RELEVANT NOTICE

In compliance with the provisions of CVM (Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission) Instructions Nos. 319/99 and 358/02, Ultrapar Participações S.A. (“Ultrapar”), together with its controlled companies Refinaria de Petróleo Ipiranga S.A. (“RPI”), Distribuidora de Produtos de Petróleo Ipiranga S.A. (“DPPI”) and Companhia Brasileira de Petróleo Ipiranga (“CBPI”) (RPI, DPPI and CBPI are jointly referred to as the “Ipiranga Group”), inform that they intend to carry out a corporate restructuring, as follows:

As disclosed by Ultrapar, Petróleo Brasileiro S.A. – Petrobras (“Petrobras”) and Braskem S.A. (“Braskem”) in the relevant notices of March 19, 2007, April 18, 2007 and April 19, 2007, Ultrapar, on its own behalf and as a commission agent for and on behalf of Braskem and Petrobras, purchased all of the shares in RPI, DPPI and CBPI held by the former controlling shareholders of the Ipiranga Group.

The Ipiranga Group has a complex shareholding structure, consisting of three companies engaged in the same sectors, with cross shareholdings, and with an asymmetrical shareholding structure, to the extent that there are three universes of minority shareholders.

This shareholding structure compromises the operational, administrative and corporate efficiency of such companies, and also it does not allow the shareholders to have interests in a single company that concentrates the liquidity of the whole shareholding base of the Ipiranga Group with a high corporate governance standard and aligned interests.

Ultrapar, in the capacity of controlling shareholder of the companies that comprise the Ipiranga Group, is interested in strengthening such companies and adopting measures that assure greater efficiency.

RPI, CBPI, DPPI and Ultrapar believe that the share exchange is the most adequate and effective measure to resolve these issues in the interest of all companies, to the extent that it will simplify the corporate structure of the companies comprising the Ipiranga Group, increasing their size and operational freedom, and ensuring their strengthening. In view of this, they decided to call special general meetings for December 18, 2007, at which their shareholders will deliberate upon the share exchange of RPI, DPPI and CBPI, as applicable, by Ultrapar ("Share Exchange Transactions").

1. OBJECTIVES AND COSTS.

1.1. Objectives. The Share Exchange Transactions are aimed at making the corporate structure of the Ipiranga Group simpler, and specializing and developing the businesses of Ipiranga Group. The following objectives are planned to be achieved through the Share Exchange Transactions, to the benefit of the relevant companies and their shareholders:

- simplification of the complex corporate structure of the Ipiranga Group;
- strengthening of the Ipiranga Group companies by eliminating the complex capital and corporate structure, thus enabling an improved operational and administrative efficiency and a greater capacity to make investments;
- specialization and development of the companies that comprise the Ipiranga Group;
- alignment of the interests of all shareholders of the companies;
- increase in the liquidity of the shares of all companies, to the extent that the shareholder base will be widened through the concentration of all shareholders of the companies in a single company, with shares traded in stock exchanges in Brazil, and in New York through ADRs; and
- extension of ULTRAPAR's recognized corporate governance standards to all shareholders of RPI, particularly with regard to the 100% tag-along right for preferred shares.

1.2. Costs. Ultrapar, RPI, DPPI and CBPI estimate that they will incur costs in the Share Exchange Transactions of around five million reais (R$ 5,000,000.00), including expenses related to publishing, preparation of valuation reports and economic/financial valuations, domestic and foreign auditors', appraisers', consultants' and attorneys' fees, filings with the SEC and other related expenses.

2. BUSINESS AND CORPORATE ACTIONS THAT PRECEDED THE SHARE EXCHANGE TRANSACTIONS.

No business or corporate actions related to the Share Exchange Transactions were taken other than those disclosed in this relevant notice and in the relevant notices of March 19, 2007, April 18, 2007 and April 19, 2007 referred to above.

