On May 22, 2018, Intercontinental Exchange, Inc. (“ICE”) announced that Thomas W. Farley, 42, President of the NYSE Group, Inc. (“NYSE”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of ICE, will no longer serve as President of NYSE or executive officer of ICE effective on June 1, 2018, and will transition to be a part-time employee of ICE at such time. Mr. Farley is transitioning to pursue an entrepreneurial business opportunity. Stacey Cunningham, the current Chief Operating Officer of NYSE, will succeed Mr. Farley at NYSE, taking the title of President of NYSE, effective May 25, 2018. Ms. Cunningham joined NYSE in December 2012 and has served NYSE in many roles, most recently as Chief Operating Officer since June 2015. In addition, John Tuttle, NYSE’s Global Head of Listings, will expand his role to include global listings, capital markets and exchange-traded products, effective May 25, 2018, and will have the title of Chief Operating Officer of NYSE.

In connection with Mr. Farley’s transition, ICE and Mr. Farley entered into a Transition and Separation Agreement dated May 21, 2018 (the “Separation Agreement”). Pursuant to the Separation Agreement, Mr. Farley’s employment will transfer from NYSE to ICE and his title will be changed to Advisor to the Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Farley is expected to remain as a part-time employee of ICE until February 22, 2019 to facilitate an orderly transition of his duties and job responsibilities. Mr. Farley’s duties to ICE during this transition period will consist of providing advisory services on strategic, market and regulatory matters to one or more of ICE’s Chief Executive Officer, President and Vice Chairman. Mr. Farley will receive a reduced base salary of $12,000.00 per year during this transition period, will be entitled to a bonus payable at the end of his employment based on his performance during 2018 prior to his transition and will continue to vest in his existing equity awards and continue to receive his other standard benefits while employed with ICE. No severance payment will be provided to Mr. Farley. The Separation Agreement also contains standard non-competition and non-solicitation provisions, as well as confidentiality, waiver and non-disparagement provisions and a general release of claims against ICE. The foregoing description of the Separation Agreement does not purport to be complete and is subject to, and qualified in its entirety by, the full text of the Separation Agreement, a copy of which is filed hereto as Exhibit 10.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.
