Investments in funds involve risks. The fund may focus its investments in certain geographical regions, thereby increasing its vulnerability to developments in that region. Investing in foreign securities presents certain unique risks not associated with domestic investments, such as currency fluctuation and political and economic changes and market risks. This may result in greater share price volatility. Shares of closed-end funds frequently trade at a discount to net asset value. The price of the fund's shares is determined by a number of factors, several of which are beyond the control of the fund. Therefore, the fund cannot predict whether its shares will trade at, below or above net asset value.

This report is sent to the stockholders of The Korea Fund, Inc. for their information. It is not a prospectus, circular, or representation intended for use in the purchase or sale of shares of the fund or of any securities mentioned in the report.

Fund shares are not FDIC-insured and are not deposits or other obligations of, or guaranteed by, any bank. Fund shares involve investment risk, including possible loss of principal.

Portfolio Management Review

In the following interview, Portfolio Manager John Lee discusses The Korea Fund, Inc.'s strategy and the market environment during the six-month period ended December 31, 2003.

Q: How did Korea's stock market perform during the second half of the year?

A: Korean stocks delivered a strong return during the second half. As the recovery in global growth continued to pick up steam, investors became more aggressive and more willing to move cash into riskier areas of the financial markets, such as emerging-markets equities. The KOSPI closed the year at 810, representing a return of 21.01% for the six-month reporting period and 29.19% for the calendar year. This marked a substantial rally off of its low of 515, set on March 17.

Although Korea performed well, it lagged other Asian markets due to ongoing concern about corporate scandals, tension with North Korea and continued sluggishness in its consumer sector. We believe, however, that these problems are short-term in nature and that the fundamental underpinning of Korea's market remains strong.

Q: How did the fund perform?

A: For the six-month period ended December 31, 2003, the net asset value (NAV) total return of The Korea Fund was 20.82%. Its share price - quoted on the NYSE - returned 24.27% to close at $18.35 per share, representing a discount of 12.49% to NAV. This compares with a discount of 14.93% on June 30 and 16.36% one year ago.

Performance was helped by continued strength among the fund's holdings in small- and mid-cap stocks, where we continued to find a wealth of attractive opportunities. On the negative side, the fund's underweight position in Samsung Electronics was a detractor for both the six-month reporting period and the full calendar year. We are underweight in Samsung because the stock makes up almost 30% of the total Korean stock market. In order to manage risk and maintain appropriate diversification in the fund, we are compelled to underweight Samsung. At the times when the stock performs well, as it did during the second half of the year, the fund's relative performance will only partially reflect that strong showing.

Q: What is your current view on the economic and political backdrop in Korea?

A: Like the rest of the world, Korea experienced stronger economic growth in 2003 than in the previous year. This strength was largely export-driven, as all of Korea's most important trading partners - China, the United States and Japan - exhibited improving growth. China, in particular, has emerged as an important market for Korea's goods given its geographic proximity and the favorable relations between the two countries. For many Korean companies, it is now the largest market. Steel, automotive and specialty chemicals companies, in particular, have benefited. We expect that the trend of Korean companies capitalizing on China's growth is not a short-term phenomenon; this story should continue to play out over the next decade.

While the export picture remains strong, domestic consumption in Korea continued to struggle. Confidence in the recovery remained tenuous and while personal debt levels have stabilized somewhat, Korean consumers remain burdened with relatively high levels of debt. Our belief, however, is that continued growth will lead to a recovery in the consumer sector. And the outlook for growth is positive. Gross domestic product is expected to grow by 4% to 5% in 2004, and some economists are even expecting growth in the 6% to 7% range.

The political backdrop was not as favorable as the economic picture, and this was the primary reason why Korea underperformed other Asian markets in the second half of the year. First, elections are near, and the concern among investors is that the reform process will stall until the election is completed. Second, there have been many high-profile investigations and/or arrests of politicians and corporate officers. News on this front pressures stock prices in the short term. We believe there is a more positive aspect to these investigations, however, in that they demonstrate that reform is indeed taking place and that both the government and corporations are becoming more transparent. Third, investors have remained cautious due to the ongoing nuclear saber-rattling from North Korea. But as we have stated in the past, relations between the North and the South continue to improve, so we view any short-term market weakness that results from news out of North Korea as a potential buying opportunity.

