IPC HOLDINGS, LTD.

SOLICITATION STATEMENT TO REQUISITION A SPECIAL GENERAL MEETING OF IPC HOLDINGS, LTD.
BY VALIDUS HOLDINGS, LTD.

To the Shareholders of IPC Holdings, Ltd.:

Validus Holdings, Ltd., a Bermuda exempted company (Validus, us or we), is hereby asking you to compel the board of directors of IPC Holdings, Ltd., a Bermuda exempted company (IPC), to call a special general meeting of IPC. This solicitation statement (this solicitation statement) and the accompanying GREEN requisition card are being furnished by Validus to holders of IPC s common shares, par value $0.01 per share (the IPC common shares). Validus is seeking your written requisition to compel the board of directors of IPC to call a special general meeting of IPC (the IPC special general meeting) for the purposes described below. IPC shareholders holding at least 10% of the issued and outstanding IPC common shares (the requisite IPC shareholders) may, by executing and delivering written requisitions, compel the IPC board of directors to call the IPC special general meeting.

We are soliciting written requisitions to compel the IPC board of directors to call the IPC special general meeting in connection with Validus offer to acquire all IPC common shares for $3.75 in cash (less any applicable withholding taxes and without interest) and 1.1234 Validus voting common shares, par value $0.175 per share (the Validus shares) for each IPC common share (the Validus transaction consideration). Validus is simultaneously pursuing three alternatives to consummate the acquisition of all IPC common shares (the acquisition) for the Validus transaction consideration: its pending amalgamation offer (the Validus amalgamation offer); its pending exchange offer (the exchange offer); and its previously announced scheme of arrangement as set forth in Annex A hereto (the Validus scheme of arrangement) under Part VII of The Companies Act of 1981 of Bermuda, as amended (the Companies Act). Validus will determine which method is most effective and efficient to consummate the acquisition. Depending on how the acquisition is accomplished, IPC shareholders may be asked to consider at the IPC special general meeting one or more of the four proposals described herein (the Validus proposals). If the IPC board of directors cooperates with Validus and executes the proposed agreement and plan of amalgamation and two amendments thereto (as amended, the Validus amalgamation agreement) delivered to IPC and signed by Validus, the IPC special general meeting may be unnecessary and may not be held. While Validus continues to seek a consensual amalgamation transaction with IPC, we will continue to pursue the exchange offer and the Validus scheme of arrangement in order to complete the acquisition and will seek to replace the IPC board of directors if an agreement with the IPC board of directors is not reached in a timely fashion.

WE ARE NOT SEEKING YOUR PROXY, CONSENT OR AUTHORIZATION AT THIS TIME FOR ANY PROPOSALS TO BE CONSIDERED AT THE IPC SPECIAL GENERAL MEETING. WE ARE ONLY SOLICITING YOUR WRITTEN REQUISITION TO COMPEL THE IPC BOARD OF DIRECTORS TO CALL THE IPC SPECIAL GENERAL MEETING. AFTER THE IPC SPECIAL GENERAL MEETING HAS BEEN SCHEDULED, WE WILL SEND YOU PROXY MATERIALS WITH RESPECT TO THE PROPOSALS TO BE CONSIDERED AT THE IPC SPECIAL GENERAL MEETING.

The written requisitions may be presented by Validus to the Supreme Court of Bermuda as evidence of IPC shareholder support for the Validus scheme of arrangement.

IPC shareholders holding at least 10% of the issued and outstanding IPC common shares may, by executing and delivering written requisitions, compel the IPC board of directors to call the IPC special general meeting. The written requisitions to be executed by IPC shareholders will grant Validus the power and authority to convene the IPC special general meeting, assuming written requisitions are executed by the requisite IPC shareholders and deposited by Validus with IPC, if the board of directors of IPC fails to proceed duly within 21 days from the date of the deposit of the requisitions with IPC to convene the IPC special general meeting.

Table of Contents

This solicitation statement is being sent to you to solicit your written requisition to compel the IPC board of directors to call the IPC special general meeting. If you believe that you, an IPC shareholder, should have the opportunity to benefit from the greater value provided by Validus, we urge you to promptly sign and return the GREEN requisition card to compel the board of directors of IPC to call the IPC special general meeting.

THIS SOLICITATION IS BEING MADE BY VALIDUS AND NOT ON BEHALF OF THE IPC BOARD OF DIRECTORS. YOUR WRITTEN REQUISITION IS IMPORTANT, NO MATTER HOW MANY OR HOW FEW SHARES YOU OWN. WE URGE YOU TO COMPLETE, SIGN, DATE AND RETURN THE ENCLOSED GREEN REQUISITION CARD TO CALL THE IPC SPECIAL GENERAL MEETING.

Requisitions to call the IPC special general meeting should be delivered as promptly as possible, by mail using the enclosed envelope. The sooner we receive written requisitions from IPC shareholders holding at least 10% of the issued and outstanding IPC common shares, the sooner we can requisition the IPC special general meeting and the sooner we will be able to provide evidence of IPC shareholder support for the Validus scheme of arrangement to the Court.

Please complete, sign, date and return the enclosed GREEN requisition card in the enclosed envelope today! If you have any questions about executing or delivering your GREEN requisition card or require assistance, please contact Validus solicitation agent, Georgeson Inc. (Georgeson):

THE ACQUISITION

In order to consummate the acquisition, Validus is simultaneously pursuing the following alternative transaction structures:

- (1) the Validus amalgamation offer;
- (2) the exchange offer; and
- (3) the Validus scheme of arrangement.

The Validus amalgamation offer, the exchange offer and the Validus scheme of arrangement are alternative methods for Validus to acquire all IPC common shares on the same economic terms. Ultimately, only one of these transaction structures can be pursued to completion. Validus intends to seek to acquire all IPC common shares by whichever method Validus determines is most effective and efficient to consummate the acquisition.

