Item 5. Other Events

In response to media inquiries, on December 6, 2002, Travelocity.com LP ("Travelocity"), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Registrant, confirmed that it expects to begin charging early in 2003 booking fees of up to $5 for most airline tickets purchased on its North American web sites.

CAUTIONARY NOTICE ABOUT FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Edgar Filing: SABRE HOLDINGS CORP - Form 8-K

Statements in this report which are not purely historical facts, including statements about booking fee adjustments, or other statements about anticipations, beliefs, expectations, hopes, intentions or strategies for the future, may be forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements are based upon information available to the Registrant on the date of this report. The Registrant undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. Any forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual events or results to differ materially from the events or results described in the forward-looking statements, including risks or uncertainties related to: airlines limiting their participation in travel marketing and distribution services; and the company's revenues being highly dependent on the travel and transportation industries. The Registrant may not succeed in addressing these and other risks. Further information regarding factors that could affect the company's financial and other results can be found in the risk factors section of the Registrant's most recent filing on Form 10-Q with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