Q: How is the portfolio positioned?

A: We continue to focus on the fastest-growing sectors in Korea. We are overweight in industries such as technology, telecommunications and financials. At the same time, we are underweight in traditional, slower-growth industries. We believe that this is the best way to capitalize on Korea's long-term potential.

We continue to build the fund's position in small- and mid-cap companies. Given that the large-cap sector is heavily followed by the global research community, it is easier to identify inefficiencies in an area of the market that does not receive as much attention as we believe it should. As a result, we are able to use our fundamental research capabilities and presence "on the ground" in Korea to find fast-growing companies at attractive valuations. Additionally, the closed-end structure of the fund allows us to seek opportunities in less liquid areas of the market, since we do not have to plan for shareholder redemptions. A small-cap company that performed particularly well for the fund was Internet Auction. (As of 12/31/03, the position in Internet Auction was sold.) In November, eBay - which previously owned 50% of Internet Auction - announced its intention to buy the remaining stake. This was a distinct positive for Internet Auction's stock price. Fund performance also was helped by our positions in S-Oil Corp. and SK Corp., two small oil refining companies; Korea Iron & Steel Co., Ltd., which is directly benefiting from China's growing need for raw materials; Oriental Fire & Marine Insurance Co.; and Korean Reinsurance Co. We are still adding to the fund's position in small- and mid-cap companies as we continue to find opportunities in this area.

Samsung Electronics Co., Ltd. and SK Telecom Co., Ltd. (SKT) remain two of the fund's largest holdings. Samsung produced a strong return during the second half of the year as its improving fundamentals attracted the attention of global investors. The company is gaining market share across all of its business lines as its brand image improves among consumers worldwide. Samsung has also been helped by the semiconductor cycle. As the lowest-cost maker of computer chips in the world, it has benefited as the global economic recovery has caused chip prices to rise. These positive changes have been reflected in the company's stock price. SKT, in contrast, was a laggard in 2003 as the consensus view was that the company's growth prospects are limited. However, it still has a dominant market share of 55%, and we do not foresee a meaningful decline from this level. We are also encouraged by the fact that the company is increasing its dividend and improving its corporate governance practices. As a result, we believe SKT represents a value at its current level.

Q: Do you think stocks in Korea represent an attractive value?

A: Yes, we believe that the market is attractively valued in relation both to other Asian markets and to its historical levels. The small-cap sector, in particular, offers a wealth of outstanding values when measured against small-cap stocks in other markets around the world. In our view, these valuation levels represent a disconnect relative to the positive developments that continue to take place in Korea. The country is on track for strong growth in 2004, corporate governance continues to improve, interest rates are low and dividend payouts continue to increase. Also, it is important not to underestimate the potential impact of the rise in Chinese demand expected in the coming decade. Looking beyond the underlying fundamentals to the market itself, we see two factors that could support demand for stocks. First, the ownership level of Korean stocks among Korean local investors is currently at a low level, meaning that there is room for meaningful upside. Second, Korea is introducing a retirement plan system similar to the 401(k) in the United States, meaning that Korean citizens will have another avenue through which they can participate in the stock market. Given this strong underpinning, we believe Korean stocks continue to represent an investment opportunity even after their 29% gain in 2003.

Q: What is the fund doing to address the discount at which its shares trade from net asset value?

A: Shares of the fund, like those of most closed-end investment companies, often trade at a discount from net asset value.

The fund's directors review this situation carefully. On January 21, 2004, the fund's board of directors authorized a tender for 10% of the fund's outstanding shares at 95% of net asset value, and announced a program for comparable repurchases of shares, each for 10% of the fund's outstanding shares at 95% of net asset value, in the first quarter of 2005 and the first quarter of 2006, in each case if the fund's shares traded at an average discount of 15% or more during a measuring period ending the preceding December 31.

