Deutsche Bank AG
$ Capped Knock-Out Notes Linked to the S&P 500® Index due August 12*, 2015

General

- The notes are designed for investors who seek a return at maturity linked to the performance of the S&P 500® Index (the "Underlying"). A Knock-Out Event will occur if the closing level of the Underlying is less than the Knock-Out Level (83.20% of the Initial Level) on any day during the Monitoring Period. If a Knock-Out Event has not occurred and the Final Level is greater than or equal to the Initial Level, for each $1,000 Face Amount of notes, investors will be entitled to receive at maturity the Face Amount of notes plus a return on the Face Amount equal to the Underlying Return, subject to the Maximum Return of 15.00%. If a Knock-Out Event has not occurred and the Final Level is less than the Initial Level, for each $1,000 Face Amount of notes, investors will be entitled to receive at maturity the Face Amount. However, if a Knock-Out Event has occurred, investors will be entitled to receive at maturity a return on their investment that reflects the Underlying Return, whether positive or negative, subject to the Maximum Return. If a Knock-Out Event occurs and the Underlying Return is negative, for each $1,000 Face Amount of notes, investors will lose 1.00% of the Face Amount for every 1.00% by which the Final Level is less than the Initial Level. The notes do not pay any coupons and investors should be willing to lose some or all of their initial investment if a Knock-Out Event occurs and the Final Level is less than the Initial Level. Any payment on the notes is subject to the credit of the Issuer.
- Senior unsecured obligations of Deutsche Bank AG maturing August 12*, 2015†.
- Minimum purchase of $10,000. Minimum denominations of $1,000 (the "Face Amount") and integral multiples thereof.
- The notes are expected to price on or about July 25*, 2014 (the "Trade Date") and are expected to settle on or about July 30*, 2014 (the "Settlement Date").

Issuer's Estimated Value of the Notes

The Issuer's estimated value of the notes is equal to the sum of our valuations of the following two components of the notes: (i) a bond and (ii) an embedded derivative(s). The value of the bond component of the notes is calculated based on the present value of the stream of cash payments associated with a conventional bond with a principal amount equal to the Face Amount of notes, discounted at an internal funding rate, which is determined primarily based on our market-based yield curve, adjusted to account for our funding needs and objectives for the period matching the term of the notes. The internal funding rate is typically lower than the rate we would pay when we issue conventional debt securities on equivalent terms. This difference in funding rate, as well as the agent's commissions, if any, and the estimated cost of hedging our obligations under the notes, reduces the economic terms of the notes to you and is expected to adversely affect the price at which you may be able to sell the notes in any secondary market. The value of the embedded derivative(s) is calculated based on our internal pricing models using relevant parameter inputs such as expected interest rates and mid-market levels of price and volatility of the assets underlying the notes or any futures, options or swaps related to such underlying assets. Our internal pricing models are proprietary and rely in part on certain assumptions about future events, which may prove to be incorrect.

The Issuer's estimated value of the notes on the Trade Date (as disclosed on the cover of this term sheet) is less than the Issue Price of the notes. The difference between the Issue Price and the Issuer's estimated value of the notes on the Trade Date is due to the inclusion in the Issue Price of the agent's commissions, if any, and the cost of hedging our obligations under the notes through one or more of our affiliates. Such hedging cost includes our or our affiliates' expected cost of providing such hedge, as well as the profit we or our affiliates expect to realize in consideration for assuming the risks inherent in providing such hedge.

The Issuer's estimated value of the notes on the Trade Date does not represent the price at which we or any of our affiliates would be willing to purchase your notes in the secondary market at any time. Assuming no changes in market conditions or our creditworthiness and other relevant factors, the price, if any, at which we or our affiliates would be willing to purchase the notes from you in secondary market transactions, if at all, would generally be lower than both the Issue Price and the Issuer's estimated value of the notes on the Trade Date. Our purchase price, if any, in secondary market transactions will be based on the estimated value of the notes determined by reference to (i) the then-prevailing internal funding rate (adjusted by a spread) or another appropriate measure of our cost of funds and (ii) our pricing models at that time, less a bid spread determined after taking into account the size of the repurchase, the nature of the assets underlying the notes and then-prevailing market conditions. The price we report to financial reporting services and to distributors of our notes for use on customer account statements would generally be determined on the same basis. However, during the period of approximately three months beginning from the Trade Date, we or our affiliates may, in our sole discretion, increase the purchase price determined as described above by an amount equal to the declining differential between the Issue Price and the Issuer's estimated value of the notes on the Trade Date, prorated over such period on a straight-line basis, for transactions that are individually and in the aggregate of the expected size for ordinary secondary market repurchases.

