COHEN & STEERS TOTAL RETURN REALTY FUND, INC.

August 9, 2007

To Our Shareholders:

We are pleased to submit to you our report for the six months ended June 30, 2007. The net asset value at that date was $18.08 per common share. The fund's common stock is traded on the New York Stock Exchange and its share price can differ from its net asset value; at period end, the fund's closing price on the NYSE was $17.46. The total return, including income, for Cohen & Steers Total Return Realty Fund and the comparative benchmarks were:

	Six Months Ended June 30, 2007
Cohen & Steers Total Return Realty Fund at Market Value ^a	-11.10%
Cohen & Steers Total Return Realty Fund at Net Asset Value ^a	-5.23%
FTSE NAREIT Equity REIT Index ^b	-5.89%
S&P 500 Index ^b	6.96%
Blend 80% FTSE NAREIT Equity REIT Index 20% Merrill Lynch REIT Preferred Index ^b	-4.54%

The performance data quoted represent past performance. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The investment return and the principal value of an investment will fluctuate and shares, if sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted.

Three monthly dividends of $0.1125 per common share were declared and will be paid to common shareholders on July 31, 2007, August 31, 2007 and September 28, 2007.^c

^a As a closed-end investment company, the price of the fund's New York Stock Exchange-traded shares will be set by market forces and at times may deviate from the net asset value per share of the fund.

^b The FTSE NAREIT Equity REIT Index is an unmanaged, market capitalization weighted index of all publicly traded REITs that invest predominantly in the equity ownership of real estate. The index is designed to reflect the performance of all publicly traded equity REITs as a whole. The S&P 500 Index is an unmanaged index of common stocks that is frequently used as a general measure of stock market performance. The Merrill Lynch REIT Preferred Index is an unmanaged index of real estate preferred securities.

^c Please note that distributions paid by the fund to shareholders are subject to recharacterization for tax purposes. The final tax treatment of these distributions is reported to shareholders after the close of each fiscal year on form 1099-DIV.

Investment Review

Following four years of strong absolute and relative performance, including a 35% total return in 2006 (as measured by the FTSE NAREIT Equity REIT Index) and seven years of positive returns, REITs had generally negative returns in the first half of 2007. REITs began the year on a positive note, buoyed by a January bidding contest between Vornado and The Blackstone Group for control of Equity Office Properties (EOP). Blackstone prevailed, purchasing EOP at a sizable premium, prompting investors at that time to raise valuation estimates for publicly traded real estate securities.

REITs struggled over the remainder of the period, however, declining nearly 20% from their February highs. This reflected concerns over rising interest rates and uncertainty about whether asset pricing would suffer. Expectations for Federal Reserve monetary easing were pushed back as economic growth continued and inflation fears persisted. The possibility that the Fed might in fact raise rates entered the picture, and the yield on the 10-year Treasury bond in June climbed to 5.26%, its highest level in five years; the yield retreated to 5.03% by period end.

Growth rates for real estate companies generally stabilized, after accelerating in the past few years. This signaled an end to the stock-multiple expansion phase of the real estate cycle, and set expectations for more normalized returns for REITs. Put another way, capitalization rate compression for real estate assets is likely over (a cap rate is the inverse of the earnings multiple).

Most property sectors declined. Among the poorest performing sectors were self storage, due to concerns that a slowing economy might materially affect demand; and health care, as these companies are typically more sensitive to rising interest rates, due to the long-term nature of their leases.

Apartments stage partial recovery

Apartments initially underperformed on concerns about the weakening housing market. However, the group's performance improved late in the period when Archstone-Smith, a leading apartment REIT, agreed to be acquired by a partnership sponsored by Tishman Speyer and Lehman Brothers for $22.2 billion, a 22.7% premium to the stock price before a rumor of the deal was published on May 24, 2007. This deal underscored for the market the overall positive prospects for apartment fundamentals and the sustainability of apartment asset pricing. The sector outperformed for the period as a whole.

Merger activity stimulated the hotel sector's relative performance. Late in the quarter, Equity Inns, the third-largest hotel REIT as measured by the number of hotels owned, announced that it would be acquired by an affiliate of Whitehall Street Global Real Estate in a transaction valued at $2.2 billion. This represented a 19% premium to the stock's previous day closing price.