The fund's investment objective is to seek long-term capital appreciation through investment in securities, primarily equity securities, of Korean companies. Over the years, the fund has achieved superior investment performance. The fund's manager believes that the fund's closed-end structure has helped the fund to achieve its strong historical record of investment performance. As a closed-end fund, for example, the fund has been able to invest in smaller and newer and less liquid companies that have performed well.

Before deciding upon the tender offer and the program announced on January 21, the fund's board considered not only the discount but also other relevant factors. Those factors included the fund's investment objective, the fund's investment performance, and the possible adverse effects several alternatives would have on portfolio management, on the fund's expense ratio, and on investment results for Fund shareholders. Actions such as self-tenders for a large percentage of the fund's shares or repeated sizable self-tenders continuing indefinitely would pose serious risks to shareholders who have bought fund shares for long-term capital appreciation through investment in Korean companies. Those risks include substantially higher expense ratios and jeopardy to investment results because of the need to maintain greater portfolio liquidity.

The fund believes its tender offer and program for future tender offers represent a carefully considered and balanced approach, consistent with the fund's investment objective and the interests of shareholders. The fund's board intends to keep close track of the discount and of ways to address it, together with the factors referred to earlier, so as to be able to assess what is in the best interest of the fund and its shareholders in the future, in light of market conditions and other circumstances at the time.

The fund's board and the fund's manager believe the tender offer and program announced by the fund on January 21 are significant steps to address the discount, without unduly affecting portfolio management and the fund's ability to deliver investment results to shareholders.

The views expressed in this report reflect those of the portfolio managers only through the end of the period of the report as stated on the cover, except for the last question and answer, which discusses a subsequent event, as described in the Notes to Financial Statements on page 33 of this report. The managers' views are subject to change at any time based on market and other conditions and should not be construed as a recommendation.

Share Repurchases

The Board of Directors of The Korea Fund, Inc. has authorized the fund to effect periodic repurchases of its shares in the open market from time to time when the fund's shares trade at a discount to their NAV. Subject to periodic review by the fund's Board of Directors, repurchases may be made at such time and in such amounts as the fund's Manager believes will further the achievement of the fund's objectives. Depending on market conditions, available funds, regulatory requirements and alternative investment opportunities, such repurchases are limited to (1) 5% of the shares outstanding at the beginning of the calendar year, plus (2) an estimate of shares to be issued in connection with the current calendar year's dividends, plus (3) the number of shares authorized for purchase in the previous calendar year that have not been purchased. In measuring the number of shares authorized for repurchase, the shares relating to the current calendar year's dividends are estimated at 50% of the number of shares issued in connection with the prior calendar year's dividends or until such time during the calendar year that the fund's Manager has a more accurate projection of the calendar year's dividends. Repurchases made based on this estimate shall continue to have been authorized, even if the actual dividend or related share issuance is lower. During the six-month period ended

December 31, 2003, there were 191,700 fund shares repurchased by the fund pursuant to the share repurchase plan as described above, representing 0.4% of the shares outstanding as of June 30, 2003.

Net Asset Value

The fund's NAV is published weekly on Monday and the fund's Market Value is published every weekday in The Wall Street Journal under the heading "Closed End Funds." The fund's NAV is also published in The New York Times and Barron's.

^c Amount is less than $.005 per share.

^d Total return based on net asset value reflects changes in the Fund's net asset value during the period. Total return based on market value reflects changes in market value. Each figure includes reinvestments of distributions. These figures will differ depending upon the level of any discount from or premium to net asset value at which the Fund's shares trade during the period.

^e The ratio for six months ended December 31, 2003 has not been annualized since the Fund believes it would not be appropriate because the Fund, which has a June 30 year-end, earns substantially less dividend income in the second half of its year than in the first half of each year.

Notes to Financial Statements

A. Significant Accounting Policies

The Korea Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act"), as a closed-end, non-diversified management investment company organized as a Maryland corporation.

