From time to time, Schering-Plough Corporation issues press releases outside the United States regarding drugs or drug uses that are approved in other countries but not in the United States. Our regulatory counsel has advised us that we may not issue these press releases in the United States due to United States Food and Drug Administration regulations. However, our pharmaceutical business is a global business and these press releases are often of interest to our investors and sometimes may contain information that an investor would find relevant to his or her investment decisions about Schering-Plough securities. Investors who wish to receive notifications of the posting of all press releases (including press releases that are not issued in the United States) as they are posted on our Investor Relations Web Site may sign up for the e-mail alert service the process to do this is explained on our Investor Relations Web Site.