3. NUMBER, TYPE AND CLASS OF SHARES TO BE DELIVERED.

3.1. Shares To Be Delivered.

(a) upon the share exchange by Ultrapar of shares in RPI, 0.79850 preferred share issued by Ultrapar shall be attributed to each one (1) common or preferred share issued by RPI;

(b) upon the share exchange by Ultrapar of shares in DPPI, 0.64048 preferred share issued by Ultrapar shall be attributed to each one (1) common or preferred share issued by DPPI; and

(c) upon the share exchange by Ultrapar of shares in CBPI, 0.41846 preferred share issued by Ultrapar shall be attributed to each one (1) common or preferred share issued by CBPI.

3.2. Fractions of Shares. Fractions of shares issued by Ultrapar resulting from the substitution in the position of each shareholder of RPI, DPPI and CBPI as a result of the Share Exchange Transactions shall be sold in an auction at the Bolsa de Valores de São Paulo – BOVESPA, and the proceeds resulting from this selling will be delivered to the respective shareholder after the financial settlement of the shares sold in the auction.

3.3. Criteria Used to Determine the Exchange Ratios. The exchange ratios set for the Share Exchange Transactions were determined based on economic/financial valuations of the relevant companies according to the same criterion of future profitability prospects. For the purposes of setting the exchange ratios, Ultrapar's management relied upon a valuation prepared by Deutsche Bank (qualified in item 11.1), while the Managements of RPI, DPPI and CBPI relied upon the valuation prepared by Credit Suisse (qualified in item 11.1) for the purpose of the Share Exchange Transactions. In this regard, see item 6 below and sub-items thereof.

3.4 Reasons for the Operation to be Deemed Equitable for the Shareholders. The exchange ratio set for the Shareholders is fair and equitable, as demonstrated by valuations made by Deutsche Bank and Credit Suisse.

4. POLITICAL AND EQUITY RIGHTS AND ADVANTAGES OF THE SHARES.

4.1. Comparison Between the Political and Equity Rights and Advantages of the Shares. The political and equity rights and advantages of the shares issued by Ultrapar are different in certain aspects from the rights and advantages of the shares issued by RPI, DPPI and CBPI, and it should be highlighted that the shares in Ultrapar have rights that align the interests of all shareholders, as a reference of good corporate governance, which are superior to those of the shares in RPI, DPPI and CBPI, particularly the tag-along right at 100% of the price in the event of sale of control, as explained below:

Corporation	Type of Share	Voting Right	Profit Sharing/ Priority Upon Liquidation	Tag-Along*	Liquidation	Share Repayment Amount	Exclusion of Preemptive Right

5. SHARES TO BE RECEIVED BY THE SHAREHOLDERS.

The shareholders of RPI, DPPI and CBPI will receive preferred shares in Ultrapar in exchange for the shares held thereby, in order to allow for a single class of preferred shares, with the unification of the whole shareholding base in the same share in Ultrapar where the liquidity is concentrated and which is permitted to be traded in Brazil and in the New York Stock Exchange.

6. CALCULATION OF THE EXCHANGE RATIOS AND SHAREHOLDERS' EQUITY VALUATION CRITERIA.

6.1. Accounting Valuation. RPI, DPPI and CBPI shares to be exchanged by Ultrapar shares were evaluated at the book value, based on the balance sheets of said companies as of September 30, 2007, audited by KPMG Auditores Independentes ("KPMG"). Said valuations were prepared by KPMG, and determined the amounts of R$769,503,076.33 for the total shares in RPI, R$909,971,402.47 for the total shares in DPPI, and R$1,839,874,344.03 for the total shares in CBPI.

6.2. Valuation Based on Future Profitability Prospects. As explained in item 3.3, Deutsche Bank (qualified in item 11.1) was engaged by Ultrapar to evaluate RPI, DPPI, CBPI and Ultrapar based on their future profitability prospects. The valuations resulted in the following ranges of values: (a) R$51.63 to R$57.06 per share issued by RPI; (b) R$41.11 to R$45.44 per share issued by DPPI; (c) R$26.97 to R$29.81 per share issued by CBPI; and (d) R$64.48 to R$71.26 per share issued by Ultrapar. Likewise, Credit Suisse (also qualified in item 11.1) prepared, upon request of RPI's, DPPI's and CBPI's management, economic/financial valuations, also based on RPI's, DPPI's, CBPI's and Ultrapar's future profitability prospects. Credit Suisse's valuations resulted in the following ranges of values: (a) R$50.90 to R$56.26 per share issued by RPI; (b) R$42.00 to R$46.42 per share issued by DPPI; (c) R$27.65 to R$30.57 per share issued by CBPI; and (d) R$64.50 to R$71.29 per share issued by Ultrapar. Based on such valuations, Ultrapar's, RPI's, DPPI's and CBPI's management set the ratios for exchange of shares in RPI, DPPI and CBPI for shares in Ultrapar, as set forth in item 3.1.