The Fund's financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America which require the use of management estimates. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The policies described below are followed consistently by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuation. Investments are stated at value determined as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange on each day the exchange is open for trading. Equity securities are valued at the most recent sale price reported on the exchange (US or foreign) or over-the-counter market on which the security is traded most extensively. Securities for which no sales are reported are valued at the calculated mean between the most recent bid and asked quotations on the relevant market or, if a mean cannot be determined, at the most recent bid quotation. Debt securities are valued by independent pricing services approved by the Directors of the Fund. If the pricing services are unable to provide valuations, securities are valued at the most recent bid quotation or evaluated price, as applicable, obtained from one or more broker-dealers. Such services may use various pricing techniques which take into account appropriate factors such as yield, quality, coupon rate, maturity, type of issue, trading characteristics and other data, as well as broker quotes.

Money market instruments purchased with an original or remaining maturity of sixty days or less, maturing at par, are valued at amortized cost. Investments in open-end investment companies and Scudder Cash Management QP Trust are valued at their net asset value each business day.

Securities and other assets for which market quotations are not readily available or for which the above valuation procedures are deemed not to reflect fair value are valued in a manner that is intended to reflect fair value as determined in accordance with procedures approved by the Directors.

Foreign Currency Translations. The books and records of the Fund are maintained in US dollars. Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in a foreign currency are translated into US dollars at the prevailing exchange rates at period end. Purchases and sales of investment securities, income and expenses are translated into US dollars at the prevailing exchange rates on the respective dates of the transactions.

Net realized and unrealized gains and losses on foreign currency transactions represent net gains and losses between trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, the disposition of forward foreign currency exchange contracts and foreign currencies, and the difference between the amount of net investment income accrued and the US dollar amount actually received. That portion of both realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments that results from fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates is not separately disclosed but is included with net realized and unrealized gains and losses on investment securities.

At December 31, 2003, the exchange rate for Korean Won was US $.00084 to W 1.

Taxes. The Fund's policy is to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, which are applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its taxable income to its shareholders. Accordingly, the Fund paid no federal income taxes and no federal income tax provision was required.

At June 30, 2003, the Fund had a net tax basis capital loss carryforward of approximately $8,464,000 which may be applied against any realized net taxable capital gains of each succeeding year until fully utilized or until June 30, 2011, the expiration date.

In addition, from November 1, 2002 through June 30, 2003, the Fund incurred approximately $6,008,000 of net realized capital losses. As permitted by tax regulations, the Fund intends to elect to defer these losses and treat them as arising in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2004.

Edgar Filing: KOREA FUND INC - Form N-CSRS

Under the United States - Korea Income Tax Treaty (the "Treaty"), as presently in effect, the government of Korea imposes a nonrecoverable withholding tax and resident tax aggregating 16.5% on dividends and 13.2% on interest earned by the Fund from Korean issuers. Under the Treaty, there is no Korean withholding tax on realized capital gains.

Distribution of Income and Gains. Distributions of net investment income, if any, are made annually. Net realized gains from investment transactions, in excess of available capital loss carryforwards, would be taxable to the Fund if not distributed, and, therefore, will be distributed to shareholders at least annually.

The timing and characterization of certain income and capital gains distributions are determined annually in accordance with federal tax regulations which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences primarily relate to investments in passive foreign investment companies, foreign denominated securities and certain securities sold at a loss. As a result, net investment income (loss) and net realized gain (loss) on investment transactions for a reporting period may differ significantly from distributions during such period. Accordingly, the Fund may periodically make reclassifications among certain of its capital accounts without impacting the net asset value of the Fund.

At June 30, 2003, the Fund's components of distributable earnings (accumulated losses) on a tax basis were as follows:

Undistributed ordinary income*	$ 10,489,770
Undistributed net long-term capital gains	$ -
Capital loss carryforwards	$ (8,464,000)
Unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on investments	$ 362,108,803

* For tax purposes short-term capital gains distributions are considered ordinary income distributions.

In addition, the tax character of distributions paid to shareholders by the Fund is summarized as follows:

	Years Ended June 30,
	2003	2002
Distributions from ordinary income*	$ 10,785,723	$ -
Distributions from long-term capital gains	$ 31,708,028	$ 5,992,069

The tax character of current year distributions will be determined at the end of the current fiscal year.