On March 1, 2009, IPC entered into an Agreement and Plan of Amalgamation, as amended on March 5, 2009, among Max Capital Group Ltd. (Max), IPC and IPC Limited (the Max amalgamation agreement) which would have resulted in the amalgamation of Max with IPC Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of IPC (the proposed Max amalgamation). On March 31, 2009, Validus publicly announced that it had delivered to IPC an offer (the initial Validus offer) to effect the acquisition of IPC by Validus by the amalgamation of Validus Ltd., a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Validus, with IPC whereby each IPC common share would be exchanged for 1.2037 Validus shares. IPC announced on April 7, 2009 that its board of directors had determined that the initial Validus offer did not constitute a superior proposal to the proposed Max amalgamation and reaffirmed its support of the proposed Max amalgamation. Validus amended the initial Validus offer on May 18, 2009 to include 1.1234 Validus shares and $3.00 in cash (less any applicable withholding taxes and without interest). IPC announced on May 21, 2009 that its board of directors had determined that the initial Validus offer, as amended, did not constitute a superior proposal to the proposed Max amalgamation and reaffirmed its support of the proposed Max amalgamation. On June 8, 2009, Validus publicly announced that it had delivered to IPC an increased offer to acquire each outstanding IPC common share for the Validus transaction consideration. In addition, IPC shareholders will receive cash in lieu of any fractional Validus shares to which they may be entitled. Validus has also delivered the Validus amalgamation agreement signed by Validus so that, upon a termination of the Max amalgamation agreement, IPC would have the certainty of Validus transaction and would be able to sign the Validus amalgamation agreement. IPC announced on June 9, 2009 that its board of directors had determined that the Validus amalgamation offer did not constitute a superior proposal to the proposed Max amalgamation and reaffirmed its support of the proposed Max amalgamation. On June 12, 2009, IPC shareholders voted down the proposed Max amalgamation at IPC s annual general meeting, and Max s board of directors subsequently terminated the Max amalgamation agreement. Approximately 72% of the votes cast at the IPC annual general meeting voted against the proposed Max amalgamation.

In order to consummate the acquisition without the cooperation of the current IPC board of directors, Validus is pursuing a three-part plan.

First, Validus solicited proxies from IPC shareholders to vote against the proposed Max amalgamation, which was voted down by IPC shareholders on June 12, 2009. Max s board of directors subsequently terminated the Max amalgamation agreement. Accordingly, IPC s board of directors is now free to enter into the Validus amalgamation agreement.

Second, Validus has commenced the exchange offer. The exchange offer is subject to the terms and conditions described in the prospectus/offer to exchange included in the Registration Statement on Form S-4 filed by Validus with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC). Under Bermuda law, if Validus acquires at least 90% of the IPC common shares which it is seeking to acquire in the exchange offer, Validus will have the right to acquire the remaining IPC common shares on the same terms in a second-step acquisition. The Chairman of IPC's board of directors sent a letter to Validus which stated that IPC's restated bye-laws (the Bye-laws) would prevent Validus from becoming the legal owner of 10% or more of the IPC common shares. Validus believes, based upon the advice of Bermuda and UK counsel, that the Bye-laws will not operate to prevent Validus from accepting IPC common shares for exchange in the exchange offer and acquiring beneficial ownership of any such IPC common shares. IPC has stated in a letter to its shareholders that IPC believes that Validus faces substantial legal uncertainties if it attempts to squeeze out IPC's remaining shareholders on such basis. Validus will take such actions as are necessary, including by seeking a judgment of a Bermuda court, to enforce its rights under Section 102 and/or Section 103 of the Companies Act to the extent that any person (including IPC, IPC's board of directors or any IPC shareholder) seeks to restrict the operation thereof. However, resolution of any such actions or proceedings is not a condition to the exchange offer and there can be no certainty as to the outcome of any such actions or proceedings.

The expiration time of the exchange offer will be June 26, 2009, unless extended. As a result, if the conditions of the exchange offer are satisfied or waived at the expiration time of the exchange offer, Validus would be able to acquire all of the IPC common shares that are validly tendered pursuant to the exchange offer.

Third, Validus is pursuing the Validus scheme of arrangement. In order to implement the Validus scheme of arrangement, the IPC shareholders must approve the Validus scheme of arrangement at the court-ordered IPC meeting, IPC must separately approve the Validus scheme of arrangement, the IPC shareholders must approve the Validus proposals and the Validus scheme of arrangement must be sanctioned by the Supreme Court of Bermuda. The Validus scheme of arrangement must be approved by a majority in number of the holders of IPC common shares voting at the court-ordered IPC meeting, whether in person or by proxy, representing 75% or more in value of the IPC common shares voting at the court-ordered IPC meeting, whether in person or by proxy. If the IPC shareholders approve the Validus scheme of arrangement at the court-ordered IPC meeting, the separate approval of IPC of the Validus scheme of arrangement can be provided by either (i) the IPC board of directors voluntarily complying with the will of the IPC shareholders as expressed at the court-ordered IPC meeting, or (ii) the shareholders of IPC approving resolutions at the IPC special general meeting.