6.3. Valuation of the Shareholders' Equity at Market Value. For the purposes of article 264 of Law 6.404/76, the shareholders' equities of Ultrapar, RPI, DPPI and CBPI were valued at market value, following the same criteria and as of the same date, September 30, 2007, by APSIS, a specialized company qualified in item 11.1.

6.3.1 Exchange Ratios based on Shareholders' Equity Values at Market Value. APSIS' valuation reports resulted in the following exchange rates: (a) 0.722591 share in Ultrapar for each one (1) share in RPI; (b) 0.644359 share in Ultrapar for each one (1) share in DPPI; and (c) 0.409277 share in Ultrapar for each one (1) share in CBPI.

6.4. Treatment of Subsequent Equity Variations. The base date of the Share Exchange Transactions is September 30, 2007. Equity variations occurring after said date until the date of the completion of the Share Exchange Transactions shall be accounted for in Ultrapar by equity in earnings of affiliated.

7. SOLUTION REGARDING SHARES IN THE CAPITAL OF A COMPANY HELD BY THE OTHER.

As of this date, there are no shares issued by Ultrapar that are held by RPI, DPPI or CBPI. The shares that Ultrapar will hold in RPI, DPPI and CBPI as a result of the Share Exchange Transactions shall continue to be held by Ultrapar. Eventual reciprocal interests, if any, that may result from the Share Exchange Transactions shall be eliminated within the legal period, pursuant to art. 224, paragraph 5, of the Brazilian Corporation Act.

13. OTHER CONDITIONS FOR THE SHARE EXCHANGE TRANSACTIONS.

13.1. Trading on Bovespa. As a result of the practices established by the São Paulo Stock Exchange – Bovespa, Ultrapar shares issued within the context of the Share Incorporation Transactions will be traded under ticker symbol RPI, DPPI and CBPI until the Share Exchange Transactions are ratified by the management of Ultrapar, RPI, DPPI and CBPI, after the expiration of the period for exercise of the right of withdrawal, or after the period of ten (10) days set forth in article 137, par. 3 of Law 6.404/76 has expired without a new meeting being called.

13.2. Future Business Plans. Ultrapar is planning significant investments in the following years in order to promote the growth of its business, based on investments in differentiated products, access to competitive raw materials and increase of the operational leverage. At Oxiteno, ongoing expansion projects of over US$ 320 million, including the first fatty alcohol production unit in Latin America and a 40% increase in the production capacity of ethylene oxide and other specialty chemicals, will enable increased sales volumes and a growing operational leverage. Additionally, Oxiteno will continue its internalization process, particularly strengthening its leadership in the Americas whether by opening commercial offices or through acquisitions. At Ultragas we have planned to invest R$ 50 million to strengthen our position in Brazil's North and Northeast, selling LPG in certain states where the potential market growth is above the country's average. At Ultracargo we will invest about R$ 110 million between 2008-09 to expand its current liquid storage capacity by 35% due to the increase in the demand for logistics infrastructure in Brazil, which is related mainly to biofuels and the foreign trade flow. At Ipiranga we will continue to implement our business plan, which is based on enhancing the investment capacity and significantly increasing volumes, thus generating a growing operational leverage.

In the event that the Share Exchange Transactions are approved and, after the expiration of the legal period, RPI's, DPPI's, CBPI's and Ultrapar's shareholders, as applicable, do not reconsider the Share Exchange Transactions, it is expected that: (a) a capital reduction will be performed at RPI and CBPI in order to transfer directly to Ultrapar the petrochemical assets, represented by shares in Ipiranga Química S.A., to be subsequently delivered to Braskem and Petrobras pursuant to the Investment Agreement; and (b) CBPI will be split in order to transfer the fuel and lubricant distribution businesses located in the Northern, Northeastern and Midwestern regions to a company controlled by Petrobras.