What Are the Possible Payments on the Notes at Maturity, Assuming a Range of Hypothetical Performances for the Underlying?

The following table illustrates a range of hypothetical payments at maturity on the notes. The table and the hypothetical examples below reflect the Maximum Return of 15.00% and the Knock-Out Level of 83.20% of the Initial Level. The actual Initial Level and Knock-Out Level will be determined on the Trade Date. The results set forth below are for illustrative purposes only. The actual return applicable to a purchaser of the notes will be based on whether or not a Knock-Out Event occurs, which will depend on whether the closing level of the Underlying is less than the Knock-Out Level on any day during the Monitoring Period, and the Underlying Return, which will be based on the performance of the Underlying as measured on the Averaging Dates. The numbers appearing in the table and examples below have been rounded for ease of analysis.

Hypothetical Examples of Amounts Payable at Maturity

The following examples illustrate how the payments on the notes at maturity set forth in the table above are calculated.

Example 1: A Knock-Out Event has not occurred and the Final Level is greater than the Initial Level, resulting in an Underlying Return of 40.00%. Because the closing level of the Underlying on all days during the Monitoring Period, including the final Averaging Date, was greater than or equal to the Knock-Out Level, a Knock-Out Event has not occurred. Because the Final Level is greater than the Initial Level and the Underlying Return is greater than the Maximum Return, the investor receives the Maximum Return on the notes. Accordingly, the investor receives a Payment at Maturity of $1,150.00 per $1,000 Face Amount of notes, calculated as follows:

$1,000 + ($1,000 x the lesser of (i) Underlying Return and (ii) Maximum Return)
$1,000 + ($1,000 x 15.00%) = $1,150.00

Example 2: A Knock-Out Event has not occurred and the Final Level is greater than the Initial Level, resulting in an Underlying Return of 5.00%. Because the closing level of the Underlying on all days during the Monitoring Period, including the final Averaging Date, was greater than or equal to the Knock-Out Level, a Knock-Out Event has not occurred. Because the Final Level is greater than the Initial Level and the Underlying Return is less than the Maximum Return, the investor receives a Payment at Maturity of $1,050.00 per $1,000 Face Amount of notes, calculated as follows:

$1,000 + ($1,000 x the lesser of (i) Underlying Return and (ii) Maximum Return)
$1,000 + ($1,000 x 5.00%) = $1,050.00

Example 3: A Knock-Out Event has not occurred and the Final Level is less than the Initial Level, resulting in an Underlying Return of -10.00%. Because the closing level of the Underlying on all days during the Monitoring Period, including the final Averaging Date, was greater than or equal to the Knock-Out Level, a Knock-Out Event has not occurred. Because a Knock-Out Event has not occurred and the Final Level is less than the Initial Level, the investor receives a Payment at Maturity of $1,000.00 per $1,000 Face Amount of notes.

Example 4: A Knock-Out Event has occurred and the Final Level is less than the Initial Level, resulting in an Underlying Return of -50.00%. Because the closing level of the Underlying on at least one day during the Monitoring Period was less than the Knock-Out Level, a Knock-Out Event has occurred. Because a Knock-Out Event has occurred and the Underlying Return is less than the Maximum Return, the investor receives a Payment at Maturity of $500.00 per $1,000 Face Amount of notes, calculated as follows:

$1,000 + ($1,000 x the lesser of (i) Underlying Return and (ii) Maximum Return)
$1,000 + ($1,000 x -50.00%) = $500.00

Example 5: A Knock-Out Event has occurred and the Final Level is greater than the Initial Level, resulting in an Underlying Return of 5.00%. Because the closing level of the Underlying on at least one day during the Monitoring Period was less than the Knock-Out Level, a Knock-Out Event has occurred. Because a Knock-Out Event has occurred and the Underlying Return is less than the Maximum Return, the investor receives a Payment at Maturity of $1,050.00 per $1,000 Face Amount of notes, calculated as follows:

$1,000 + ($1,000 x the lesser of (i) Underlying Return and (ii) Maximum Return)
$1,000 + ($1,000 x 5.00%) = $1,050.00

Example 6: A Knock-Out Event has occurred and the Final Level is greater than the Initial Level, resulting in an Underlying Return of 40.00%. Because the closing level of the Underlying on at least one day during the Monitoring Period was less than the Knock-Out Level, a Knock-Out Event has occurred. Because a Knock-Out Event has occurred and the Underlying Return is greater than the Maximum Return, the investor receives the Maximum Return on the notes. Accordingly, the investor receives a Payment at Maturity of $1,150.00 per $1,000 Face Amount of notes, calculated as follows:

$1,000 + ($1,000 x the lesser of (i) Underlying Return and (ii) Maximum Return)
$1,000 + ($1,000 x 15.00%) = $1,150.00

Selected Purchase Considerations

- CAPPED APPRECIATION POTENTIAL — The notes are linked to the performance of the Underlying and provide the opportunity to participate in any appreciation of the Underlying at maturity on an unleveraged basis, subject to the Maximum Return, regardless of whether a Knock-Out Event has or has not occurred. Because the notes are our senior unsecured obligations, payment of any amount at maturity is subject to our ability to meet our obligations as they become due.

- LIMITED PROTECTION AGAINST LOSS — If a Knock-Out Event has not occurred and the Final Level is less than the Initial Level, for each $1,000 Face Amount of notes, you will be entitled to receive the Face Amount. However, if a Knock-Out Event has occurred and the Underlying Return is negative, for each $1,000 Face Amount of notes, you will lose 1.00% of the Face Amount for every 1.00% by which the Final Level is less than the Initial Level. In this circumstance, you will lose some or all of your investment in the notes.

RETURN LINKED TO THE PERFORMANCE OF THE S&P 500® INDEX — The return on the notes, which may be positive, zero or negative, is linked to the performance of the S&P 500® Index. The S&P 500® Index is intended to provide a performance benchmark for the U.S. equity markets. The calculation of the level of the S&P 500® Index is based on the relative value of the aggregate market value of the common stocks of 500 companies as of a particular time as compared to the aggregate average market value of the common stocks of 500 similar companies during the base period of the years 1941 through 1943. On March 11, 2014, the sponsor of the S&P 500® Index announced that the sponsor will start including, on a case by case basis, multiple share class lines in the S&P 500® Index. This will result in the S&P 500® Index including more than 500 component shares while continuing to include only 500 component companies. The sponsor expects to revise the S&P 500® Index's methodology to fully reflect a multiple share class structure by September 2015. This is only a summary of the S&P 500® Index. For more information on the S&P 500® Index, including information concerning its composition, calculation methodology and adjustment policy, please see the section entitled "The S&P Indices – The S&P 500® Index" in the accompanying underlying supplement No. 1 dated October 1, 2012.

- TAX CONSEQUENCES — In the opinion of our special tax counsel, Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP, which is based on prevailing market conditions, it is more likely than not that the notes will be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as prepaid financial contracts that are not debt. Generally, if this treatment is respected, (i) you should not recognize taxable income or loss prior to the taxable disposition of your notes (including at maturity) and (ii) the gain or loss on your notes should be capital gain or loss and should be long-term capital gain or loss if you have held the notes for more than one year. The Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") or a court might not agree with this treatment, however, in which case the timing and character of income or loss on your notes could be materially and adversely affected.

In 2007, the U.S. Treasury Department and the IRS released a notice requesting comments on various issues regarding the U.S. federal income tax treatment of "prepaid forward contracts" and similar instruments. The notice focuses in particular on whether beneficial owners of these instruments should be required to accrue income over the term of their investment. It also asks for comments on a number of related topics, including the character of income or loss with respect to these instruments; the relevance of factors such as the nature of the underlying property to which the instruments are linked; the degree, if any, to which income (including any mandated accruals) realized by non-U.S. persons should be subject to withholding tax; and whether these instruments are or should be subject to the "constructive ownership" regime, which very generally can operate to recharacterize certain long-term capital gain as ordinary income and impose a notional interest charge. While the notice requests comments on appropriate transition rules and effective dates, any Treasury regulations or other guidance promulgated after consideration of these issues could materially and adversely affect the tax consequences of an investment in the notes, possibly with retroactive effect.

You should review carefully the section of the accompanying product supplement entitled “U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences.” The preceding discussion, when read in combination with that section, constitutes the full opinion of our special tax counsel regarding the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning and disposing of the notes.

Under current law, the United Kingdom will not impose withholding tax on payments made with respect to the notes.

For a discussion of certain German tax considerations relating to the notes, you should refer to the section in the accompanying prospectus supplement entitled “Taxation by Germany of Non-Resident Holders.”

You should consult your tax adviser regarding the U.S. federal tax consequences of an investment in the notes (including possible alternative treatments and the issues presented by the 2007 notice), as well as tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. taxing jurisdiction.
