NEWS RELEASE

Central Pacific and CB Bancshares Seek Shareholder Approval of Proposed Merger; Special Shareholder Meetings to Be Held September 13, 2004

Honolulu, HI July 21, 2004 Central Pacific Financial Corp. (Central Pacific ; NYSE: CPF) and CB Bancshares, Inc. (CB Bancshares ; Nasdaq: CBBI) announced that both companies will hold special shareholder meetings on September 13, 2004 to seek approval for the two companies to merge. Both companies' boards of directors have set July 19, 2004 as their record dates for determining shareholders eligible to vote at the special meetings.

Starting tomorrow, both companies will commence the distribution of related proxy materials to their respective shareholders. In those materials, the boards of directors of both companies recommend that shareholders vote in favor of the combination.

The leaders of our two special Hawaii banks have met to work out this agreement in a spirit of cooperation and shared optimism about the future of Hawaii. We believe that combining our banks, which are grounded in the same strong culture and values, will be good for Hawaii and will enhance value for the shareholders of both companies, said Clint Arnoldus, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of Central Pacific.

Our efforts are focused on making sure that the merger will proceed in a way that will be the most beneficial to all concerned so we can begin to create an even stronger bank that is focused on the needs of Hawaii, said Ronald K. Migita, President and Chief Executive Officer of CB Bancshares.

Opportunities for Enhanced Growth and Service

The merger will create a $4 billion bank focused on small and mid-sized businesses and retail customers in communities across Hawaii.

The combined bank will be able to better serve existing as well as new customers through its expanded capabilities, services and lending capacity, said Arnoldus. We expect the combination will result in a bank with a more diverse loan portfolio, building on Central Pacific's strength in commercial real estate lending and City Bank's volume in residential mortgages. We also anticipate cost savings and improved efficiency as well as improved profitability.

Central Pacific has reiterated its commitment not to lay off employees involuntarily as a result of this combination. After the merger, the company plans to open new branches in underserved areas to replace the branches that are consolidated due to overlaps, and believes that the combined bank will offer a wider choice of branches and ATMs to retail and business customers throughout the state. Additionally, the two banks' common cultures, market and technologies are expected to help ensure a smooth transition and integration.

Directors Are Recommending Shareholders Vote FOR Merger

As previously announced, the boards of directors of the two companies have approved a definitive merger agreement under which Central Pacific will acquire all of CB Bancshares' outstanding shares for per-share consideration with a value of $20 in cash and 2.6752 shares of Central Pacific common stock, or $91.96 per share of CB Bancshares' stock, based on the closing price of Central Pacific common stock on July 19, 2004.

The combination is expected to be significantly accretive to Central Pacific's earnings in the first full year of combined operations, based on the companies' projected earnings per share and expected cost savings.

Approval of the combination requires a 75 percent shareholder vote by each company's shareholders at separate special meetings that have been scheduled for September 13, 2004. Accordingly, the boards of directors of both companies urge all Central Pacific and CB Bancshares shareholders of record to cast their vote by returning their proxies at their earliest convenience.

Additional Approvals

In addition to the shareholder vote, the merger is conditioned upon the receipt of regulatory approvals and other customary conditions. Central Pacific has obtained approvals from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Hawaii Commissioner of Financial Institutions for the acquisition of control of CB Bancshares. An application to the Hawaii Commissioner for the merger of Central Pacific and CB Bancshares is pending. The companies said they expect the transaction to close around September 15, 2004, assuming shareholder approval at the meetings on September 13.