Following IPC shareholder approval at both the court-ordered IPC meeting and the IPC special general meeting, the satisfaction or, where relevant, waiver of the other conditions to the effectiveness of the Validus scheme of arrangement, and the granting of a court order from the Supreme Court of Bermuda sanctioning the Validus scheme of arrangement, a copy of the court order sanctioning the Validus scheme of arrangement will be delivered to the Bermuda Registrar of Companies, at which time the Validus scheme of arrangement will be effective. In a decision rendered on May 29, 2009, the Supreme Court of Bermuda dismissed Validus' application to convene a meeting of IPC shareholders to consider the Validus scheme of arrangement but determined that it has jurisdiction to sanction the Validus scheme of arrangement without approval of the IPC board of directors. However, the Court determined not to exercise its discretion to order the court-ordered IPC meeting in advance of the vote on the proposed Max amalgamation at the IPC annual general meeting and evidence of IPC shareholder support for the Validus scheme of arrangement and there can be no assurance that the Court will on a subsequent application by Validus exercise its discretion to convene such a meeting. The written requisitions may be presented by Validus to the Supreme Court of Bermuda as evidence of IPC shareholder support for the Validus scheme of arrangement.

We are soliciting written requisitions to compel the IPC board of directors to call the IPC special general meeting in connection with Validus' offer to acquire all IPC common shares for the Validus transaction consideration. Validus is simultaneously pursuing the three alternatives discussed above to consummate the acquisition. Validus will determine which method is most effective and efficient to consummate the acquisition. If the IPC board of directors cooperates with Validus and executes the Validus amalgamation agreement, the IPC special general meeting may be unnecessary and may not be held. While Validus continues to seek a consensual amalgamation transaction with IPC, we will continue to pursue the exchange offer and the Validus scheme of arrangement in order to complete the acquisition and will seek to replace the IPC board of directors if an agreement with the IPC board of directors is not reached in a timely fashion.

Based on Validus' and IPC's respective capitalizations as of March 31, 2009 and the exchange ratio of 1.1234, Validus estimates that former IPC shareholders would own approximately 41.3% of the issued and outstanding common shares of Validus on a fully-diluted basis following closing of the acquisition.

BACKGROUND OF THE ACQUISITION

On March 2, 2009, IPC and Max announced that they had entered into the Max amalgamation agreement. The joint proxy statement/prospectus included in the Registration Statement on Form S-4 filed by IPC with the SEC on March 27, 2009, as amended (the "IPC/Max S-4"), provides a summary of the events leading to Max and IPC entering into the Max amalgamation agreement.

In the morning on March 31, 2009, Edward J. Noonan, the Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Validus, placed a telephone call to James P. Bryce, the Chief Executive Officer and President of IPC. Mr. Noonan spoke with Mr. Bryce and explained that Validus intended to make an offer to exchange each outstanding IPC common share for 1.2037 Validus shares, subject to the termination of the Max amalgamation agreement.

Following this telephone call, in the morning of March 31, 2009, Validus delivered to IPC's board of directors in care of Mr. Bryce a proposal letter containing the initial Validus offer and Validus issued a press release announcing the initial Validus offer.

In connection with the delivery of the initial Validus offer to IPC, Validus delivered a signed amalgamation agreement that would be binding on Validus upon countersignature by IPC. Such agreement, and a description thereof, were filed with the SEC on March 31, 2009. For the full terms of that agreement we refer you to that filing.

In the afternoon on March 31, 2009, IPC issued a press release acknowledging receipt of the letter from Validus outlining the initial Validus offer and indicating that IPC's board of directors would review the terms of the initial Validus offer in a manner consistent with its obligations under the Max amalgamation agreement and applicable Bermuda law.

Also in the afternoon on March 31, 2009, Max issued a press release announcing that it had received from IPC a copy of the letter from Validus outlining the initial Validus offer.

In the morning on April 2, 2009, Max sent a letter to IPC's board of directors purporting to outline the relative advantages of the pending IPC/Max amalgamation as well as the business and financial issues raised by the initial Validus offer and issued a press release announcing the letter. The letter presented Max's analysis of the initial Validus offer asserting 12 purported advantages to the IPC/Max amalgamation and concluded that Validus had not presented a superior proposal or a proposal that could reasonably be expected to lead to a superior proposal pursuant to the Max amalgamation agreement. The text of the letter was filed by Max with the SEC.

In the afternoon on April 2, 2009, Validus sent a letter to IPC's board of directors addressing the claims made by Max in its letter to IPC's board of directors in the morning on April 2, 2009. The text of the letter was filed by Validus with the SEC.

In the afternoon on April 5, 2009, Validus sent a letter to IPC's board of directors regarding an error that Max had made in its calculation of pro forma tangible book value under the terms of the initial Validus offer. The text of the letter was filed by Validus with the SEC. In the afternoon on April 5, 2009, Validus also posted the material referenced in the letter on its website.

In the morning on April 6, 2009, Max issued a press release reaffirming its prior disclosure regarding the initial Validus offer and stating that it continues to believe that Validus had not presented a Superior Proposal, nor one that can be reasonably expected to lead to a Superior Proposal (as such term is defined in the [Max amalgamation agreement]) .

In the afternoon on April 6, 2009, Validus sent a letter to IPC's board of directors regarding the Max press release and issued a press release announcing the letter. The text of the letter was filed by Validus with the SEC.

In the afternoon on April 7, 2009, Kenneth L. Hammond, Chairman of IPC's board of directors, sent a letter to Mr. Noonan indicating that IPC's board of directors had reaffirmed its recommendation to combine with Max and issued a press release announcing the letter.

In the afternoon on April 8, 2009, Validus sent a letter to Mr. Hammond, the Chairman of IPC's board of directors, regarding the IPC press release and letter and issued a press release announcing the letter. The text of the letter was filed by Validus with the SEC.

Table of Contents

On April 9, 2009, Validus filed with the SEC a preliminary proxy statement which, in its definitive form, is being used to solicit votes from the IPC shareholders against the proposed Max amalgamation. The full text of the communications described above can be found in such proxy statement filed by Validus.

