PROPOSAL NO. 1

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Our interests are aligned with yours

We believe that the election proposal and approval of the stockholder proposal described herein represent the best means for Tri-Continental's stockholders to maximize the value of their Shares. Western Investment and the other participants, as one of the largest groups of stockholders of Tri-Continental, shares your interest in the maximization of the value of the Shares. Our interests are aligned with the interests of all stockholders. Western Investment believes that the Nominees together have extensive experience in private and public investment, corporate governance and business management and a history of outstanding investment records and, if elected, the Nominees will work to influence the Tri-Continental Board to take all actions necessary to maximize the value of your Shares.

Tri-Continental's stock has underperformed the market on a long-term basis

A comparison of Tri-Continental's net asset value (NAV) performance measured against the Standard & Poors 500 (the S&P 500) index makes for unhappy reading for Tri-Continental stockholders. The table below measures Tri-Continental's annual NAV performance against the S&P 500 index since 1994 (assuming a $100 investment on December 31, 1994).

[CHART --

A HISTORY OF UNDERPERFORMANCE]

[The chart plots the relative performance of two notional $100 investments on December 31, 1994: one $100 invested in the S&P 500 index and the other $100 invested in Tri-Continental (with reinvestment of capital gains & dividends) with an initial $100 net asset value. The chart has a vertical axis and a horizontal axis. The chart contains the data points contained in the table below.]

December 31	Tri-Continental NAV	S&P 500 Index
1994	$100.00	$100.00
1995	$130.80	$137.58
1996	$158.86	$169.17
1997	$201.19	$225.60
1998	$253.10	$290.08
1999	$280.11	$351.11
2000	$256.88	$319.16
2001	$230.68	$281.21
2002	$169.90	$219.07
2003	$213.80	$281.92
2004	$242.36	$312.59
2005	$248.81	$327.94

Tri-Continental's NAV return has underperformed the S&P 500 index in eight of the last eleven years. Since 1994, the S&P 500 index has appreciated approximately 228% while an investment in Tri-Continental has only increased approximately 149%.

The table below shows the annual percentage amount since 1995 by which Tri-Continental's NAV return either fell short of the S&P 500 index return (negative return in parenthesis) or exceeded the S&P 500 index return.

Percentage Amount by which the Tri-Continental NAV Return fell short or exceeded the S&P 500 Index Return as of December 31,

1995	1996	1997	1998	1999	2000	2001	2002	2003	2004	2005
(6.78%)	(1.51%)	(6.71%)	(2.78%)	(10.37%)	0.81%	1.69%	(4.25%)	(2.85%)	2.48%	(2.25%)

We find it troubling that for each year other than 2000, 2001 and 2004, Tri-Continental's NAV return has underperformed the S&P 500 index. Western Investment is particularly troubled that the active management of the Company's manager, J. & W. Seligman & Co. Incorporated (Seligman), has produced such inferior NAV returns to those available by investment in the S&P 500 index which requires little, if any, management.

The investment strategy used by the Company since 1995 has failed to meet its stated goals of selecting investments that offered the best opportunities for good long-term growth. Using the S&P 500 index as a benchmark, Tri-Continental investors have not experienced the level of capital appreciation and long-term future growth that the 1995 change in strategy heralded. One would have thought that, faced with such returns, Tri-Continental would have reevaluated its investment strategy and adopted strategies that might at least offer a return comparable to that offered by the S&P 500 index. Instead, it seems that Tri-Continental's management is unconcerned by the very disappointing returns offered to Tri-Continental stockholders as it has not indicated any intent to take the sort of long overdue vigorous steps that are required to improve its portfolio's performance.

Management's investment policies have resulted in a persistent double-digit NAV discount

Tri-Continental's investment policies have resulted in the Tri-Continental share price trading at a persistent double-digit discount to the per share net asset value (the NAV discount). The NAV discount is the amount by which the Company's per share market price is less than the per share NAV, expressed as a percentage of the NAV. The scale of the NAV discount, at least 14% each year since 1995, offers an objective verdict of investors' confidence in the ability of the Company's current management. While a NAV discount could be due to factors unrelated to management's investment policies and judgment, the persistence of a double-digit NAV discount for such a sustained period leads one to conclude that the NAV discount is directly attributable to the market's view of the Company's management and management's inability or unwillingness to realize returns commensurate with the value of assets under its management. Western Investment firmly believes that Company stockholders will continue to be denied the full value of their investment so long as the Tri-Continental Board grants management the freedom to pursue its current policies.

