RISK FACTORS

In addition to the following risk factors, you should carefully consider, among other things, the matters discussed under Risk Factors in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006, and in other documents that we subsequently file with the Securities and Exchange Commission, all of which are incorporated by reference into this prospectus supplement.

Risks Related to this Offering and Ownership of our Common Stock

We have not complied with certain registration rights provisions contained in agreements with our shareholders.

Prior to our initial public offering in 2004, we entered into stock purchase agreements relating to the sale of preferred stock, each of which is filed as an exhibit to the registration statement of which this prospectus supplement is a part. These stock purchase agreements contain registration rights provisions for the benefit of the purchasers of the preferred stock. Specifically, the stock purchase agreements obligate us to provide the holders of shares of the preferred stock (as well as any shares of common stock issued upon conversion of the preferred stock at the time of our initial public offering) notice of the filing of any registration statement by us to register shares of our common stock. Further, we are required to include the shares subject to these rights in any public offering of our common stock if requested by these holders in accordance with their registration rights. We have not provided the notice of, or the opportunity to participate in, the offering contemplated by this registration statement, and we have only obtained waivers from certain of these shareholders. We believe that the number of shares entitled to participate in this offering for which we have not received waivers does not exceed 3,500,000 shares. While we believe that the rights holders have no intention of exercising their rights based on the free tradability of their shares under Rule 144(k), such holders could claim that we breached the registration rights provisions of the stock purchase agreements. Although we believe that a claim by these holders is unlikely, and moreover that no material damages could be claimed, we cannot assure that the holders will not pursue a claim or that the resolution of such claims would be favorable to us.

The trading price for our common stock has been and may continue to be volatile.

The trading price of our common stock has been volatile since our initial public offering and will likely continue to be volatile. For example, since June 30, 2006, the price of our common stock has fluctuated from a high of $63.90 per share to a low of $41.15 per share. The trading price of our common stock may fluctuate widely in response to various factors, some of which are beyond our control. These factors include:

Volatility in the market price and trading volume of health and fitness companies;

Actual or anticipated changes in our earnings or fluctuations in our operating results;

Investor perceptions of the health and fitness industry, in general, and our company, in particular;

Announcements by us or our competitors of new center openings, center closings or capital expenditures;

The operating and stock performance of comparable companies;

Announcements about our earnings, or the earnings of our competitors, that are not in line with analyst expectations;

Quarterly variations in our results of operations or those of our competitors;

Recommendations by securities analysts or changes in earnings estimates;

Short sales, hedging and other derivative transactions on shares of our common stock;

Loss of external funding sources;

Major catastrophic events;

Commencement of, or our involvement in, litigation;

The volume of shares of common stock available for public sale;

S-3

Table of Contents

Sales of stock by us or by our shareholders; and

General economic conditions and slow or negative growth of related markets.

In addition, the stock market in general has experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations that have often been unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of the companies quoted on such markets. These broad market and industry factors may seriously harm the market price of our common stock, regardless of our actual operating performance. In the past, following periods of volatility in the overall market and the market price of a company's securities, securities class action litigation has often been instituted against these companies. This litigation, if instituted against us, could result in substantial costs and a diversion of our management's attention and resources.

We do not anticipate paying cash dividends on our shares of common stock in the foreseeable future.

We have never declared or paid any cash dividends on our common stock. We currently intend to retain all future earnings for the operation and expansion of our business and do not anticipate declaring or paying any cash dividends on our common stock in the foreseeable future. In addition, the terms of our revolving credit facility and certain of our debt financing agreements prohibit us from paying dividends without the consent of the lenders. The payment of any dividends in the future will be at the discretion of our board of directors and will depend upon our results of operations, earnings, capital requirements, contractual restrictions, outstanding indebtedness and other factors deemed relevant by our board. As a result, capital appreciation, if any, of our common stock will be your sole source of gain for the foreseeable future.

Table of Contents

USE OF PROCEEDS

We estimate that we will receive net proceeds of $82.8 million from our sale of the 1,500,000 shares of common stock in this offering, based upon our public offering price of $55.40 per share, after deducting estimated offering expenses.