Based on this examination and discussion, the board members concluded that, in their best judgement, such reports were prepared according to

The shares issued by RPI, which are held by ULTRAPAR, will continue to be held by ULTRAPAR. Any reciprocal stake, as a consequence of the ownership of the shares issued by ULTRAPAR, held by RPI as a result of the corporate reorganization, if this should be the case, will be eliminated within the legal time limit, in accordance with Article 244, paragraph 5 of Brazilian Corporation Law.

3.2. Treatment of Shares Held in Treasury. There are no shares issued by RPI in treasury.

FOURTH CLAUSE

CAPITAL INCREASE OF ULTRAPAR

4.1. Increase in the Subscribed Paid-in Capital of ULTRAPAR. The Share Exchange will result in an increase in the paid-in capital of ULTRAPAR, through the transfer of all the shares of the shareholders of RPI to the paid-in capital of ULTRAPAR. Accordingly, the following proposal will be submitted to the shareholders of ULTRAPAR for a change in the initial paragraph of Article 5° of the bylaws, as well as the following proposal for the alteration of paragraph 1° of the referred article:

“Art. 5° The paid-in capital, subscribed and paid for, amounts to R$ 1,654,973,814.40 (one billion, six hundred and fifty-four million, nine hundred and seventy-three thousand, eight hundred and fourteen reais and forty cents), divided into 95,441,111 (ninety-five million, four hundred and forty one thousand, one hundred and eleven) shares without nominal value, all nominative, being 49,429,897 (forty-nine million, four hundred and twenty-nine thousand, eight hundred and ninety-seven) common shares and 46,011,214 (forty-six million, eleven thousand, two hundred and fourteen) preferred book-entry shares.

REASONS FOR THE SHARE EXCHANGE

6.1. Reasons for the Share Exchange. The managements of ULTRAPAR and RPI decided to carry out the Share Exchange, being of the opinion that it is in the best interest of the companies involved, in light of the foregoing, particularly because of the:

- (c) specialization and development of the businesses that comprise the Ipiranga Group;

- (d) alignment of the interests of all the shareholders of the companies;

- (e) increase in the liquidity of the shares of all companies, to the extent that the shareholder base will be widened through the concentration of all shareholders of the companies into a single company, with shares traded in stock exchanges in Brazil and in New York through ADRs; and

7.1. Shares to Be Delivered to the Shareholders of RPI. The holders of preferred and common shares of RPI will receive, in replacement for their shares, preferred shares of ULTRAPAR, in accordance with Clause 1 above, which is justified as a way of permitting the non-controlling shareholders of RPI to participate in the type of shares of ULTRAPAR, where liquidity is concentrated and whose trading is permitted both in Brazil and abroad.

EIGHTH CLAUSE

PROTOCOL AND JUSTIFICATION OF THE SHARE EXCHANGE OF COMPANHIA BRASILEIRA
DE PETRÓLEO IPIRANGA BY ULTRAPAR PARTICIPAÇÕES S.A.

BETWEEN

COMPANHIA BRASILEIRA DE PETRÓLEO IPIRANGA.

AND

ULTRAPAR PARTICIPAÇÕES S.A.

DATED NOVEMBER 9, 2007

Protocol and Justification of the Share exchange Issued by Companhia Brasileira de Petróleo Ipiranga by Ultrapar Participações S.A.

