EARNINGS Q&A

REVENUES:

Q: ARE EV-DO SALES CONSIDERED APPLICATIONS SALES?

A: EV-DO sales are considered mobility product sales, not application revenues.

Q: CAN YOU COMMENT ON THE EXPECTED TIMING OF REVA AVAILABILITY?

A: EV-DO RevA will enable VoIP and Push-To-Talk, multimedia applications, blending of VoIP with other applications and services, and increase network capacity. We expect RevA to be available late in '06.

Q: HAVE YOU NOW BEGUN RECOGNIZING REVENUE FROM THE CINGULAR?

A: We do not call out revenues by individual customer, contract or product. However, I can tell you we did book revenues for the Cingular contract in Q106.

Q: WHEN YOU MENTION WEAKNESS IN CHINA, CAN YOU PROVIDE SOME SENSE OF WHETHER YOU ARE PUSHING OUT YOUR ASSUMPTIONS ON THE TIMING OF CHINESE 3G LICENSE AWARDS?

A: I would not speculate on the timing of the 3G license awards in China.

IMS:

Q: AS IMS AND APPLICATIONS REVENUES GROW BEYOND FY06, WHAT IS THE EXPECTED IMPACT ON GROSS MARGIN AND OPERATING EXPENSES?

A: We believe we will start to see a ramp of revenues associated with the IMS contracts in FY07. While I would not comment on the gross margins associated with our IMS portfolio of products, nor the associated operating expenses, I will tell you that we are very comfortable with the aggregate margin of the IMS portfolio when you look at the entire mix (hardware, software etc...) and we believe that we will be able to maintain the overall margin guidance we've provided as IMS revenues start to ramp.

Q: HOW MANY IMS CONTRACTS AND TRIALS HAVE YOU ANNOUNCED TO DATE?

A: To date, we have announced 8 customers for our IMS portfolio. As a result of our success in converting IMS trials to deployments, in addition to these publicly announced wins, we now have 77 trials ongoing for our IMS-based network elements with 16 fixed, mobile and converged customers, including six new trials for session managers.

Q: HAS VERIZON ALREADY SIGNED UP FOR IMS WITH LUCENT OR ARE YOU SOLELY IN TRIALS?

Edgar Filing: LUCENT TECHNOLOGIES INC - Form DEFA14A

A: Verizon is currently conducting an extensive trial of a wide range of elements from our IMS solution, including our Session Manager, Active PhoneBook, MiLife SurePay Solutions Suite, Feature Server, Network Gateway and VitalSuite Network Performance Management Software. We consider this to be a very important opportunity.

Q: CAN YOU GIVE US AN IDEA OF THE SIZE OF ONE OF THESE IMS CONTRACTS?

A: We would characterize today's IMS contracts as smaller opportunities. They are tens of millions; they're not big, multi-hundred million dollar contracts. We do, however, feel that the big contracts are to come. The evolution of IMS is very consistent with what we've seen in new introductions of this magnitude in the past, where the contracts initially are smaller, and then get bigger as the technology evolves.

When you think about IMS contracts, there are of course the hardware and software elements as well as the whole integration services opportunity set. This latter aspect of IMS is much larger than our traditional service opportunity associated with any hardware sales. So, it's a very different construct of opportunity for us - you can't just look at the hardware and software components of an IMS build. As IMS networks evolve and as the services get proved in, we will see not only the hardware and software opportunity, but also a large services opportunity with it.

"BUDGET FLUSH":

Q: CAN YOU PROVIDE SOME COLOR BEHIND YOUR COMMENTS REGARDING THE LACK OF BUDGET FLUSH DURING THE DECEMBER QUARTER?

A: Unfortunately, there isn't a simple answer - you'd have to almost go customer-by-customer. In the past, we have seen some capital flush roll through at the end of the calendar year. In this particular quarter we didn't see that and in fact, in a number of cases, we actually saw a pullback very late in the quarter.

Q: WAS THE Q106 REVENUE DECLINE A RESULT OF A REVENUE RECOGNITION ISSUES WITH PERCENT OF COMPLETION CONTRACTS? DID IT HAVE TO DO WITH LOST SHARE OR LOST OPPORTUNITY THAT YOU EXPECT TO MAKE UP GOING FORWARD IN NEW OPPORTUNITIES?

A: As recently as December 14th when we filed our 10K, we clearly were anticipating a higher Q106 revenue number. However, please recall that most of our revenue is recorded in the last month of a quarter and then most of that revenue is recorded in the last two weeks of that month. So clearly, the revenue we recorded in the last month and the last two weeks was lower than we expected.

The drop in revenue was driven by the fact that we didn't see some of the calendar year-end spend from our customers that we've seen in the past. In fact, in certain instances, we actually saw a pullback. From our perspective, once you don't see that end-of-calendar year spend, those CapEx dollars are gone. We're now focusing on the new calendar year's CapEx budgets.

Q: WERE YOUR "LACK OF BUDGET FLUSH" COMMENTS U.S.-SPECIFIC OR MORE GLOBAL IN NATURE?

A: We really didn't see any budget flush anywhere. While we have greater visibility in the US, we didn't see anything dramatically different in non-US markets than we saw in the U.S.

Q: DO YOU THINK THE LACK OF A BUDGET FLUSH THIS QUARTER IMPLIES ANYTHING FOR '06 SERVICE PROVIDER CAPEX TARGETS?

A: I wouldn't take our experience last quarter with regards to the lack of budget flush as an indicator of what service provider capital plans will look like in '06.

OTHER:

Q: CAN YOU DISCUSS PRICING IN INDIA AND WHETHER OR NOT WE WILL SEE ANY BETTER PRICING OR MARGIN PERFORMANCE IN THAT MARKET?

A: We continue to see the pricing environment in India as extremely challenging. We're clearly competing in that market and trying to win business; but we're trying to win it "the right way". We're not going to sign business with big contract losses. We have not, and will not, engage those kinds of contracts because, while it can have a positive impact on revenue, it would have an adverse impact on profitability and cash flow and our bias is toward profitability and cash flow. So where there's really difficult pricing that would negatively impact our financial performance from a profitability and cash perspective, we are walking away from business.

Q: IS YOUR NEW MULTIMEDIA ACCESS PLATFORM COMMERCIALY AVAILABLE TODAY? IF SO, HOW MANY IPTV TRIALS ARE YOU IN?

A: We expect to do some trialing and controlled introduction of MMAP in the second half of fiscal year 2006 with general availability early in fiscal year '07.

We are also participating in some areas, especially in Latin America, as the network integrator for IPTV rollouts, so we continue to see good opportunities there. We have some unannounced trials underway for our IPTV solution in North America and in the Caribbean/Latin American region.

Q: CAN YOU TALK ABOUT THE NUMBER OF UMTS TRIALS THAT YOU HAVE ONGOING OR HOW MANY UMTS OPPORTUNITIES YOU SEE THIS YEAR?

A: Right now, we are working opportunities in several places. In addition to China Netcom and eAccess in Japan, we are also conducting trials in other places in Asia as well as Western and Eastern Europe.