Dividend Income. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date net of foreign withholding taxes. Korean-based corporations have generally adopted calendar year-ends, and their corporate actions are normally approved, finalized and announced by their boards of directors and shareholders in the first quarter of each calendar year. Generally, estimates of their dividends are made available during the prior December and have a late-December ex-dividend date. Accordingly, Fund management has evaluated the evolution of the estimation process and the impact of the December ex-dividend date activity and has determined that dividend estimates are to be recorded by the Fund on ex-dividend date; any subsequent adjustments thereto by Korean corporations are to be recorded when announced. Therefore, dividend income from Korean equity investments is earned primarily in the last calendar quarter of each year, and will be received primarily in the first calendar quarter of each year. Certain other dividends and related withholding taxes, if applicable, from Korean securities may be recorded subsequent to the ex-dividend date as soon as the Fund is informed of such dividends and taxes.

Other. Investment transactions are accounted for on a trade date plus one basis for daily net asset value calculations. However, for financial reporting purposes, investment transactions are reported on trade date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Realized gains and losses from investment transactions are recorded on an identified cost basis.

B. Purchases and Sales of Securities

During the six months ended December 31, 2003, purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term investments) aggregated $69,256,449 and $87,917,703, respectively.

C. Related Parties

Management Agreement. Under the Management Agreement with Deutsche Investment Management Americas Inc. ("DeIM" or the "Manager"), the Manager directs the investments of the Fund in accordance with its investment objectives, policies and restrictions. The Manager determines the securities, instruments and other contracts relating to investments to be purchased, sold or entered into by the Fund. In addition to portfolio management services, the Manager provides certain administrative services in accordance with the Management Agreement. The management fee payable monthly under the Agreement is equal to an annual rate of 1.15% of the first $50,000,000 of the Fund's month-end net assets, 1.10% of the next $50,000,000 of such net assets, 1% of the next $250,000,000 of such net assets, 0.95% of the next $400,000,000 of such net assets, 0.90% of the next $300,000,000 of such net assets, and 0.85% of such net assets in excess of $1,050,000,000 of the Fund's month-end net assets. Deutsche Investment Trust Management Company Limited ("DeITMC") serves as subadvisor to the Fund. DeITMC renders investment advisory and management services with regard to the Fund's portfolio. From time to time, DeITMC makes specific investment recommendations, which then are evaluated by DeIM's portfolio managers in light of their own expertise and information from other sources in making investment decisions for the Fund. The market value of Hankang Restructuring Fund, which is managed by the Manager, has been excluded from the net assets used to calculate the management fee. For the six months ended December 31, 2003, the Manager did not impose a portion of its fee amounting to $11,675, and the portion imposed amounted to $4,761,268 which was equivalent to an annualized effective rate of 0.96% of the Fund's average month-end net assets.

Service Provider Fees.

Scudder Investments Service Company ("SISC"), an affiliate of the Manager, is the transfer, dividend-paying and shareholder service agent for the Fund. Pursuant to a sub-transfer agency agreement between SISC and DST Systems, Inc. ("DST"), SISC has delegated certain transfer agent and dividend-paying agent functions to DST. SISC compensates DST out of the shareholder servicing fee it receives from the Fund. For the six months ended December 31, 2003, the amount charged to the Fund by SISC aggregated $8,100, of which $5,400 is unpaid at December 31, 2003.

Scudder Service Corporation ("SSC"), a subsidiary of the Manager, is the shareholder communications agent of the Fund. For the six months ended December 31, 2003, the amount charged to the Fund by SSC aggregated $7,500, all of which is unpaid at December 31, 2003.

Scudder Fund Accounting Corporation ("SFAC"), also a subsidiary of the Manager, is responsible for determining the daily net asset value per share and maintaining the portfolio and general accounting records of the Fund. Pursuant to a sub-accounting agreement between SFAC and State Street Bank and Trust Company ("SSB"), SFAC has delegated all accounting functions to SSB. SFAC compensates SSB out of the accounting fee it receives from the Fund. For the six months ended December 31, 2003, the amount charged to the Fund by SFAC aggregated $195,740, of which $26,948 is unpaid at December 31, 2003.