On April 13, 2009, IPC filed with the SEC an amendment to the IPC/Max S-4, which, among other things, added to the disclosure regarding the background to the proposed Max amalgamation including the reasons as to why Validus was excluded from the process that resulted in the proposed Max amalgamation. Such amendment also contained a correction to IPC's diluted book value for the year ended December 31, 2008.

On April 16, 2009, Validus filed with the SEC a preliminary proxy statement which, when filed in its definitive form, will be used to solicit votes from Validus shareholders to approve the issuance of Validus shares in connection with the acquisition. All of the Validus officers, directors and those shareholders which Validus refers to as its qualified sponsors, in each case who own Validus shares, have indicated that they intend to vote the Validus shares beneficially owned by them in favor of the issuance of Validus shares in connection with the acquisition. As of April 30, 2009, these persons and entities beneficially owned 42.4% of the voting interests relating to the Validus shares. The Validus shareholders which Validus refers to as its qualified sponsors are Aquiline Capital Partners, LLC and its related companies, Goldman Sachs Capital Partners, Vestar Capital Partners, New Mountain Capital, LLC and Merrill Lynch Global Private Equity.

On April 21, 2009, Validus filed with the SEC an amendment to its preliminary proxy statement with respect to soliciting votes from IPC shareholders against the proposed Max amalgamation.

On April 28, 2009, IPC filed with the SEC a second amendment to the IPC/Max S-4.

On April 28, 2009, Validus filed a claim in the Supreme Court of Bermuda against IPC, IPC Limited and Max (the Bermuda claim). The Bermuda claim challenges the validity of the possible payment of the $50 million termination fee contained in the Max amalgamation agreement (the Max termination fee) and provisions which restrict the ability of IPC to discuss competing proposals with third parties (the no-talk provisions) in the Max amalgamation agreement. Further, the Bermuda claim alleges that by entering into the Max amalgamation agreement containing the Max termination fee and no talk provisions and continuing to act in accordance with the terms of these provisions, the directors of IPC acted in breach of their fiduciary or other duties and not in accordance with the constitution of IPC.

On April 30, 2009, Validus issued a press release outlining its three-part plan to expedite its acquisition of IPC through the exchange offer or Validus scheme of arrangement under Bermuda law.

On April 30, 2009, IPC issued a press release reaffirming its belief that the initial Validus offer did not represent a superior proposal and that the IPC board of directors continued to recommend IPC shareholders vote in favor of the proposed Max amalgamation.

On May 1, 2009, Validus filed with the SEC an amendment to its preliminary proxy statement with respect to soliciting votes from IPC shareholders against the proposed Max amalgamation.

On May 1, 2009, Validus filed an application to expedite the trial of the Bermuda claim.

On May 4, 2009, IPC filed with the SEC a third amendment to the IPC/Max S-4.

On May 5, 2009, Validus filed an investor presentation titled Superior Proposal for IPC Shareholders with the SEC and on May 6, 2009, filed a revised investor presentation with the SEC.

Edgar Filing: IPC HOLDINGS LTD - Form PRRN14A

On May 6, 2009, Validus filed with the SEC an amendment to its preliminary proxy statement with respect to soliciting votes from IPC shareholders against the proposed Max amalgamation.

On May 7, 2009, IPC and Max filed a joint proxy statement/prospectus for the IPC/Max S-4 with the SEC and stated that they would mail the joint proxy statement/prospectus on or about May 7, 2009, to their respective shareholders of record as of the close of business on April 28, 2009.

On May 8, 2009, Validus filed with the SEC and commenced mailing definitive proxy materials and proxy cards to IPC shareholders seeking proxies from IPC shareholders to vote against the proposed Max amalgamation.

Table of Contents

On May 11-12, 2009, Validus' application to expedite the trial of the Bermuda claim was heard by the Supreme Court of Bermuda. Following the hearing, on May 13, 2009, the Supreme Court of Bermuda denied the application for expedition of the timetable for the proceedings. While this was not a hearing on the merits of Validus' claims, the Court acknowledged that Validus had raised serious questions to be tried.

On May 11, 2009, Validus filed with the SEC two amendments to its preliminary proxy statement with respect to soliciting votes from Validus shareholders to approve the issuance of Validus shares in connection with the acquisition.

On May 12, 2009, in addition to filing the preliminary copy of this solicitation statement, Validus filed two preliminary proxy statements with the SEC which, when filed in their definitive forms, will be used to, respectively, (i) solicit votes from IPC shareholders to approve the Validus scheme of arrangement at the court-ordered IPC meeting, and (ii) solicit votes to approve the Validus proposals at the IPC special general meeting.

On May 12, 2009, Validus commenced the exchange offer.

On May 14, 2009, IPC filed with the SEC a Solicitation/Recommendation Statement on Schedule 14D-9 in response to the exchange offer reporting that IPC's board of directors had met on May 13, 2009 and stating the IPC board of directors' recommendation that IPC shareholders reject the exchange offer and not tender their IPC common shares to Validus pursuant to the exchange offer.

On May 14, 2009, Validus amended its Registration Statement on Form S-4 and the underlying prospectus/offer to exchange.

Also on May 18, 2009, Validus filed an investor presentation titled "Improved Superior Proposal for IPC Shareholders" with the SEC.

On May 19, 2009, IPC filed with the SEC an amendment to its Solicitation/Recommendation Statement on Schedule 14D-9.

On May 20, 2009, Validus filed a revised version of its investor presentation titled "Improved Superior Proposal for IPC Shareholders" with the SEC.

On May 21, 2009, IPC filed with the SEC an amendment to its Solicitation/Recommendation Statement on Schedule 14D-9 reporting that IPC's board of directors had met on May 20, 2009 and stating the IPC board of directors recommendation that IPC shareholders reject the revised terms of the exchange offer and not tender their IPC common shares to Validus pursuant to the exchange offer.

