Item 5. Other Events

1. Sale of Businesses within Enterprises Segment.

On June 29, 2004, Exelon Corporation (Exelon) announced that it closed the sale of Exelon Solutions, a unit of Exelon Services, to Ameresco, Inc. The news release is attached to this Form 8-K as Exhibit 99.

On June 30, 2004, Exelon announced that it had sold its partnership interests in PECO TelCove to TelCove, its partner, for $49 million. The sale price covers Exelon's interests in the partnership, certain fiber network assets and the settlement of existing claims between the parties. PECO TelCove is a Competitive Local Exchange Carrier operating in Southeastern Pennsylvania. It provides telecommunications services (local, long distance and data services) to businesses and institutions through its own fiber network.

On July 2, 2004, Exelon announced that it had closed the sale of Thermal Chicago Corporation, which includes Exelon Thermal Technologies and Northwind Midway, to Macquarie Bank Limited of Australia for $134 million. Exelon Thermal Technologies provides chilled-water cooling services to 93 commercial buildings in the city of Chicago, via an underground network of pipes. Its affiliate, Northwind Midway, operates a heating and cooling plant at Midway Airport.

2. Synthetic Fuel Investment.

On July 1, 2004, Exelon purchased a limited partnership interest which owns synthetic fuel-producing facilities. Synthetic fuel facilities chemically change coal, including waste and marginal coal, into a fuel used at power plants that qualifies for tax credits under Section 29 of the Internal Revenue Code. For the period 2004 through 2008, the investment is expected to provide total net cash flow of approximately $36 million. The cash flow stream is not levelized over that four-year period. The expected net income impact from the investment in 2004 is expected to be $4.5 million. For the period 2005 through 2007, the net income impact is estimated to be $10.5 million each year.
