stockholders

As announced on October 26, 2016, CBOE Holdings' Board of Directors declared a dividend for the fourth quarter of 2016, of $0.25 per share payable December 16, 2016, to stockholders of record as of December 2, 2016.

As of September 30, 2016, the company had approximately $97.0 million of availability remaining under its existing share repurchase authorizations. There was no activity in the company's share repurchase program during the third quarter, due to its planned transaction with Bats.

Year to date, the company has repurchased 947,786 shares at an average price of $63.83 per share, for an aggregate purchase price of $60.5 million.

Since the inception of its share repurchase program in 2011 through September 30, 2016, the company has repurchased 10,947,401 shares of its common stock at an average price of $45.95 per share, for a total of $503.0 million.

Cautionary Statements Regarding Forward-Looking Information

This press release contains certain statements regarding intentions, beliefs and expectations or predictions for the future of CBOE Holdings, Inc. ("CBOE") and Bats Global Markets, Inc. ("Bats"), which are forward-looking statements as that term is defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, including statements with respect to the anticipated effects of the transaction, expectations with respect to the migration of trading technology and synergies and the proposed transaction's anticipated benefits to customers and stockholders. Words such as "believes," "expects," "anticipates," "estimates," "intends," "plans," "seeks," "projects" or words of similar meaning, or future or conditional verbs, such as "will," "should," "would," "could," "may" or variations of such words and similar expressions are intended to identify such forward-looking statements, which are not statements of historical fact or guarantees or assurances of future performance. However, the absence of these words or similar expressions does not mean that a statement is not forward-looking.

Actual results could differ materially from those projected or forecast in the forward-looking statements. The factors that could cause actual results to differ materially include, without limitation, the following risks, uncertainties or assumptions: the satisfaction of the conditions precedent to the consummation of the proposed transaction, including, without limitation, the receipt of stockholder and regulatory approvals (including clearance by antitrust authorities necessary to complete the transaction) on the terms desired or anticipated; unanticipated difficulties or expenditures relating to the proposed transaction, including, without limitation, difficulties that result in the failure to realize expected synergies, efficiencies and cost savings from the proposed transaction within the expected time period (if at all), whether in connection with integration, combining trading platforms, broadening distribution of offerings or otherwise; CBOE's ability to obtain and maintain an investment grade credit rating and obtain financing on the anticipated terms and schedule; risks relating to the value of CBOE's shares to be issued in the transaction; disruptions of CBOE's and Bats' current plans, operations and relationships with market participants caused by the announcement and pendency of the proposed transaction; potential difficulties in CBOE's and Bats' ability to retain employees as a result of the announcement and pendency of the proposed transaction; legal proceedings that may be instituted against CBOE and Bats following announcement of the proposed transaction; and other factors described in CBOE's annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2015, which was filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") on February 19, 2016, Bats' final prospectus, which was filed with the SEC pursuant to Rule 424(b) on April 15, 2016, Bats' quarterly report for the quarterly period ended June 30, 2016, which was filed with the SEC on August 5, 2016, and other filings made by CBOE and Bats from time to time with the SEC. The factors described in such SEC filings include, without limitation: CBOE's ability to retain its right to exclusively list and trade certain index options and futures products; economic, political and market conditions; compliance with legal and regulatory obligations (and changes thereto), including obligations under agreements with regulatory agencies; increasing competition in the industries in which CBOE and Bats operate; CBOE's and Bats' ability to operate their respective businesses without violating the intellectual property rights of others and the costs associated with protecting their respective intellectual property rights; decreases in trading volumes or a shift in the mix of products traded on CBOE's or Bats' exchanges; each of CBOE's and Bats' ability to accommodate trading volume and transaction traffic, including significant increases, without failure or degradation of performance of their respective systems; CBOE's and Bats' ability to protect their respective systems and communication networks from security risks, including cyber-attacks; the ability to manage CBOE's and Bats' growth and strategic acquisitions or alliances effectively, including the ability to realize the anticipated benefits of past acquisitions; the ability to adapt successfully to technological changes to meet customers' needs and developments in the marketplace; and the impact of legal and regulatory changes and proceedings, whether or not related to the proposed transaction.

Neither CBOE nor Bats undertakes, and each of them expressly disclaims, any duty to update any forward-looking statement whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by law. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date hereof.

Additional Information Regarding the Transaction and Where to Find It

This press release does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any securities or a solicitation of any vote or approval. Non-GAAP Information

In addition to disclosing results determined in accordance with GAAP, CBOE Holdings has disclosed certain non-GAAP measures of operating performance. These measures are not in accordance with, or a substitute for, GAAP, and may be different from or inconsistent with non-GAAP financial measures used by other companies. The non-GAAP measures provided in this press release include core operating expenses, adjusted operating expenses, adjusted operating income, adjusted operating margin, adjusted net income allocated to common stockholders and adjusted diluted earnings per share.

Management believes that the non-GAAP financial measures presented in this press release, including adjusted net income and core operating expenses, provide useful and comparative information to assess trends in our core operations and a means to evaluate period-to-period comparisons. Non-GAAP financial measures disclosed by management, including adjusted diluted EPS, are provided as additional information to investors in order to provide them with an alternative method for assessing our financial condition and operating results.

The table below shows core operating expenses, which is the company's operating expenses after excluding (i) volume-based expenses, (ii) depreciation and amortization expense, (iii) accelerated stock-based compensation expense and (iv) other unusual or one-time expenses.