Directors' Fees and Expenses. The Fund pays each Director not affiliated with the Manager retainer fees plus specified amounts for attended board and committee meetings.

Scudder Cash Management QP Trust. Pursuant to an Exemptive Order issued by the SEC, the Fund may invest in the Scudder Cash Management QP Trust (the "QP Trust") and other affiliated funds managed by the Manager. The QP Trust seeks to provide as high a level of current income as is consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity. The QP Trust does not pay the Manager a management fee for the affiliated funds' investments in the QP Trust.

D. Foreign Investment and Exchange Controls in Korea

The Foreign Exchange Transaction Act, the Presidential Decree relating to such Act and the regulations of the Minister of Finance and Economy issued thereunder impose certain limitations and controls which generally affect foreign investors in Korea. The Fund has obtained from the Minister of Finance and Economy a license to invest in Korean securities and to repatriate income received from dividends and interest earned on, and net realized capital gain from, its investments in Korean securities or to repatriate from investment principal up to 10% of the net asset value (taken at current value) of the Fund (except upon termination of the Fund, or for expenses in excess of Fund income, in which case the foregoing restriction shall not apply). The Minister of Finance and Economy may, when it deems it to be in the public interest, modify the Fund's license to invest in Korean securities or, according to the terms of the license, revoke it in the event of the Fund's noncompliance with conditions of the license or a material violation of Korean law. The Minister of Finance and Economy may issue orders when it deems that transactions cannot be normally concluded due to natural disaster, warfare, uprising, sudden change in economic conditions, or other incidents similar thereto, or order the temporary closing of the securities market or take other necessary measures. Under the Foreign Exchange Transaction Act, the Minister of Finance and Economy has the power, with prior public notice of scope and duration, to suspend all or a part of foreign exchange transactions when emergency measures are deemed necessary in case of radical change in the international or domestic economic situation. The Fund could be adversely affected by delays in, or the refusal to grant, any required governmental approval for such transactions.

Currently there are certain restrictions with respect to investing in equity securities of certain designated public corporations and telecommunication corporations listed on the Korea Stock Exchange. As of December 31, 2003, four of the Fund's holdings had an ownership limit still in place, LG Home Shopping, Inc., SK Telecom Co. Ltd. and Qrix Networks, Inc., all of which had a foreign ownership limit of 49% and Korea Electric Power Corp. which had a foreign ownership limit of 40%.

E. Investing in the Korean Market

Investing in the Korean market may involve special risks and considerations not typically associated with investing in the United States of America. These risks include revaluation of currency, high rates of inflation, Korean taxes, repatriation restrictions on income and capital, corporate bankruptcy and future adverse political, social and economic developments. Moreover, securities issued in this market may be less liquid, subject to government ownership controls, delayed settlements and their prices more volatile than those of comparable securities in the United States of America.

F. Ownership of the Fund

At December 31, 2003, The President and Fellows of Harvard College held approximately 24% of the outstanding shares of the Fund.

G. Line of Credit

The Fund and several other affiliated funds (the "Participants") share in a $1.25 billion revolving credit facility administered by J.P. Morgan Chase Bank for temporary or emergency purposes that otherwise might require the untimely disposition of securities. The Participants are charged an annual commitment fee which is allocated, pro rata based upon net assets, among each of the Participants. Interest is calculated at the Federal Funds Rate plus 0.5 percent. The Fund may borrow up to a maximum of 5 percent of its net assets under the agreement.

H. Transactions in Securities of Affiliated Issuers

An affiliated issuer is a company in which the Fund has ownership of at least 5% of the voting securities. A summary of the Fund's transactions during the six months ended December 31, 2003 with companies which are or were affiliates is as follows:

Affiliate	Common/Preferred Shares	Purchases Cost ($)	Sales Cost ($)	Realized Gain/ (Loss) ($)	Dividend Income ($)*	Value ($)
Anycell, Inc.	1,250,000	-	-	-	-	-

I. Common Stock

Shares issued in fiscal 2002 for the Dividend Reinvestment Plan were reacquired in the open market and retired in fiscal 2003.