Also on May 21, 2009, Validus amended its Registration Statement on Form S-4 and the underlying prospectus/offer to exchange.

On May 26, 2009, Validus filed the definitive proxy statement with the SEC seeking proxies from Validus shareholders to approve the issuance of Validus shares in connection with the acquisition. Table of Contents

Also on May 26, 2009, Validus filed with the SEC an amendment to its preliminary proxy statement with respect to soliciting votes from IPC shareholders to approve the Validus scheme of arrangement at the court-ordered IPC meeting.

On May 29, 2009, the Supreme Court of Bermuda issued its decision on Validus' application filed on May 14, 2009 to convene the court-ordered IPC meeting to approve the Validus scheme of arrangement. In the decision, the Court rejected IPC's primary contention that the Court lacked jurisdiction to sanction the Validus scheme of arrangement without approval of IPC's board of directors, and found that the Validus scheme of arrangement could be approved on behalf of IPC by its shareholders acting at the IPC special general meeting. The Court, however, determined not to exercise its discretion to order the court-ordered IPC meeting (at which the IPC shareholders may consider and vote on approval of the Validus scheme of arrangement) in advance of the vote on the proposed Max amalgamation and evidence of IPC shareholder support for the Validus scheme of arrangement and dismissed Validus' application. Based on this decision, and the fact that the IPC shareholders rejected the proposed Max amalgamation at IPC's annual general meeting on June 12, 2009, Validus will pursue the Validus scheme of arrangement by presenting evidence of IPC shareholder support to the Court. However, there can be no assurance that the Court will exercise its discretion to convene such a meeting on a subsequent application by Validus to the Court.

On June 1, 2009, Validus amended its Registration Statement on Form S-4 and the underlying prospectus/offer to exchange.

Also on June 1, 2009, Glass Lewis & Co. and Proxy Governance Inc. announced their recommendations that the IPC shareholders vote for the proposed Max amalgamation.

On June 2, 2009, RiskMetrics Group announced that, after conducting a comprehensive review of both the Validus amalgamation offer and the proposed Max amalgamation, it recommended that the IPC shareholders vote against the proposed Max amalgamation, and noted in its report that its analysis suggested that the terms of the proposed Max amalgamation as of such date, at least in terms of current valuation, did not maximize shareholder value.

On June 4, 2009, Validus filed with the SEC an amendment to its preliminary proxy statement with respect to soliciting votes from IPC shareholders to approve the Validus scheme of arrangement at the court-ordered IPC meeting.

On June 5, 2009, IPC reported in its Current Report on Form 8-K filed on June 5, 2009 that IPC, IPC Limited and Max entered into a waiver letter to the Max amalgamation agreement pursuant to which IPC has declared two special one time cash dividends for a total of $2.50 per IPC common share conditional on the occurrence of the effective time of the Max amalgamation agreement and subject to applicable law.

On June 8, 2009, Validus delivered an offer letter to IPC advising IPC of the increased economic terms of the Validus amalgamation offer and containing an amendment to the Validus amalgamation agreement.

Also on June 8, 2009, Validus filed an investor presentation titled "Analysis of June 4, 2009 Waiver to Max / IPC Amalgamation Agreement" with the SEC.

On June 9, 2009, IPC filed with the SEC an amendment to its Solicitation/Recommendation Statement on Schedule 14D-9 reporting that IPC's board of directors had met on June 9, 2009 and stating the IPC board of directors recommendation that IPC shareholders reject the revised terms of the exchange offer and not tender their IPC common shares to Validus pursuant to the exchange offer.

Also on June 10, 2009 Glass Lewis & Co. stated that its original recommendation that IPC shareholders vote for the proposed Max amalgamation remained unchanged.

On June 12, 2009, IPC did not obtain the requisite vote to approve the proposed Max amalgamation at its annual general shareholder meeting. Approximately 72% of the votes cast at the IPC annual general meeting voted against the proposed Max amalgamation. Also on June 12, 2009, Max announced that it had terminated the Max amalgamation agreement.

In addition, on June 12, 2009, Validus amended its Registration Statement on Form S-4 and the underlying prospectus/offer to exchange and commenced mailing of its amendment to its prospectus/offer to exchange.

Further, on June 12, 2009, Validus filed a supplement to its definitive proxy statement with the SEC seeking proxies from Validus shareholders to approve the issuance of Validus shares in connection with the acquisition.

On June 14, 2009, IPC and Validus entered into a mutual confidentiality agreement.

On June 15, 2009, the Chairman of IPC's board of directors sent a letter to Validus outlining IPC's views regarding a possible negotiated transaction with Validus. IPC also included the letter in a press release.

Also on June 15, 2009, Validus issued a press release stating that Validus would seek to replace the IPC board of directors if Validus is unable to reach a negotiated agreement with the IPC board of directors in a timely fashion. Validus also announced in the press release that it would continue to pursue the exchange offer and the Validus scheme of arrangement even as Validus seeks to reach a consensual agreement with IPC's board of directors.

REASONS TO REQUISITION THE IPC SPECIAL GENERAL MEETING

We are soliciting written requisitions to compel the IPC board of directors to call the IPC special general meeting in connection with Validus' offer to acquire all IPC common shares for the Validus transaction consideration. Validus is simultaneously pursuing three alternatives to consummate the acquisition: the Validus amalgamation offer; the exchange offer; and the Validus scheme of arrangement. Validus will determine which method is most effective and efficient to consummate the acquisition. Depending on how the acquisition is accomplished, IPC shareholders may be asked to consider at the IPC special general meeting one or more of the Validus proposals. If the IPC board of directors cooperates with Validus and executes the Validus amalgamation agreement, the IPC special general meeting may be unnecessary and may not be held. While Validus continues to seek a consensual amalgamation transaction with IPC, we will continue to pursue the exchange offer and the Validus scheme of arrangement in order to complete the acquisition and will seek to replace the IPC board of directors if an agreement with the IPC board of directors is not reached in a timely fashion.