Under this agreement, the parties set out below:

- a. Companhia Brasileira de Petróleo Ipiranga, a limited company, whose headquarters are located at Rua Francisco Eugênio, 329, in the City of Rio de Janeiro, in the State of Rio de Janeiro, inscribed on the National Corporate Registry (CNPJ/MF) under No. 33.069.766/0001-81 (“CBPI”), in this act represented in accordance with its bylaws, in its capacity as the company whose shares are to be exchanged; and
- b. Ultrapar Participações S.A., a limited company, whose headquarters are located at Avenida Brigadeiro Luiz Antonio, 1343, 9th floor, in the City of São Paulo, in the State of São Paulo, inscribed on the National Corporate Registry (CNPJ/MF) under No. 33.256.439/0001-39 (“ULTRAPAR”), in this act represented in accordance with its bylaws, in the capacity of the company whose shares will be received;

Duly agreed between them, hereby commit themselves to this Protocol and Justification of the Share Exchange of Companhia Brasileira de Petróleo Ipiranga by Ultrapar Participações S.A. (“Protocol and Justification”), in accordance with Articles 224 and 225 of Law n° 6.404/76 (“Brazilian Corporation Law.”).

Whereas, on March 18, 2007, ULTRAPAR, Petróleo Brasileiro S.A. (“Petrobras”) and Braskem S.A. (“Braskem”) entered into an investment agreement for the acquisition of all the shares issued by Refinaria de Petróleo Ipiranga S.A. (“RPI”), Distribuidora de Produtos de Petróleo Ipiranga S.A. (“DPPI”) and CBPI held by controlling shareholders of RPI and DPPI (“Investment Agreement”);

Whereas, under the terms of the Investment Agreement and in accordance with the Relevant Notice published on March 19, 2007, the transaction of the acquisition of the Ipiranga Group involves several stages, including, among others, (a) the acquisition of the shares issued by RPI, DPPI and CBPI by ULTRAPAR, (b) the carrying out of public share offerings of RPI, DPPI, CBPI and (c) the Share Exchange of RPI, DPPI and CBPI for preferred shares of ULTRAPAR (with respect to each of RPI, DPPI and CBPI, a “Share Exchange” and together, the “Share Exchanges”);

Whereas, upon the conclusion of phase (a) above, RPI, DPPI and CBPI became directly or indirectly controlled by ULTRAPAR, in accordance with Article 116 of Brazilian Corporation Law;

Whereas, in addition to phase (a), phase (b) above was also completed and that the managements of ULTRAPAR and CBPI intend, through this Protocol and Justification, to establish the terms and conditions proposed for phase (c), the Share Exchange;

Whereas RPI, DPPI and CBPI (together, the “Ipiranga Companies”) have a complex corporate structure, to the extent that they consist of various companies that operate in the same sector, having stakes in each other;

Whereas the Ipiranga Companies have an asymmetric base and shareholding structure, to the extent that there are three groups of different minority shareholders, in each of the companies and that the companies hold preferred shares issued with different characteristics;

Whereas this corporate structure impairs the operational, administrative and shareholding efficiency of Ipiranga companies;

Whereas the Share Exchanges, among other benefits, aim to resolve these questions, on behalf of, and in the interest of, all the companies, to the extent that it will simplify the corporate structure of the Ipiranga Companies, increasing their size and operational freedom, and ensuring their strengthening;

Whereas the Share Exchanges, in addition to the evident benefits for the Ipiranga Companies, will provide additional benefits to the shareholders of the Ipiranga Companies, by allowing them to participate in a listed company that will concentrate the shareholder bases of the four companies, which should ensure greater liquidity for the shares of all shareholders, to the extent that it will broaden the shareholder base, which will thus consist of shareholders of ULTRAPAR, RPI, CBPI and DPPI, with shares traded on the São Paulo and New York stock exchanges;

Whereas, in addition to the increased liquidity, the Share Exchanges will provide the shareholders of the Ipiranga Companies a stake in ULTRAPAR, which is a company recognized for its good corporate governance structure and with all the interests of its shareholders aligned, an example being the tag-along right granted to the preferred shares of ULTRAPAR;

Whereas ULTRAPAR, in its capacity as controlling shareholder of the Ipiranga Companies, has an interest in strengthening these companies and adopting measures to improve their efficiency;

Whereas taking into consideration that the managements of ULTRAPAR and CBPI consider the Share Exchange to be an essential step in order to achieve these objectives;

The managements of Ultrapar and CBPI hereby resolve, in accordance with Articles 224, 225, 252 and 264 of Brazilian Corporation Law, to sign this Protocol and Justification in accordance with the following terms and conditions.