Rising yields pressure preferred securities

The Merrill Lynch REIT Preferred Index had a total return of 0.4% for the period. After a positive first quarter, preferreds were buffeted by rising bond yields and widening credit spreads late in the second quarter. The fund maintained an allocation to preferred securities in order to enhance potential income and dampen volatility. We believe that quality is a primary criterion for investment selection in the preferred market, and find little value in moving down the credit scale at this point in the cycle.

Performance hampered by health care overweight, aided by preferred security selection

The fund underperformed its hybrid benchmark, hindered by our overweight in the health care sector and underweights in the specialty, hotel and regional mall sectors. Stock selection in the apartment, mortgage and office sectors also detracted from performance. Factors that helped the fund's relative performance included our underweight in the shopping center and self storage sectors and stock selection in the industrial, self storage and diversified sectors. The fund's allocation to preferred securities helped its performance in both absolute and relative terms, as security selection was favorable.

Investment Outlook

Before REITs can manage a sustainable performance recovery, investors may require more clarity on inflation and economic growth. In our opinion, if the economy gains momentum, it would likely benefit real estate companies; however, it might cause the Fed to raise interest rates, unsettling stock prices, including REITs. A cooling economy, on the other hand, would likely prompt the Fed to cut rates, which could lift stocks, as a rate reduction is not currently expected by the market.

We believe that a fair degree of pessimism has now been priced into REITs, including the possibility of some decline in property asset values. We believe REITs, on the whole, are attractively valued, with many trading at compelling discounts (more than 20% in some cases) to their underlying net asset values, compared with their long-term average of a 5% premium to NAV. The private equity market continues to value REITs more aggressively than the public market, as evidenced by the continued privatizations of real estate companies.

From a property sector perspective we continue to favor apartments, and believe that recent events underscore our view that a downward trend in owner-occupied housing prices, coupled with tightening credit standards, are clear positives for the sector. In our view, uncertainty in the housing market should ultimately result in lower overall home ownership rates in the next five years, which in turn should benefit apartment owners. We also like the self-storage and office sectors on a stock-specific basis, and believe that the market has taken too negative a view of these sectors.

^b Total market value return is computed based upon the New York Stock Exchange market price of the fund's shares and excludes the effects of brokerage commissions. Total net asset value return measures the changes in value over the period indicated, taking into account dividends as reinvested. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for purposes of these calculations, to be reinvested at prices obtained under the fund's dividend reinvestment plan.

COHEN & STEERS TOTAL RETURN REALTY FUND, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

Note 1. Significant Accounting Policies

Cohen & Steers Total Return Realty Fund, Inc. (the fund) was incorporated under the laws of the State of Maryland on September 4, 1992 and is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as amended, as a nondiversified, closed-end management investment company. The fund's investment objective is maximum total return.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Portfolio Valuation: Investments in securities that are listed on the New York Stock Exchange are valued, except as indicated below, at the last sale price reflected at the close of the New York Stock Exchange on the business day as of which such value is being determined. If there has been no sale on such day, the securities are valued at the mean of the closing bid and asked prices for the day or, if no asked price is available, at the bid price.

Securities not listed on the New York Stock Exchange but listed on other domestic or foreign securities exchanges or admitted to trading on the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotations, Inc. (Nasdaq) national market system are valued in a similar manner. Securities traded on more than one securities exchange are valued at the last sale price on the business day as of which such value is being determined as reflected on the tape at the close of the exchange representing the principal market for such securities.

Readily marketable securities traded in the over-the-counter market, including listed securities whose primary market is believed by Cohen & Steers Capital Management, Inc. (the advisor) to be over-the-counter, but excluding securities admitted to trading on the Nasdaq National List, are valued at the official closing prices as reported by Nasdaq, the National Quotation Bureau, or such other comparable sources as the Board of Directors deems appropriate to reflect their fair market value. If there has been no sale on such day, the securities are valued at the mean of the closing bid and asked prices for the day, or if no asked price is available, at the bid price. However, certain fixed-income securities may be valued on the basis of prices provided by a pricing service when such prices are believed by the Board of Directors to reflect the fair market value of such securities. Where securities are traded on more than one exchange and also over-the-counter, the securities will generally be valued using the quotations the Board of Directors believes most closely reflect the value of such securities.