To requisition that the IPC board of directors call the IPC special general meeting, please follow the instructions for delivering the enclosed GREEN requisition card described below.

PROPOSALS TO BE PRESENTED AT THE IPC SPECIAL GENERAL MEETING

If we are successful in soliciting written requisitions from the requisite IPC shareholders and the IPC special general meeting is held, we expect to present one or more of the following proposals for consideration and approval by IPC shareholders at the IPC special general meeting:

Director Removal Proposal:

a proposal to remove all of the IPC directors from their positions as directors of IPC and fill the vacancies created by the removal of such directors with the appointment of Raymond C. Groth, Paul G. Haggis and Thomas C. Wajnert.

Proposal Eliminating Certain IPC Bye-laws Regarding Transfer of Shares and Limiting Voting Rights of Controlled Shares:

a proposal to amend the Bye-laws to delete Bye-law 52 (limitation on voting rights of Controlled Shares) and Bye-law 63(2) (restriction on transfer) and all references in the Bye-laws thereto, and to replace such provisions with the words "Intentionally Left Blank." Set forth below is a summary of each of the Bye-law provisions proposed to be deleted.

Bye-law 52: Bye-law 52 provides that if the number of Controlled Shares (as defined below and in the Bye-laws) of any shareholder or group of related shareholders would constitute 10% or more of the combined voting power of the issued and outstanding IPC common shares, the voting power of this shareholder or group of related shareholders will be reduced so that the voting power to be exercised is not 10% or more of the total voting rights attached to the issued and outstanding IPC common shares.

A "Controlled Share" of any person refers to all IPC common shares owned by such person, whether: (i) directly; (ii) for a U.S. person, by application of the rules of Section 958(a) and 958(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended; or (iii) beneficially, directly or indirectly, within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act") and the rules and regulations thereunder, other than excluded Controlled Shares.

Bye-law 63(2): Bye-law 63(2) provides that the IPC directors shall decline to register a transfer of IPC common shares if the IPC directors have reason to believe that the effect of such transfer would be to increase the number of total Controlled Shares of any person to 10% or any higher percentage of the IPC common shares.

Proposal to Approve the Validus Scheme of Arrangement:

a proposal for IPC to approve and to be bound by the Validus scheme of arrangement.

Proposal Amending Bye-laws to Specify Treatment of IPC Equity Awards Under the Validus Scheme of Arrangement:

a proposal to amend the Bye-laws to specify, among related matters, that if any IPC common shares are issued or transferred after the effective time of the Validus scheme of arrangement pursuant to any option, right or award granted under any benefit, option or equity-based award plan of IPC, the holders of such IPC common shares shall transfer any such IPC common shares to Validus in exchange for the consideration the holders of such IPC common shares would have received had such IPC common shares been outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the Validus scheme of arrangement.

The proxy statement relating to the IPC special general meeting will contain more detailed information concerning the Validus proposals to be voted upon at the IPC special general meeting, which will depend on various factors, including the status of the three acquisition structures and the level of cooperation from IPC's board of directors.

Validus expects to request, in any future proxy solicitation relating to the IPC special general meeting, authority to initiate and vote for a proposal to adjourn the IPC special general meeting for any reason. Validus does not currently anticipate additional proposals on any substantive matters other than the Validus proposals described above. Nevertheless, Validus reserves the right to either modify the Validus proposals or cause additional proposals to be identified in the notice of, and in the proxy materials for, the IPC special general meeting. However, should other proposals be brought before the IPC special general meeting, Validus will vote its proxies on such matters in its discretion.

REQUISITIONING THE IPC SPECIAL GENERAL MEETING

We are furnishing this solicitation statement and a GREEN requisition card to the holders of outstanding IPC common shares to solicit written requisitions to compel the board of directors of IPC to call the IPC special general meeting. The procedures for calling a special general meeting of IPC are governed by the Bye-laws and the Companies Act, which provide that a special general meeting of IPC shall be held if IPC shareholders holding at least 10% of the issued and outstanding IPC common shares have deposited at IPC's registered office a signed requisition for the meeting, stating the purpose or purposes for which the special general meeting is to be held. Such requisition may consist of several documents in like form each signed by one or more requisitionists.

Based on IPC's Solicitation/Recommendation Statement on Schedule 14D-9 filed with the SEC on June 5, 2009, as of May 20, 2009, there were 55,948,821 IPC common shares outstanding. Accordingly, assuming no changes to such number, holders of approximately 5,594,822 IPC common shares must execute and deliver written requisitions to us for deposit at IPC's registered office in order to compel the board of directors of IPC to call the IPC special general meeting.

If we obtain sufficient executed written requisitions for the IPC special general meeting, we intend to compel the board of directors of IPC to call the IPC special general meeting to consider and vote upon the Validus proposals, and we will file with the SEC, and provide to IPC shareholders, a definitive proxy statement and a proxy card relating to the matters to be considered at the IPC special general meeting.

Under the Companies Act, if, following the receipt of validly executed written requisitions from the requisite IPC shareholders, the board of directors of IPC fails to proceed duly within 21 days from the date of the deposit of the requisitions to convene a special general meeting, the requisitionists, or any of them representing more than one half of the total voting rights of all of them, may themselves convene a special general meeting, but any such meeting so convened shall not be held after the expiration of three months from the said date.