We expect to use the net proceeds to repay a portion of the amounts outstanding under our revolving credit facility with U.S. Bank National Association as soon as practicable after receiving the proceeds from this offering. Interest on the amounts borrowed under the revolving credit facility are based on (i) a base rate, which is the greater of (a) U.S. Bank's prime rate and (b) the federal funds rate plus 50 basis points, or (ii) an adjusted Eurodollar rate, plus, in the case of (ii) for Eurodollar borrowings, the applicable margin, which ranges from 62.5 to 150 basis points, based on our consolidated leverage ratio. The term of the U.S. Bank facility expires on May 31, 2012. The amounts to be repaid under the revolving credit facility were borrowed within the past year and were used to fund the acquisition of land and construction of centers we opened in 2007 or plan to open in 2008 and other working capital needs. As of June 30, 2007, $285.0 million was outstanding on the U.S. Bank facility, plus $18.8 million related to letters of credit.

Table of ContentsUNDERWRITING

Under the terms and subject to the conditions contained in an underwriting agreement dated August 24, 2007, we have agreed to sell to Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC all of the shares of common stock offered hereby.

The underwriting agreement provides that the underwriter is obligated to purchase all the shares of common stock in the offering if any are purchased, other than those shares covered by the over-allotment option described below.

We have granted to the underwriter a 30-day option to purchase up to 175,000 additional shares at the public offering price less the underwriting discounts and commissions. The option may be exercised only to cover any over-allotments of common stock.

The underwriter proposes to offer the shares of common stock initially at the public offering price on the cover page of this prospectus supplement and to selling group members at that price less a selling concession of $0.06 per share. After the initial public offering, the underwriter may change the public offering price and concession.

The following table summarizes the compensation we will pay:

	Per Share		Total
	Without Over-Allotment	With Over-Allotment	Without Over-Allotment	With Over-Allotment
Underwriting Discounts and Commissions paid by us	$ 0.10	$ 0.10	$ 150,000	$ 167,500

We estimate that our out of pocket expenses for this offering will be approximately $117,963.

We have agreed that we will not offer, sell, contract to sell, pledge or otherwise dispose of, directly or indirectly, or file with the Securities and Exchange Commission a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 (the Securities Act) relating to, any shares of our common stock or securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for any shares of our common stock, or publicly disclose the intention to make any offer, sale, pledge, disposition or filing, without the prior written consent of Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC for a period of 60 days after the date of this prospectus supplement. However, in the event that either (1) during the last 17 days of the lock-up period, we release earnings results or material news or a material event relating to us occurs or (2) prior to the expiration of the lock-up period, we announce that we will release earnings results during the 16-day period beginning on the last day of the lock-up period, then in either case the expiration of the lock-up will be extended until the expiration of the 18-day period beginning on the date of the release of the earnings results or the occurrence of the material news or event, as applicable, unless Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC waives, in writing, such an extension or if our shares of common stock are actively traded securities as defined in Regulation M.

Our executive officers and directors have agreed that they will not offer, sell, contract to sell, pledge or otherwise dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of our common stock or securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for any shares of our common stock, enter into a transaction that would have the same effect, or enter into any swap, hedge or other arrangement that transfers, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of our common stock, whether any of these transactions are to be settled by delivery of our common stock or other securities, in cash or otherwise, or publicly disclose the intention to make any offer, sale, pledge or disposition, or to enter into any transaction, swap, hedge or other arrangement, without, in each case, the prior written consent of Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC for a period of 60 days after the date of this prospectus supplement, provided that they may sell shares of common stock to cover any tax obligations arising from vesting of restricted stock during the lock-up period. However, in the event that either (1) during the last 17 days of the lock-up period, we release earnings results or material news or a material event relating to us occurs or (2) prior to the expiration of the lock-up period, we announce that we will release earnings results during the 16-day period beginning on the last day of the lock-up period, then in either case the expiration of the lock-up will be extended until the expiration of the 18-day period beginning on the date of the release of the earnings results or the occurrence of the material news or event, as applicable, unless Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC waives, in writing, such an extension or if our shares of common stock are actively traded securities as defined in Regulation M.