Securities for which market prices are unavailable, or securities for which the advisor determines that bid and/or asked price does not reflect market value, will be valued at fair value pursuant to procedures approved by the fund's Board of Directors. Circumstances in which market prices may be unavailable include, but are not limited to, when trading in a security is suspended, the exchange on which the security is traded is subject to an unscheduled close or disruption or material events occur after the close of the exchange on which the security is principally traded. In these circumstances, the fund determines fair value in a manner that fairly reflects the market value of the security on the valuation date based on consideration of any information or factors it deems appropriate. These may include recent transactions in comparable securities, information relating to the specific security and developments in the markets.

The fund's use of fair value pricing may cause the net asset value of fund shares to differ from the net asset value that would be calculated using market quotations. Fair value pricing involves subjective judgments and it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be materially different than the value that could be realized upon the sale of that security.

Short-term debt securities, which have a maturity date of 60 days or less, are valued at amortized cost, which approximates value.

Security Transactions and Investment Income: Security transactions are recorded on trade date. Realized gains and losses on investments sold are recorded on the basis of identified cost. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Discounts are accreted and premiums are amortized over the life of the respective securities. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date except for certain dividends on foreign securities, which are recorded as soon as the fund is informed after the ex-dividend date. The fund records distributions received in excess of income from underlying investments as a reduction of cost of investments and/or realized gain. Such amounts are based on estimates if actual amounts are not available, and actual amounts of income, realized gain and return of capital may differ from the estimated amounts. The fund adjusts the estimated amounts of the components of distributions (and consequently its net investment income) as an increase to unrealized appreciation/(depreciation) and realized gain/(loss) on investments as necessary once the issuers provide information about the actual composition of the distributions.

Foreign Currency Translation and Forward Foreign Currency Contracts: The books and records of the fund are maintained in U.S. dollars as follows: (1) the foreign currency market value of investment securities, other assets and liabilities and forward foreign currency contracts (forward contracts) are translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the period; and (2) purchases, sales, income and expenses are translated at the exchange rates prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. The resultant exchange gains and losses are recorded as realized and unrealized gain/loss on foreign exchange transactions. Pursuant to U.S. federal income tax regulations, certain foreign exchange gains/losses included in realized and unrealized gain/loss are included in or are a reduction of ordinary income for federal income tax purposes. The fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations arising as a result of changes in the foreign exchange rates from the changes in the market prices of the securities. Forward contracts are valued daily at the appropriate exchange rates. The resultant unrealized exchange gains and losses are recorded as unrealized foreign currency gain or loss. The fund records realized gains or losses on delivery of the currency or at the time the forward contract is extinguished (compensated) by entering into a closing transaction prior to delivery.

Foreign Securities: The fund may directly purchase securities of foreign issuers. Investing in securities of foreign issuers involves special risks not typically associated with investing in securities of U.S. issuers. The risks include possible revaluation of currencies, the ability to repatriate funds, less complete financial information about companies and possible future adverse political and economic developments. Moreover, securities of many foreign issuers and their markets may be less liquid and their prices more volatile than those of securities of comparable U.S. issuers.

Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders: Dividends from net investment income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with U.S. federal income tax regulations, which may differ from GAAP. Dividends from net investment income are declared and paid monthly. Net realized capital gains, unless offset by any available capital loss carryforward, are distributed to shareholders annually. Dividends and distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date and are automatically reinvested in full and fractional shares of the fund unless the shareholder has elected to have them paid in cash.

Distributions paid by the fund are subject to recharacterization for tax purposes. Based upon the results of operations for the six months ended June 30, 2007, the advisor considers it likely that a portion of the dividends will be reclassified to return of capital and distributions of net realized capital gains upon the final determination of the fund's taxable income for the year.

Federal Income Taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interest of the shareholders, by complying with the requirements of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies, and by distributing substantially all of its taxable earnings to its shareholders. Accordingly, no provision for federal income or excise tax is necessary.

Borrowings and Leverage: The fund may borrow for leveraging purposes when an investment opportunity arises but the advisor believes that it is not appropriate to liquidate any existing investments. The fund will only borrow when the advisor believes that the cost of borrowing to carry the assets to be acquired through leverage will be lower than the return earned by the fund on its longer-term portfolio investments. Should the differential between interest rates on borrowed funds and the return from investment assets purchased with such funds narrow, the fund would realize less of a positive return, with the additional risk that, during periods of adverse market conditions, the market value of the fund's entire portfolio holdings (including those acquired through leverage) may decline far in excess of incremental returns the fund may have achieved in the interim. The fund had no borrowings during the six months ended June 30, 2007.

