Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On March 14, 2014, CytRx Corporation (“we,” “us,” “our” or the “Company”) entered into an amendment (the “Amendment”) that certain License Agreement, dated August 17, 2006 and amended on January 5, 2010 (the “License Agreement”), between the Company and KTB Tumorgesellschaft GmbH (“KTB”). The License Agreement grants us a license to patent rights held by KTB for the worldwide development and commercialization of aldoxorubicin. The License Agreement also granted us an option to include within the license any technology that is claimed or disclosed in the licensed patents and patent applications (the “Optional Technology”) for use in the field of oncology.

Under the Amendment, KTB granted us a non-exclusive, permanent license for all of the Optional Technology. If and to the extent that Optional Technology is used by us, we have agreed to make milestone payments to the Licensor based on the same milestone criteria otherwise applicable for licensed technologies under the License Agreement, other than the up-front milestone payable upon exercise of the option. Instead of the up-front payment, we have agreed to make a $500,000 milestone payment (the “Phase I Milestone Payment”) upon first dosing of a patient in a first phase I clinical trial for each product using Optional Technology. In the event that by February 28, 2017, no such Phase I Milestone Payment has become due, we have agreed to pay Licensor $500,000, which payment can be made, in our discretion, in cash or in shares of our common stock. If we elect to make the payment in shares of common stock, our shares will be valued at the volume-weighted average price (VWAP) over the preceding 60 trading days, to be calculated on February 28, 2017. The Amendment also deleted certain time-related deadlines from the License Agreement.