We have agreed to indemnify the underwriter against liabilities under the Securities Act and in connection with this offering, or contribute to payments that the underwriter may be required to make in that respect.

Our common stock is traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol LTM.

In connection with the offering the underwriter may engage in stabilizing transactions, over-allotment transactions, covering transactions and penalty bids in accordance with Regulation M under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the Exchange Act).

Stabilizing transactions permit bids to purchase the underlying security so long as the stabilizing bids do not exceed a specified maximum.

Over-allotment involves sales by the underwriter of shares in excess of the number of shares the underwriter is obligated to purchase, which creates a short position. The short position may be either a covered short position or a naked short position. In a covered short position, the number of shares over-allotted by the underwriter is not greater than the number of shares that it may purchase in the over-allotment option. In a naked short position, the number of shares involved is greater than the number of shares in the over-allotment option. The underwriter may close out any covered short position by either exercising its over-allotment option and/or purchasing shares in the open market.

Covering transactions involve purchases of the common stock in the open market after the distribution has been completed in order to cover short positions. In determining the source of shares to close out the short position, the underwriter will consider, among other things, the price of shares available for purchase in the open market as compared to the price at which it may purchase shares through the over-allotment option. If the underwriter sells more shares than could be covered by the over-allotment option, a naked short position, the position can only be closed out by buying shares in the open market. A naked short position is more likely to be created if the underwriter is concerned that there could be downward pressure on the price of the shares in the open market after pricing that could adversely affect investors who purchase in the offering.

Penalty bids permit the underwriter to reclaim a selling concession from a selling group member when the common stock originally sold by the selling group member is purchased in a stabilizing or covering transaction to cover short positions.

These stabilizing transactions, covering transactions and penalty bids may have the effect of raising or maintaining the market price of our common stock or preventing or retarding a decline in the market price of the common stock. As a result, the price of our common stock may be higher than the price that might otherwise exist in the open market. These transactions may be effected on the New York Stock Exchange or otherwise and, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

A prospectus supplement in electronic format may be made available on the web sites maintained by the underwriter, or selling group members, if any, participating in this offering and the underwriter may distribute prospectuses electronically. The underwriter may agree to allocate a number of shares to the selling group members, if any, for sale to their online brokerage account holders. Internet distributions will be allocated by the underwriter and selling group members that will make internet distributions on the same basis as other allocations.

PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

This summary highlights information contained elsewhere in this prospectus and may not contain all of the information you should consider in making your investment decision. You should read this summary together with the more detailed information included elsewhere in, or incorporated by reference into, this prospectus, including our financial statements and the related notes. You should carefully consider, among other things, the matters discussed in Risk Factors, which we describe in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006 and in other documents that we subsequently file with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and which we will describe in supplements to this prospectus.

Life Time Fitness, Inc.

We operate distinctive and large sports and athletic, professional fitness, family recreation and resort/spa centers under the LIFE TIME FITNESS® brand. We design and develop our own centers, and we focus on providing our members and customers with products and services at a compelling value in the areas of exercise, education and nutrition.

As of August 15, 2007, we operated 65 centers in 15 states. We also operated one satellite facility and four preview locations in existing and new markets. In addition to traditional health club offerings, most of our centers include an expansive selection of premium amenities and services, such as indoor swimming pools with water slides, basketball and racquet courts, interactive and entertaining child centers, full-service spas and dining services and, in many cases, climbing walls and outdoor swimming pools with waterslides. We believe our centers provide a unique experience for our members, resulting in a high number of memberships per center.

Over the past 15 years, as we have opened new centers, we have refined the size and design of our centers. Of our 65 centers, we consider 56 to be of our large format design, and of these 56 centers, we consider 35 to be of our current model design. Although the size and design of our centers may vary, our business strategy and operating processes remain consistent across all of our centers. Our current model centers generally target 8,500 to 11,500 memberships by offering, on average, 110,000 square feet of health, fitness and family recreation programs and services. Of the centers that we have opened since 2000, 35 conform to our current model center, and each of these centers has delivered growth in membership levels, revenue and profitability across a range of geographic markets.