Note 2. Investment Advisory Fees and Other Transactions with Affiliates

Investment Advisory Fees: The advisor serves as the fund's investment advisor pursuant to an advisory agreement (the advisory agreement). Under the terms of the advisory agreement, the advisor provides the fund with day-to-day investment decisions and generally manages the fund's investments in accordance with the stated policies of the fund, subject to the supervision of the fund's Board of Directors.

For the services under the advisory agreement, the fund pays the advisor an advisory fee, accrued daily and paid monthly, at an annual rate of 0.70% of the fund's average daily net assets.

Directors' and Officers' Fees: Certain directors and officers of the fund are also directors, officers, and/or employees of the advisor. The fund does not pay compensation to any affiliated directors and officers except for the Chief Compliance Officer, who received $583 from the fund for the six months ended June 30, 2007.

Note 3. Purchases and Sales of Securities

Purchases and sales of securities, excluding short-term investments, for the six months ended June 30, 2007 totaled $23,968,092 and $26,343,350, respectively.

Note 4. Income Tax Information

As of June 30, 2007, the federal tax cost and net unrealized appreciation were as follows:

Cost for federal income tax purposes	$ 113,523,439
Gross unrealized appreciation	$ 55,319,854
Gross unrealized depreciation	(1,068,004)
Net unrealized appreciation	$ 54,251,850

Note 5. Common Stock

The fund is authorized to issue 100 million shares of common stock at a par value of $0.001 per share. During the six months ended June 30, 2007 and the year ended December 31, 2006, there were no transactions in shares of common stock.

Note 6. Other

In the normal course of business, the fund enters into contracts that provide general indemnifications. The fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is dependent on claims that may be made against the fund in the future and, therefore, cannot be estimated; however, based on experience, the risk of material loss from such claims is considered remote.

Note 7. New Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Interpretation 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes an interpretation of FASB Statement 109 (FIN 48). FIN 48 clarifies the accounting for income taxes by prescribing the minimum recognition threshold a tax position must meet before being recognized in the financial statements. FIN 48 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. An assessment of the fund's tax positions has been made and it has been determined that there is no impact to the fund's financial statements.

In September 2006, Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, Fair Value Measurements (SFAS 157), was issued and is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. SFAS 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. Management is currently evaluating the impact the adoption of SFAS 157 will have on the fund's financial statements.

REINVESTMENT PLAN

We urge shareholders who want to take advantage of this plan and whose shares are held in 'Street Name' to consult your broker as soon as possible to determine if you must change registration into your own name to participate.

OTHER INFORMATION

Notice is hereby given in accordance with Section 23(c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 that the fund may purchase, from time to time, shares of its common stock in the open market.

A description of the policies and procedures that the fund uses to determine how to vote proxies relating to portfolio securities is available (i) without charge, upon request, by calling 800-330-7348, (ii) on our Web site at cohenandsteers.com or (iii) on the Securities and Exchange Commission's Web site at <http://www.sec.gov>. In addition, the fund's proxy voting record for the most recent 12-month period ended June 30 is available (i) without charge, upon request, by calling 800-330-7348 or (ii) on the SEC's Web site at <http://www.sec.gov>.

The fund files its complete schedule of portfolio holdings with the SEC for the first and third quarters of each fiscal year on Form N-Q. The fund's Forms N-Q are available (i) without charge, upon request by calling 800-330-7348, or (ii) on the SEC's Web site at <http://www.sec.gov>. In addition, the Forms N-Q may be reviewed and copied at the SEC's Public Reference Room in Washington, DC. Information on the operation of the Public Reference Room may be obtained by calling 800-SEC-0330.

Please note that the distributions paid by the fund to shareholders are subject to recharacterization for tax purposes. The fund may also pay distributions in excess of the fund's net investment company taxable income and this excess would be a tax-free return of capital distributed from the fund's assets. To the extent this occurs, the fund's shareholders of record will be notified of the estimated amount of capital returned to shareholders for each such distribution and this information will also be available at cohenandsteers.com. The final tax treatment of all distributions is reported to shareholders on their 1099-DIV forms, which are mailed after the close of each calendar year. Distributions of capital decrease the fund's total assets and, therefore, could have the effect of increasing the fund's expense ratio. In addition, in order to make these distributions, the fund may have to sell portfolio securities at a less than opportune time.
