ALLERGAN TO HOLD SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS ON ORIGINALLY SCHEDULED DATE OF DECEMBER 18 WITHOUT RESTRICTION

Allergan Board Committed to Providing Stockholders with Forum to Express Opinion on Valeant

Value Proposition

Valeant and Pershing Square Agree to Dismiss Pending Litigation in Delaware

Irvine, Calif., (September 15, 2014) Allergan, Inc. (NYSE: AGN) (Allergan or the Company) today announced that it has reached an agreement with Pershing Square Capital Management, L.P. (Pershing Square) and Valeant Pharmaceuticals (NYSE: VRX) (Valeant) under which Allergan will hold the Special Meeting of Stockholders (the Special Meeting) on the originally scheduled date of December 18, 2014, without restriction, and Pershing Square and Valeant will dismiss their pending litigation before the Delaware Court of Chancery. In connection, Allergan has established an October 30, 2014 record date for stockholders entitled to vote at the Special Meeting.

Given the Special Meeting will be held on the same date Allergan already announced, today's announcement eliminates the distraction and cost of unnecessary litigation over the Company's bylaws and underscores the Allergan Board of Directors' long-standing commitment to providing stockholders with a forum to express their opinion on the value proposition offered by Valeant.

The United States District Court for the Central District of California has set October 28, 2014 as the hearing date for Allergan's motion for a preliminary injunction against Valeant and Pershing Square for violations of the federal securities laws, including insider trading. Allergan continues to believe that stockholders should have the opportunity to make decisions regarding their investment in the Company based on compliant, full and fair disclosures, and to ensure that any stockholders voting on corporate matters acquired their shares in accordance with the law. If Allergan's motion is granted, the injunction would prevent Valeant, Pershing Square, and William A. Ackman from voting their shares at any meeting of stockholders.

Allergan continues to believe that Valeant's unsolicited exchange offer is grossly inadequate, and the Board is confident in the Company's ability to create significantly more value than Valeant's offer. In this regard, the Company recently recorded the strongest increase in absolute dollar sales in any quarter in the Company's history, and again delivered sales and earnings per share growth above the high end of expectations. Allergan's value creation plan for its stockholders will significantly reduce costs in 2015 by approximately $475 million annually relative to its prior strategic plan, while preserving the Company's ability to deliver double digit sales growth across the next five years. Over the same five year period, Allergan expects to generate compounded annual adjusted EPS growth of more than 20 percent, including estimated 2016 EPS at approximately $10.00.

Allergan strongly recommends that stockholders reject Valeant's exchange offer and prevent Valeant from taking control of Allergan at a price that does not appropriately reflect the underlying value of Allergan's assets, operations and prospects, including its industry-leading position and projected growth opportunities.

Goldman, Sachs & Co. and BofA Merrill Lynch are serving as financial advisors to the Company and Latham & Watkins, Richards, Layton & Finger, P.A. and Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz are serving as legal counsel to the Company.

Allergan Comments on Pershing Square's Delivery of

Additional Requests from Stockholders Owning 1.5% of Allergan's Shares

Irvine, Calif., (September 11, 2014) Allergan, Inc. (NYSE: AGN) (Allergan or the Company) today commented on Pershing Square Capital Management, L.P.'s (Pershing Square) delivery of additional requests from stockholders owning 1.5% of Allergan's shares to call a Special Meeting of Stockholders (the Special Meeting). Allergan will review these requests in addition to the requests from stockholders owning 2.8% of Allergan's shares that were delivered on September 3, 2014. The Company issued the following statement:

Notwithstanding Pershing Square and Valeant Pharmaceuticals International, Inc.'s (Valeant) efforts to change the subject, Allergan recognizes that what actually matters is value, and that's what the Company is focusing on delivering to stockholders. In that regard, Allergan's current strategic plan (2014 through 2019) is expected to deliver a compounded annual growth rate of greater than 20% EPS growth, including estimated 2016 EPS at approximately $10.00.

Allergan has already scheduled the Special Meeting for December 18, 2014. As such, the delivery of additional requests for the Special Meeting by Pershing Square is not a meaningful development. The lawsuit in California is seeking an order barring Valeant, Pershing Square, Mr. Ackman, and entities affiliated with them from voting shares that Allergan believes were acquired in violation of the federal securities laws, including insider trading. If Allergan's motion for a preliminary injunction is granted, it would prevent Valeant, Pershing Square, and Mr. Ackman from voting their shares at any meeting of stockholders.

Goldman, Sachs & Co. and BofA Merrill Lynch are serving as financial advisors to the Company and Latham & Watkins, Richards, Layton & Finger, P.A. and Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz are serving as legal counsel to the Company.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Allergan Provides Update on Written Requests from Pershing Square Regarding Special Meeting of Stockholders

Irvine, Calif., (September 4, 2014) Allergan, Inc. (NYSE: AGN) (Allergan or the Company) today provided an update regarding the validity of the written requests from Allergan stockholders that were delivered by Pershing Square Capital Management, L.P. (Pershing Square) to request a Special Meeting of Stockholders (the Special Meeting).

According to a review conducted by Allergan and its independent inspector, Pershing Square has delivered requests that comply as to form with Allergan's bylaws from stockholders owning more than 25% of Allergan's shares, which does not include the additional requests from stockholders owning 2.8% of Allergan's shares that were delivered on September 3, 2014.

Allergan is scheduled to hold a Special Meeting on December 18, 2014. Stockholders who have requested the Special Meeting must further update and supplement the information previously provided to Allergan to show ongoing compliance as of the record date and as of ten business days prior to the Special Meeting. The Company will announce additional details regarding the Special Meeting in due course.