The table below shows the discount of the Company's year-end stock price to the Company's year-end NAV since 1995.

December 31	NAV Discount
1995	-18%
1996	-18%
1997	-17%
1998	-16%
1999	-15%
2000	-18%
2001	-14%
2002	-16%
2003	-16%
2004	-16%
2005	-16%

The persistence and scale of the NAV discount is especially damaging to those long-term Tri-Continental stockholders who may need to cash out their Tri-Continental investment in order to meet their retirement living needs. A survey of stockholders in the Company's annual report for the year ended December 31, 2004 reported that over 75% of the stockholders surveyed were aged 65 or older. Company stockholders who are seniors may wish to realize their Tri-Continental investment in the near term. However, the presence of a steep NAV discount means that these stockholders cannot receive the full value of their investment. Tri-Continental should be managed with the best interests of its stockholders in mind, including the interests of its large senior investor base.

All of the current members of Tri-Continental Board hold positions with Tri-Continental's investment manager

Despite the less than stellar returns, Tri-Continental has continued to retain Seligman to manage its assets and has continued to pay to Seligman a monthly fee calculated as a percentage of the Company's daily net assets managed by Seligman. All nine current members of the Tri-Continental Board, including the three incumbent directors whose terms expire on the date of the annual meeting, also hold director or trustee positions with 24 other Seligman-affiliated funds, and received fees or salaries for such service. We believe the directors' positions with Seligman presents a serious conflict of interest.

Perhaps these conflicts of interest can explain why the current Tri-Continental Board has not been sufficiently demanding or critical of the performance of Seligman in its management of Tri-Continental's portfolio of assets. We do not understand why the Tri-Continental Board allows Seligman to collect its Tri-Continental management fee based on the value of assets under its management and not by some other more significant benchmarks, such as the elimination of the NAV discount and the generation of superior investment returns. We are concerned that the Tri-Continental Board does not have the necessary motivation to enact the sort of aggressive measures necessary to unlock the value trapped by the NAV discount. We are particularly concerned that the fund managers for Tri-Continental have been replaced an unbelievable four times in the past 10 years.

Tri-Continental should immediately undertake specific measures to reduce or close the NAV discount

For years, the NAV discount has denied Tri-Continental investors the full value of their investment. Tri-Continental's current management has shown no inclination to take the sort of simple actions that would likely reduce or close the NAV discount. Western Investment urges Tri-Continental to immediately take one or more of the following actions to reduce or close the NAV discount:

convert Tri-Continental to an open-ended mutual fund;

adopt a plan of dissolution and liquidation and distribute Tri-Continental's net assets to its stockholders; or institute significant share buybacks or self-tender offers in cases where Tri-Continental's stock is trading at a 5% NAV discount or greater.

To date, current Tri-Continental management has not undertaken any of the above actions. The limited buybacks that Tri-Continental has had in place since November 1998, approximately 5% per year, have clearly not been effective in closing the NAV discount. The lack of determined action on the part of Tri-Continental's current management causes one to conclude that Tri-Continental's management is unconcerned with the persistently poor returns on investments in Tri-Continental and that maximizing stockholder value is not their foremost concern.

PROPOSAL NO. 2

TRI-CONTINENTAL PROPOSAL TO RATIFY SELECTION OF COMPANY AUDITORS

As discussed in further detail in the Company's proxy statement, prior to the annual meeting, the Audit Committee of the Tri-Continental Board selected Deloitte & Touche LLP, the independent registered public accounting firm, to audit the financial statements of the Company for the year ending December 31, 2006. Tri-Continental is asking stockholders to ratify the selection of Deloitte & Touche LLP as auditors of the Company for 2006.

Western Investment does not object to the auditor selection proposal.