Under the Bye-laws, IPC must deliver written notice to its shareholders of the IPC special general meeting at least ten days prior to the meeting and notice is deemed served ten days after the date on which it is deposited in the mail in the European Union, Bermuda, or United States. For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at the IPC special general meeting, the IPC board of directors may fix the record date if the IPC board of directors proceeds duly within 21 days from the date of the deposit of the requisitions to convene the IPC special general meeting. If the IPC board of directors fails to proceed duly within 21 days from the date of the deposit of the requisitions to convene the IPC special general meeting, the requisitionists, or any of them representing more than one half of the total voting rights of all of them, may themselves fix the record date for such meeting.

If the IPC special general meeting is called, IPC shareholders will be furnished with notice of the IPC special general meeting and definitive proxy materials regarding the Validus proposals to be considered at the IPC special general meeting. These proxy materials will contain more detailed information concerning the Validus proposals to be voted upon at the IPC special general meeting. Such proxy materials, when filed, will also be available to the public without charge on the SEC's website (<http://www.sec.gov>) or from Validus, by directing a request to Georgeson Inc., 199 Water Street, 26th Floor, New York, New York 10038, at (212) 440-9800 for banks and brokers or toll free at (888) 274-5119 or by email at validusIPC@georgeson.com.

REQUISITION PROCEDURES

Pursuant to this solicitation statement, we are soliciting written requisitions from shareholders to compel the IPC board of directors to call the IPC special general meeting. By executing a requisition, a shareholder is requisitioning the board of directors of IPC to call the IPC special general meeting. Please note that a written requisition to call the IPC special general meeting does not grant Validus the power to vote your IPC common shares at the IPC special general meeting and does not commit you to cast any vote in favor or against any proposal to be brought at the IPC special general meeting. The written requisition does, however, give Validus the power and authority to convene the IPC special general meeting, assuming written requisitions are executed by the requisite IPC shareholders and deposited by Validus with IPC, if the board of directors of IPC fails to proceed duly within 21 days from the date of the deposit of the requisitions with IPC to convene the IPC special general meeting. In such case, the IPC special general meeting must be held within three months after the date that is 21 days from the date the requisitions are deposited by Validus with IPC. To vote on the matters to be brought at the IPC special general meeting you must vote by proxy or in person at the IPC special general meeting.

Procedures for submitting requisitions are as follows and will depend on how your IPC common shares are held:

1. If you own shares of record, meaning that your IPC common shares are represented by certificates or book entries in your name so that you appear as a record shareholder in the transfer books maintained by the IPC common share transfer agent, please complete, sign, date and return the enclosed GREEN requisition card to Validus Holdings, Ltd., care of Georgeson, in the postage-paid envelope enclosed.
2. If you own IPC common shares through a bank, broker or other nominee (in street name), only your bank, broker or other nominee can submit a written requisition in respect of your IPC common shares and only upon receipt of your specific instructions. If your IPC common shares are held in street name, deliver the enclosed GREEN requisition card to your bank, broker or other nominee or contact the person responsible for your account to ensure that a GREEN requisition card is submitted on your behalf. We urge you to confirm in writing your instructions to the person responsible for your account and to provide a copy of those instructions to Validus Holdings, Ltd., care of Georgeson Inc., 199 Water Street, 26th Floor, New York, New York 10038, at (212) 440-9800 for banks and brokers or toll free at (888) 274-5119, fax number (212) 440-9009, so that Validus will be aware of all instructions given and can attempt to ensure that such instructions are followed.

Once we receive executed GREEN requisition cards from the requisite IPC shareholders, we intend to deposit the requisitions with IPC to compel the board of directors of IPC to send within 21 days of such time notice of the IPC special general meeting. We will issue a press release promptly upon making such deposit. We urge you to return your executed GREEN requisition card as promptly as practicable, to enable us to timely requisition the board of directors of IPC.

The written requisitions may be presented by Validus to the Supreme Court of Bermuda as evidence of IPC shareholder support for the Validus scheme of arrangement.

You may revoke your requisition to compel the IPC board of directors to call the IPC special general meeting at any time prior to our deposit of the requisitions to IPC, by submitting a written notice of revocation to either (a) Validus Holdings, Ltd., care of Georgeson Inc., 199 Water Street, 26th floor, New York, New York 10038, or (b) the principal executive offices of IPC (Attention: General Counsel) at American International Building, 29

Richmond Road, Pembroke HM08, Bermuda. A revocation may be in any written form validly signed by the record holder as long as it clearly states that the requisition previously given is no longer effective. Shareholders who hold their IPC common shares in street name will need to notify their bank, broker or other nominee to revoke or withdraw previously given instructions. We request that a copy of any revocation sent to IPC or any revocation notification sent to a bank, broker, or other nominee also be sent to Validus Holdings, Ltd., care of Georgeson, at the address above. Unless revoked in the manner set forth above, subject to the foregoing, duly executed requisitions in the form enclosed may be submitted by Validus to IPC. Upon receipt of requisitions from the requisite IPC shareholders in favor of compelling the IPC board of directors to call the IPC special general meeting, we intend to deposit the requisitions with IPC.

If you have any questions about executing or delivering your GREEN requisition card or require assistance, please contact:

By executing and returning the GREEN requisition card, you are not committing to cast any vote in favor or against, nor are you granting us any proxy to vote on, any proposal to be brought before the IPC special general meeting.

This solicitation is being made by Validus, and not on behalf of IPC's board of directors. At this time, we are not seeking your proxy, consent or authorization for approval of the Validus proposals. We are only soliciting your written requisition to compel the IPC board of directors to call the IPC special general meeting. After the IPC special general meeting has been called, we will furnish you proxy materials regarding the Validus proposals to be considered at the IPC special general meeting. Your written requisition is important, no matter how many or how few shares you own. We urge you to complete, sign, date and return the enclosed GREEN requisition card to call the IPC special general meeting.

