On May 4, 2009, Force Protection, Inc. (the Company) appointed James J. Grazioplene as its Executive Vice President, Total Life Cycle Support, a new position within the Company's management structure.

In connection with Mr. Grazioplene's appointment, the Company and Mr. Grazioplene entered into a Severance Agreement dated as of May 4, 2009 (the Severance Agreement).

The Severance Agreement provides that if Mr. Grazioplene's employment is terminated by reason of a Non-Qualifying Termination (defined below), then Mr. Grazioplene shall be entitled to receive a lump-sum payment equal to his base salary accrued through the date of his termination; any accrued vacation; and any unpaid bonus accrued through the date of termination (except if terminated for cause by the Company). A Non-Qualifying Termination means a termination of Mr. Grazioplene's employment by the Company for cause, by Mr. Grazioplene for any reason other than good reason during certain periods, death and disability.

In the event that Mr. Grazioplene's employment is terminated for reasons other than by reason of a Non-Qualifying Termination in connection with a change in control, then Mr. Grazioplene shall be entitled to receive a lump-sum cash amount equal to his base salary accrued through the date of termination; any accrued vacation; the pro-rata portion of his bonus for that calendar year; a lump-sum cash payment amount equal to one and a half times the sum of Mr. Grazioplene's annual base salary and the greatest of Mr. Grazioplene's target bonus for that calendar year, the target bonus for the year in which the termination occurred and the average of the actual bonuses earned in the two preceding fiscal year in which a change of control occurs; the ability to elect the payment of his COBRA premiums by the Company for a period of eighteen months; the acceleration of vesting or lapse of forfeiture with respect to any outstanding equity awards then held by Mr. Grazioplene and such awards shall become immediately payable.

Mr. Grazioplene agreed to non-compete and non-solicit provisions during the term of his employment and for a twelve month period after the termination of his employment. Mr. Grazioplene also agreed to keep all confidential information received during the course of his employment confidential.
