Dear Fellow Stockholder:

In August, your company announced a definitive agreement to acquire from The Jean Coutu Group the approximately 1,850 Brooks and Eckerd drugstores and six distribution centers in the United States. We recently mailed to you proxy material describing the transaction in detail, which we encourage you to review carefully because it contains important information you should consider regarding the proposed acquisition. This brochure provides an overview of the transaction and how we believe it will benefit your company.

Your Board of Directors believes that the proposed transaction is a unique opportunity to greatly expand the Rite Aid chain with good stores in attractive locations and create the scale we need to compete more effectively with our major rivals. Greater scale will make Rite Aid better able to take advantage of the many opportunities for growth in our industry today driven by an aging population, increased use of drug therapy, new potential blockbuster drugs now in development, the proliferation of low-cost generics and the new Medicare prescription coverage. It will also enable us to better withstand both industry and competitive challenges to our business.

By making Rite Aid a national chain with a projected 5,000 stores, nearly $27 billion in annual revenues and a leading position on the East Coast, we believe the transaction provides significant opportunities to achieve substantial cost savings and increase sales to enhance future profitability.

In order for this important transaction to proceed, stockholders must approve the issuance of 250 million Rite Aid shares to The Jean Coutu Group.

Your vote is important, no matter how many or how few shares you may own. We urge you to take a moment of your time to vote FOR the three proposals on your ballot by telephone, by Internet or by signing, dating and returning the enclosed proxy card in the envelope provided.

Thank you for your support.

Rite Aid After the Acquisition

Approximately 5,000 Stores Total

Adding Approximately 1,850 Brooks and Eckerd Stores Will Give Rite Aid the Greater Scale Needed to Compete More Effectively

Today greater scale is critically important in the fiercely competitive retail pharmacy business, where the biggest competitors have been steadily absorbing smaller regional and local chains.

This transaction will enable Rite Aid to acquire in a single step larger scale comparable to our major drugstore competitors.

Following the transaction, Rite Aid will have approximately 5,000 stores nationwide and nearly $27 billion in annual revenues greatly improving our position as the third-largest national drugstore chain.

Rite Aid will be the leading drugstore chain on the East Coast.

We will acquire attractive stores in desirable locations, further improving our presence in parts of the country where Rite Aid is already well known and expanding into new areas as an effective competitor from the outset.

Greater scale will help us improve our operating results by giving us more purchasing power and by spreading our fixed costs, such as advertising, distribution and corporate administration, over a larger store base.
