Proxies in the form enclosed are solicited by the Board of Directors of Costco Wholesale Corporation (the "Company") to be voted at the annual meeting of shareholders to be held on January 31, 2007, or any adjournments (the "Annual Meeting"). The individuals named as proxies are Jeffrey H. Brotman and James D. Sinegal. The accompanying notice of meeting, this Proxy Statement and the form of proxy are being first sent to shareholders on or about December 15, 2006.

All shares represented by proxies received will be voted in accordance with instructions contained in the proxies. The Board of Directors unanimously recommends a vote:

FOR the nominees for director listed in these materials and on the proxy; and

FOR the ratification of the selection of the Company's independent auditors.

In the absence of voting instructions to the contrary, shares represented by validly executed proxies will be voted in accordance with the foregoing recommendations. A shareholder giving a proxy has the power to revoke it any time before it is voted by providing written notice to the Secretary of the Company, by delivering a later-dated proxy, or by voting in person at the Annual Meeting.

Only shareholders of record at the close of business on November 27, 2006 (the "Record Date") will be entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting. At the close of business on the Record Date, there were 455,949,262 shares of common stock, par value $.005 per share (the "Common Stock"), outstanding, which represent all of the voting securities of the Company. or by proxy, is required for the approval of each proposal. Shareholders who abstain from voting on any or all proposals will be included in the number of shareholders present at the meeting for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum. Abstentions and broker non-votes will not be included in the total of votes cast and will not affect the outcome of the vote.

In addition to mailing this material to shareholders, the Company has asked banks and brokers to forward copies to persons for whom they hold stock of the Company and request authority for execution of the proxies. The Company will reimburse the banks and brokers for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses in doing so. Officers and employees of the Company may, without being additionally compensated, solicit proxies by mail, telephone, facsimile or personal contact. All proxy-soliciting expenses will be paid by the Company in connection with the solicitation of votes for the Annual Meeting.

PROPOSAL 1: ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

The Board is divided into three classes. Directors are elected by class, for three-year terms. Successors to the class of directors whose term expires at any annual meeting are elected for three-year terms. Each of Benjamin S. Carson, Sr., M.D., William H. Gates, Hamilton E. James, and Jill S. Ruckelshaus is nominated as a member of Class II, to serve for a three-year term until the annual meeting of shareholders in 2010 and until his or her successor is elected and qualified.

Each of the nominees has indicated a willingness and ability to serve as a director. If any nominee becomes unable or unwilling to serve, the accompanying proxy may be voted for the election of such other person as shall be designated by the Board of Directors. The proxies being solicited will be voted for no more than four nominees at the Annual Meeting. Each director will be elected by a plurality of the votes cast, in person or by proxy, at the Annual Meeting, assuming a quorum is present.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

No member of the Compensation Committee is an executive officer or former officer of the Company. In addition, no executive officer of the Company served on the board of directors of any entity whose executive officers included a director of the Company.

Report of Compensation Committee

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors of the Company (the Committee) determined and administered the compensation of the Company's executive officers during fiscal 2006.

Compensation Philosophy. The Committee endeavored to ensure that the compensation programs for executive officers were effective in attracting and retaining key executives responsible for the success of the Company and in promoting its long-term interests and those of its shareholders. The Committee sought to align total compensation for senior management with corporate performance and the interests of the shareholders. The Committee placed emphasis on variable, performance-based components, such as stock awards and bonuses. These short-term and long-term incentive compensation programs were intended to reinforce management's commitment to enhancement of profitability and shareholder value.

Base salaries for the executive officers were established at levels considered appropriate in light of the duties and scope of responsibilities of each officer's position and, to the extent known, the salaries paid to comparable officers by companies which are competitors of the Company. The Committee focused primarily on total annual compensation, including incentive awards, rather than base salary alone. The Committee believes that it has established relatively low cash compensation levels in favor of equity-linked incentive programs. The Committee also reviewed publicly reported compensation amounts for executive officers at other retailers, placing emphasis on Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., The Home Depot, Inc., Target Corporation, BJ's Wholesale Club, Inc., and Lowe's Companies, and noted that the Company's executive officers generally receive lower compensation than executive officers at these other retailers. The Committee did not utilize compensation consultants in determining or recommending the amount or form of executive officer or director compensation.

