FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BROWN-FORMAN ANNOUNCES NEXT STEP IN SUCCESSION PLAN
Paul Varga Named New CEO; Owsley Brown Remains Chairman

Louisville, KY, May 27, 2005 - Brown-Forman Corporation Chairman and CEO Owsley Brown II announced today that the company's board of directors has unanimously approved the next stage of the firm's leadership succession. The duties of chief executive officer of Brown-Forman Corporation, which Brown has performed since 1993, will transfer August 1 to Paul C. Varga, while Brown will continue as the company's chairman.

"Paul Varga is a great brand builder whose career and accomplishments have paralleled the evolution and strengthening of our company's brand-building capabilities," stated Brown. "He has a keen strategic mind and is a visionary with appropriately challenging growth goals for Brown-Forman.

"By its actions, the board is expressing its strong confidence that Paul is an excellent long-term choice for CEO of Brown-Forman," said Brown. "The board is also reaffirming its unceasing belief in Brown-Forman's great future as an independent, growing company of unsurpassed quality in our industry, led by a strong and highly capable senior leadership team."

Varga's appointment as CEO continues Brown-Forman's long-standing tradition of entrusting the leadership of the company to the people of the highest ability who have a lengthy tenure of success at the firm. Upon assuming the CEO position on August 1, Varga will be the third leader of the company to come from beyond the Brown family, the others being Daniel L. Street and William F. Lucas, who successively and very ably led the company from the mid-1960s through the mid-1970s.

Edgar Filing: BROWN FORMAN CORP - Form 8-K

The promotion of Varga to chief executive officer of Brown-Forman Corporation will make him the highest-ranking member of management and he will have the ultimate decision-making authority and responsibility for the company's performance and long-term prosperity. Varga will report to the board of directors, chaired by Owsley Brown, and will have all divisions and areas of the company reporting to him. He will continue to serve on the board as a director.

"I am truly honored to be entrusted with leading this great American brand-building company," said Varga. "I have always respected and been inspired by our company's wonderful brands, its incredible 135-year history, its deep Louisville roots, and our people throughout the world who create its success. I believe strongly in our company's strategy and in the long-term prospects for our business. Fortunately for me, and for all stakeholders, Brown-Forman has a superb team of executive leaders and employees who are well prepared to seize the vast opportunities which lie ahead of us."

As chairman, Brown will remain fully engaged strategically in the company's affairs. As the chief advocate for all shareholders' long-term interests, he will also work to ensure the company builds on its tradition of creating value by paying proper attention to the interests of all of its long-term shareholder base - institutional, individual, as well as family. In addition, Brown will continue to take the lead in managing the affairs of the board.

"These changes will permit me to alter how I spend my working time," stated Brown. "Although I will continue to stay 100% engaged strategically in the business, I will reduce my daily workload in the months and years following the change, with an appropriate reduction in my compensation."

Brown will continue to play a leading role on the Brown-Forman team that is working with a consortium considering a possible bid for Allied Domecq. "I will be working very closely on this critical matter with Paul, who is deeply involved now and who will, after August 1, ultimately be responsible for building the brands that Brown-Forman will secure, should the consortium make a successful bid for Allied Domecq," said Brown.

Varga, 41, joined the company over 18 years ago while working on his MBA at Purdue University. After earning his degree, he became a full-time employee in 1987. He progressed through a series of increasingly responsible sales, marketing, and staff positions, including several years as a key member of the Jack Daniel's marketing team as well as two years as director of the office of the CEO. In 1996 Varga was named senior vice president and director of the entity which helped create global brand development strategies for Jack Daniel's and Southern Comfort and which provided him with a solid international business foundation. In 1998 he became director of marketing for Brown-Forman's spirits business in North America, and in 2000 was promoted to global chief marketing officer for the company's spirits brands. In 2003 he was named CEO of Brown-Forman Beverages, by far the corporation's largest operating segment, and was thereafter elected a director of the corporation. Varga will continue to perform the duties of CEO of the company's beverage business.

"In recent years, Paul Varga has exemplified the skills and abilities we seek in the company's leader," said Brown, "quickly grasping his new responsibilities as well as increasing his involvement in shareholder, investor, and strategic industry relationships."

Edgar Filing: BROWN FORMAN CORP - Form 8-K

"In addition, our earnings growth rate over the last few years is one of the strongest in the wine and spirits industry, and this is a testament to the excellence of our management team as well as the quality of our brands," stated Brown. "About two years ago, as our corporation's respected President Bill Street was preparing to retire, we moved some very talented individuals, including Paul Varga, into positions of significantly increased responsibility. This executive team has worked diligently, collaboratively, and brilliantly to capitalize on the enormous opportunities that exist for our portfolio of premium wine and spirits brands around the world."

Brown-Forman Corporation is a diversified producer and marketer of fine quality consumer products, including Jack Daniel's, Southern Comfort, Finlandia Vodka, Canadian Mist, Fetzer and Bolla Wines, Korbel California Champagnes, Lenox, Dansk, and Gorham Tableware and Giftware, and Hartmann Luggage.

IMPORTANT NOTE ON FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS:

This news release contains statements, estimates, or projections that constitute "forward-looking statements" as defined under U.S. federal securities laws. Generally, the words "expect," "believe," "intend," "estimate," "will," "anticipate," and "project," and similar expressions identify a forward-looking statement, which speaks only as of the date the statement is made. Except as required by law, we do not intend to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise.

We believe that the expectations and assumptions with respect to our forward-looking statements are reasonable. But by their nature, forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that in some cases are out of our control. These factors could cause our actual results to differ materially from Brown-Forman's historical experience or our present expectations or projections. Here is a non-exclusive list of such risks and uncertainties:

- changes in general economic conditions, particularly in the United States where we earn the majority of our profits;
- a strengthening U.S. dollar against foreign currencies, especially the British Pound;
- reduced bar, restaurant, hotel and travel business in wake of other terrorist attacks, such as occurred on 9/11;
- developments in the class action lawsuits filed against Brown-Forman and other spirits, beer and wine manufacturers alleging that our advertising causes illegal consumption of alcohol by those under the legal drinking age, or other attempts to limit alcohol marketing, through either litigation or regulation;
- a dramatic change in consumer preferences, social trends or cultural trends that results in the reduced consumption of our premium spirits brands;
- tax increases, whether at the federal or state level;
- increases in the price of grain and grapes;
- continued depressed retail prices and margins in our wine business because of our excess wine inventories, existing grape contract obligations, and a worldwide oversupply of grapes; and
- the effects on our Consumer Durables business of the general economy, department store business, response rates in our direct marketing business, and profitability of mall outlet operations.