J. Share Repurchases

The Fund has a share repurchase plan to effect periodic repurchases of its shares in the open market from time to time when the Fund's shares trade at a discount to their net asset value per share. During the six months ended December 31, 2003 and the year ended June 30, 2003, the Fund purchased 191,700 and 70,300 shares of common stock on the open market at a total cost of $3,183,146 and $912,981, respectively. The average discount of these purchases, comparing the purchase price to the net asset value at the time of purchase, was 16.0% and 16.0%, respectively. These shares are held in treasury.

K. Subsequent Event

On January 21, 2004, the Fund's Board of Directors approved a tender offer for up to 10% of its outstanding shares of common stock for cash, at a price per share equal to 95% of the net asset value on the business day after the day on which the offer expires. The tender offer commenced on January 23, 2004 and remained open through February 23, 2004. The tender offer was fully subscribed for the maximum limit of 10% of Fund shares outstanding.

The Board also had approved a program of making additional repurchase offers, one in the first quarter of 2005 and one in the first quarter of 2006. Each additional repurchase offer would be for 10% of the Fund's shares, would be at a price of 95% of net asset value at the close of business on the day after the offer expires, and would be made, subject to fiduciary and other applicable requirements, if the Fund's shares traded on the New York Stock Exchange at an average weekly discount from net asset value greater than 15% during a 13-week measuring period ending the preceding December 31. The Fund might at its option pay for shares repurchased in these additional offers with portfolio securities rather than cash, depending in part on whether the Fund is able to obtain an appropriate ruling from the Internal Revenue Service.

Report of Independent Auditors

To the Board of Directors and the Shareholders of The Korea Fund, Inc.:

In our opinion, the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities, including the investment portfolio, and the related statements of operations and of changes in net assets and the financial highlights present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Korea Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") at December 31, 2003, and the results of its operations, the changes in its net assets and the financial highlights for each of the periods indicated therein, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements and financial highlights (hereafter referred to as "financial statements") are the responsibility of the Fund's management; our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, which require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits, which included confirmation of securities at December 31, 2003 by correspondence with the custodian and brokers, provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Dividend Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan

The Plan

The fund's Dividend Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan (the "Plan") offers you an automatic way to reinvest your dividends and capital gains distributions in shares of the fund. The Plan also provides for cash investments in fund shares of $100 to $3,000 semiannually through Scudder Investments Service Company or its delegate (the "Transfer Agent") and UMB Bank, N.A. (the "Plan Agent"). The Transfer Agent provides record keeping services for participants in the Plan. If you would like a copy of the Plan, please call the Transfer Agent at 1-800-294-4366.

Automatic Participation

Each stockholder of record is automatically a participant in the Plan unless the stockholder has instructed the Transfer Agent in writing otherwise. Such a notice must be received by the Transfer Agent not less than 10 days prior to the record date for a dividend or distribution in order to be effective with respect to that dividend or distribution. A notice which is not received by that time will be effective only with respect to subsequent dividends and distributions.

Stockholders who do not participate in the Plan will receive all distributions in cash paid by check in dollars mailed directly to the stockholder by the Transfer Agent, as dividend paying agent.

Shares Held by a Nominee

If your shares are held in the name of a brokerage firm, bank, or other nominee as the stockholder of record, please consult your nominee (or any successor nominee) to determine whether it is participating in the Plan on your behalf. Many nominees are generally authorized to receive cash dividends unless they are specifically instructed by a client to reinvest. If you would like your nominee to participate in the Plan on your behalf, you should give your nominee instructions to that effect as soon as possible.