The Company has adopted an executive bonus program, in which participating executives can earn a bonus of up to approximately 20% of base salary upon meeting specified performance targets. (A comparable bonus program exists for other officers and employees.) In awarding bonuses for fiscal 2006, the Committee primarily took into account quantitative indicators that included sales, controllable expenses, pre-tax income, margins, inventory shrinkage, and inventory turns. These criteria have been consistently used by the Company to measure performance of the material aspects of the business. The quantitative factors for particular senior officers depend upon whether their responsibilities are primarily merchandising, operations, a combination of both, or other. With the exception of Mr. Sinegal and Mr. Galanti, executive officers generally received all or nearly all of the bonus amounts for which they were eligible because of the Company's results. As previously disclosed, Mr. Sinegal and Mr. Galanti were not awarded bonuses for fiscal 2006 because in connection with the investigation of stock option practices they requested that bonuses not be awarded to them. (The investigation is discussed more fully in the Company's Form 10-K and Annual Report to Shareholders). For executive officers other than Mr. Brotman and Mr. Sinegal, Mr. Sinegal provided recommended salary and bonus amounts to the Committee for consideration, which the Committee approved.

In general, compensation payments in excess of $1 million to any of the Named Executive Officers are subject to a limitation on deductibility for the Company under Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). Certain performance-based compensation is not subject to such limitation. As previously disclosed, the Board of Directors determined this year to cease the awarding of stock options in favor of awards of restricted stock units, generally subject to the same vesting and expiration terms under which stock options were previously awarded but in amounts one-third of those awarded as stock options. In addition, the Committee has adopted procedures setting fixed dates for the granting of equity awards: the fifth business day following announcement of second and fourth quarter earnings. Grants may be made on other dates only upon the prior written determination of the Committee.

During June 2006 most executive officers received grants of 12,500 restricted share units under the Second Restated 2002 Stock Incentive Plan. The grants vest over approximately five years and expire ten years from the date of grant. Messrs. Sinegal, DiCerchio, Galanti, Jelinek, and Portera did not receive RSU grants in respect of fiscal 2006 until October 2006, after it was confirmed that the performance criteria established under section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code had been satisfied. Those grants were 25,000 for Mr. Sinegal, 15,000 for Mr. DiCerchio, and 12,500 for the other officers named. These grant levels were at one-half of expected annualized levels because additional grants were made in October 2006 as the Company transitioned its primary annual equity grant from the Spring to the Fall. The Committee believes that these grant levels are appropriate in light of the modest salary and bonus amounts received by senior officers relative to their performance and the performance of the Company. The Committee has delegated to Mr. Sinegal the authority to make compensation decisions for persons other than the Board of Directors and executive officers, including salary, bonus, and equity grants.

Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board Compensation. In evaluating the compensation of James D. Sinegal, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company and Jeffrey H. Brotman, Chairman of the Board, the Committee placed emphasis on their superior leadership, as well as the Company's financial and operating performance. The Committee noted that these individuals' salaries have not increased in six years. Mr. Sinegal's employment agreement for fiscal 2005 provided for a base salary of $350,000 and a bonus of up to $200,000 at the discretion of the Committee or the Board of Directors. As noted above, Mr. Sinegal determined not to request a bonus this year; Mr. Brotman was awarded a bonus of $200,000. In light of these facts, the contributions they have made this year, the compensation of their peers, and the performance of the Company, the Committee believes that Mr. Sinegal and Mr. Brotman are underpaid. Accordingly, their compensation levels for fiscal 2006 are fair to the Company.