Since December 31, 2008, there shall not have been any change, state of facts, circumstance or event that has had, or would reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the financial condition, properties, assets, liabilities, obligations (whether accrued, absolute, contingent or otherwise), businesses or results of operations of IPC and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, excluding any such change, state of facts, circumstance or event to the extent caused by or resulting from: (i) changes in economic, market, business, regulatory or political conditions generally in the United States or in Bermuda or any other jurisdiction in which such party operates or in Bermudan, United States or global financial markets; (ii) changes, circumstances or events generally affecting the property and casualty insurance and reinsurance industry in the geographic areas in which such party operates; (iii) changes, circumstances or events resulting in liabilities under property catastrophe reinsurance, including any effects resulting from any earthquake, hurricane, tornado, windstorm, terrorist act, act of war or other natural or man-made disaster; (iv) changes in any applicable law, statute, ordinance, common law, arbitration award, or any rule, regulation, judgment, order, writ, injunction, decree, agency requirement or published interpretation of any governmental authority, including all relevant bye-laws and regulations of the Council and Society of Lloyd's incorporated under the Lloyd's Act of 1871 to 1982 of England and Wales in each of the jurisdictions in which IPC or its subsidiaries currently conduct business or operate (specified laws); (v) changes in generally accepted accounting principles or in statutory accounting principles (or local equivalents in the applicable jurisdiction) prescribed by the applicable insurance regulatory authority, including accounting and financial reporting pronouncements by the Bermuda Monetary Authority, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and the Financial Accounting Standards Board; (vi) any change or announcement of a potential change in IPC's or any of its subsidiaries' credit or claims paying rating or A.M. In addition, a material adverse effect shall be deemed to have occurred if IPC's book value shall have (A) declined by more than 50% from December 31, 2008 to the commencement of the Court Hearing or (B) declined from December 31, 2008 to the commencement of the Court Hearing by more than 20% greater than the percentage decline of Validus' book value during the same period, provided, that for purposes of measuring the 20% differential book value decline, if Validus has experienced an increase in book value from December 31, 2008 to the commencement of the Court Hearing, Validus shall be deemed to have experienced no change in its book value. (b) IPC or any of its subsidiaries has (1) permitted the issuance or sale of any shares of any class of share capital or other securities of any subsidiary of IPC (other than IPC Shares issued pursuant to, and in accordance with, the terms in effect on the date of the Scheme Proxy Statement of employee stock options, stock units or other similar awards outstanding prior to the date of the Scheme Proxy Statement), (2) declared, paid or proposed to declare or pay any dividend or other distribution on any share capital of IPC (other than (A) any quarterly cash dividends paid in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice to holders of IPC Shares and (B) a one-time dividend to the holders of IPC Shares in an aggregate amount not to exceed any reduction in the Max Termination Fee), including by adoption of a shareholders rights plan (or similar plan) which has not otherwise been terminated or rendered inapplicable to this Scheme prior to the commencement of the Court Hearing, or (3) amended, or authorized or proposed any amendment to, its articles of incorporation or bye-laws (or other similar constituent documents) or Validus becomes aware that IPC or any of its subsidiaries shall have amended, or authorized or proposed any amendment to, its articles of incorporation or bye-laws (or other similar constituent documents) in a manner that, in the reasonable judgment of Validus, is reasonably likely to, directly or indirectly, (A) delay or otherwise restrain, impede or prohibit this Scheme or (B) prohibit or limit the full rights of ownership of IPC Shares by Validus or any of its affiliates, including, without limitation, the right to vote any IPC Shares acquired by Validus pursuant to this Scheme or otherwise on all matters properly presented to IPC shareholders; which in the reasonable judgment of Validus in any such case, and regardless of the circumstances giving rise to any such condition (other than any event or circumstance giving rise to the triggering of a condition within the direct or indirect control of Validus), makes it inadvisable to proceed with this Scheme.

The foregoing Conditions are for the sole benefit of Validus and may be asserted by Validus regardless of the circumstances giving rise to the right to assert any such Condition (other than any event or circumstance giving rise to the triggering of a condition within the direct or indirect control of Validus) or, other than the Conditions numbered 1 to 4 (inclusive) above, the Registration Condition, the Shareholder Approval Condition and the NYSE Listing Condition (collectively the Unwaivable Conditions), may be waived by Validus in whole or in part at any time and from time to time prior to the commencement of the Court Hearing in its discretion. Validus expressly reserves the right to waive any of the Conditions, other than the Unwaivable Conditions, and to make any change in the terms of or conditions to this Scheme. The failure by Validus at any time to exercise any of the foregoing rights shall not be deemed a waiver of any such right; the waiver of any such right with respect to particular facts and other circumstances shall not be deemed a waiver with respect to any other facts and circumstances; and each such right shall be deemed an ongoing right that may be asserted at any time and from time to time until the commencement of the Court Hearing or the earlier lapse, termination or withdrawal of this Scheme.

This Scheme will not proceed unless all the above Conditions are satisfied or, where relevant, waived or, where appropriate, determined by Validus to have been satisfied or to remain satisfied prior to the commencement of the Court Hearing. Validus shall be under no obligation to waive or treat as satisfied any of the Conditions set forth following Condition 4 above (the Non-Procedural Conditions) by a date earlier than 30 November 2009, or such later date, if any, as Validus may determine and the Court may allow, notwithstanding that the Non-Procedural Conditions may at such earlier date have been waived or satisfied and that there are at such earlier date no circumstances indicating that any of such Non-Procedural Conditions may not be capable of being satisfied.

Any determination by Validus concerning any Condition or event described in this Scheme (including this Schedule A) shall be final and binding on all parties to the fullest extent permitted by law.