PROPOSAL NO. 3

STOCKHOLDER PROPOSAL FOR COMPANY TO ADOPT CUMULATIVE VOTING IN THE ELECTION OF THE COMPANY'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS

In the Company's proxy statement, Tri-Continental disclosed that a Tri-Continental stockholder, which it did not name, submitted a proposal for inclusion in the Company's proxy statement at the annual meeting. This stockholder proposal requests that the Tri-Continental Board take the necessary steps to provide for cumulative voting in the election of the Company's board of directors. Western Investment recommends that all stockholders read this proposal and its supporting arguments carefully. Western Investment supports the cumulative voting proposal.

Western Investment is not affiliated with this proposing stockholder and is acting alone, and not in concert with this proposing stockholder, in its solicitation of stockholders to vote for the cumulative voting proposal.

YOU ARE URGED TO VOTE FOR THE CUMULATIVE VOTING PROPOSAL, RECOMMENDING THAT THE TRI-CONTINENTAL BOARD TAKE THE NECESSARY STEPS TO PROVIDE FOR CUMULATIVE VOTING IN THE ELECTION OF THE COMPANY'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS, ON THE ENCLOSED GOLD PROXY CARDS.

Stockholders of record on the record date will retain their voting rights in connection with the annual meeting even if they sell such Shares after the record date. Election of Directors. The Company's amended and restated bylaws require each director to be elected by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the Shares.

Auditor Selection Proposal. Neither the Company's amended and restated charter nor its amended and restated bylaws require that the Company's stockholders ratify the selection of Deloitte & Touche LLP as the Company's auditors. The Company's proxy statement states that the Tri-Continental Board is submitting this matter to the Tri-Continental stockholders as a matter of good corporate practice. The vote required is the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast at the annual meeting.

Cumulative Voting Proposal. The cumulative voting proposal will not be adopted unless the votes cast in its favor exceed the votes cast against it. The Company's proxy statement states that the adoption of the cumulative voting proposal would not in and of itself result in any action, but would simply amount to a request for action by the Tri-Continental Board and that in order to implement the proposal, the Tri-Continental Board would need to approve an amendment to the Company's charter providing for cumulative voting and the amendment would then have to be submitted to the Company's stockholders for approval by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of all outstanding shares of the Company.

ABSTENTIONS

Abstentions will be counted for the purpose of determining whether a quorum is present. Abstentions will not be counted as votes cast on any proposal set forth in this proxy statement. Accordingly, abstentions will have the effect of a vote against the election proposal and will have no effect on the results of the auditor selection proposal and the cumulative voting proposal.

REVOCAION OF PROXIES

Stockholders of Tri-Continental may revoke their proxies at any time prior to exercise by attending the annual meeting and voting in person (although attendance at the annual meeting will not in and of itself constitute revocation of a proxy) or by delivering a written notice of revocation. The delivery of a subsequently dated proxy which is properly completed will constitute a revocation of any earlier proxy. The revocation may be delivered either to Western Investment in care of Innisfree M&A Incorporated at the address set forth on the back cover of this proxy statement or to Tri-Continental at 100 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10017 or any other address provided by Tri-Continental. Although a revocation is effective if delivered to Tri-Continental, Western Investment requests that either the original or photostatic copies of all revocations be mailed to Western Investment in care of Innisfree M&A Incorporated at the address set forth on the back cover of this proxy statement so that Western Investment will be aware of all revocations and can more accurately determine if and when proxies have been received from the holders of record on the record date of a majority of the outstanding Shares. Additionally, Innisfree M&A Incorporated may use this information to contact stockholders who have revoked their proxies in order to solicit later dated proxies for the election of the Nominees and approval of the other proposals described herein.

IF YOU WISH TO VOTE FOR THE ELECTION OF THE NOMINEES TO THE TRI-CONTINENTAL BOARD OR FOR THE OTHER PROPOSALS DESCRIBED IN THIS PROXY STATEMENT, PLEASE SIGN, DATE AND RETURN PROMPTLY THE ENCLOSED COMMON STOCK GOLD PROXY CARD, IF YOU OWN COMMON STOCK, AND THE ENCLOSED PREFERRED STOCK GOLD PROXY CARD, IF YOU OWN PREFERRED STOCK, IN THE POSTAGE-PAID ENVELOPE PROVIDED.