Pricing of Dividends and Distributions

If the market price per share on the payment date for the dividend or distribution (the "Valuation Date") equals or exceeds net asset value per share on that date, the fund will issue (i) shares of the fund's common stock that are issued but not outstanding ("Treasury Stock") to the extent shares of Treasury Stock are available, and then (ii) to the extent shares of Treasury Stock are not available, newly issued shares of the fund's common stock to participants at the greater of the following on the Valuation Date: (a) net asset value or (b) 95% of the market price. The Valuation Date will be the dividend or distribution payment date or, if that date is not a New York Stock Exchange trading date, the next preceding trading date. If the net asset value exceeds the market price of fund shares at such time, the Plan Agent will use the dividend or distribution (less each participant's pro rata share of brokerage commissions) to buy fund shares in the open market for the participants' account. Such purchases will be made on or shortly after the payment date for such dividend or distribution, and in no event more than 45 days after such date except where temporary curtailment or suspension of purchase is necessary to comply with federal securities law. In either case, for Federal income tax purposes, the stockholder receives a distribution equal to the market value on the Valuation Date of new shares issued. State and local taxes may also apply. If the fund should declare an income dividend or net capital gains distribution payable only in cash, the Plan Agent will, as agent for the participants, buy fund shares in the open market, on the New York Stock Exchange or elsewhere, for the participants' account on, or shortly after, the payment date.

Voluntary Cash Purchases

Participants in the Plan have the option of making additional cash payments to the Transfer Agent, semiannually, in any amount from $100 to $3,000, for investment in the fund's shares. The Plan Agent will use all such monies received from participants to purchase fund shares in the open market on or about February 15 and August 15. Any voluntary cash payments received more than 30 days prior to these dates will be returned by the Transfer Agent, and interest will not be paid on any uninvested cash payments. To avoid unnecessary cash accumulations, and also to allow ample time for receipt and processing by the Transfer Agent, it is suggested that participants send in voluntary cash payments to be received by the Transfer Agent approximately ten days before February 15, or August 15, as the case may be. A participant may withdraw a voluntary cash payment by written notice, if the notice is received by the Transfer Agent not less than 48 hours before such payment is to be invested.

Participant Plan Accounts

The Transfer Agent maintains all participant accounts in the Plan and furnishes written confirmation of all transactions in the account, including information needed by participants for personal and tax records. Shares in the account of each plan participant will be held by the Transfer Agent in non-certificated form in the name of the participant, and each participant will be able to vote those shares purchased pursuant to the Plan at a stockholder meeting or by proxy.

No Service Fee to Reinvest

There is no service fee charged to participants for reinvesting dividends or distributions from net realized capital gains. The Plan Agent's and/or Transfer Agent's fees for the handling of the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions will be paid by the fund. There will be no brokerage commissions with respect to shares issued directly by the fund as a result of dividends or capital gains distributions payable either in stock or in cash. However, participants will pay a pro rata share of brokerage commissions incurred with respect to the Plan Agent's open market purchases in connection with the reinvestment of any dividends or capital gains distributions.

Costs for Cash Purchases

With respect to purchases of fund shares from voluntary cash payments, each participant will be charged $0.75 for each such purchase. Each participant will pay a pro rata share of brokerage commissions incurred with respect to the Plan Agent's open market purchases of fund shares in connection with voluntary cash payments made by the participant.

Brokerage charges for purchasing small amounts of stock for individual accounts through the Plan are expected to be less than the usual brokerage charges for such transactions, because the Plan Agent will be purchasing stock for all participants in blocks and pro-rating the lower commission thus attainable.

Amendment or Termination

The fund reserves the right to terminate the Plan. Notice of the termination will be sent to the participants of the Plan at least 30 days before the record date for a dividend or distribution. The Plan also may be amended by the fund, but (except when necessary or appropriate to comply with applicable law, rules or policies of a regulatory authority) only by giving at least 30 days' written notice to participants in the Plan.

A participant may terminate his account under the Plan by written notice to the Transfer Agent. If the written notice is received 10 days before the record day of any distribution, it will be effective immediately. If received after that date, it will be effective as soon as possible after the reinvestment of the dividend or distribution.

If a participant elects to sell his shares before the Plan is terminated, the Plan Agent will deduct a $2.50 fee plus brokerage commissions from the sale transaction.

Transfer Agent Address and Telephone Number

You may obtain more detailed information by requesting a copy of the Plan from the Transfer Agent.
